Scouters Pick Snowy Campsite

By MRS. PAUL STRAHAN

The scoutmaster of Canyonville Troop 125, James Fuller, and his family, Assistant Scoutmaster and Mrs. Keith McGinnis, and Paul Strahan, explorer, advisor, and his son, Bob, traveled to Union Creek March 7 to choose a site to hold a winter snow camp for the weekend of March 19. It was agreed to camp above Union Creek at or near the ski track where there is about three feet of snow and the sports of skiing and tobogganing can be enjoyed.

Hold Honor Court
Canyonville Scout Troop 125 held a court of honor Wednesday with parents, friends and representatives of the Lions Club and the Odd Fellows attending. A charter was presented to the VFW, sponsors of the troop, and it was received by Orville Stone. Awards were made to Laurel Giesler, Paul Thompson and Donald Summers, in the tenderfoot group, and to Philip Stevens, Marlin Theiss, Paul Parret, David Pitts and Ralph Grunsts in the second class.

Merit badges for swimming were awarded Leon Oaks and Alan Russel and first aid to Larry Fuller, George Updegraff, District O & E representative, presented the charter and gave a talk on cub scouting. The scouts played a lively game of kickball to conclude the evening's program.
