Court Names Three Men To Mark Gateway Road
The county court has appointed three men to carry out the work of establishing a gateway road for Mr. and Mrs. Bert Halstead, county clerk's records show.

A court order authorizes County Surveyor Ben Irving, W. Frank Brown of Roseburg and T. H. Doerner of Medford to locate and establish a road, 10 to 30 feet wide, across property owned by Stanley J. Long.

The three men will meet with the Halsteads on April 12 to work out a plan for the road, which will give the Halstead residence access to a county road. The three will then report back to the court on plans established and damages assessed.

Euzkadi Concert Features Basque Native Pageantry

The stirring and colorful pageantry of the Basques will be brought to Roseburg in concert, scheduled for Tuesday March 30, at 8:15 p.m.

Euzkadi, festival company of Basque dancers and singers, a presentation of the Community Concert Association, will be sponsored here by the Roseburg Community Concert association.

Since their first appearance in America in 1951, the players have met with high acclaim wherever they have played. Since the Basques are an unusual people, the Euzkadi company brought something new across the Atlantic.

What makes Euzkadi different from all other concert attractions can best be explained as a unique combination of factors, advance reports state. First, there is the impact of Basque singing and dance, bouncing with vitality, novel to American audiences.

Then there is the ingenious and refreshing format of the program itself, a continuous flow of action in which music and dance are interwoven with a narrative to re-create the village and mountain life of the Basques, next is the interplay between group and soloists which permits changes of
