More Than 200 Attend Interesting Meeting Of Fullerton Parent-Teachers Association Monday

The last of a series of programs designed to enrich family life and living was presented Monday evening by Fullerton PTA before a crowd of over 200 interested parents.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Arthur Lamka, after which the "Merry Eleven" Blue Bird group gave the Blue Bird wish and sang a song. Inspirational for the evening was presented urging all to attend the church of their choice as a family unit during the Easter season.

Business of the evening included voting on the project of the year to benefit the boys and girls of the school. Two choices were made by the association: one to purchase a record library for the school; the other to furnish each school room with additional equipment for children to use when indoors.

New officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. Arthur Lamka, president; Mrs. Prusia, first vice president; Mrs. Vance Shugart, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Beardsley, secretary; and Mrs. R. G. Brady, treasurer. Those elected to attend the State PTA Convention in Salem April 21 to 23 were Mrs. Lamka and Lyle Eddy, principal; and Daniel Dimick, institutional representative, was introduced.

Special recognition was given the Camp Fire and Blue Bird leaders during the evening commending them for their good work with youth. There are 17 groups organized in the school on which the PTA sponsors five.

Displays showing the handwork of the girls were of much interest to all, especially a group of foreign dressed dolls made from pieces of broom handles shown by Mrs. Ted Prusia's group. During the social hour Camp Fire girls furnished cookies which they had made and helped serve refreshments to earn points for their achievements. Assisting were their leaders: Mrs. Joe Barnes, Mrs. R. H. Darby, Mrs. Ted Prusia and Mrs. A. A. St. Onge. Theme for the evening was "The Value of Music in the Home," presented by the guest speaker, Mr. Clarence Trued, well known in Roseburg musical circles. Several numbers were presented by the Roseburg Choral group under the direction of Bob Robins.

One special display of the evening was an Easter table, and another was craftwork furnished from Fullerton workshops showing articles made by parents during the year. Of most interest to those present were the original flower arrangements, centerpieces and miniature scenes made at home by boys and girls of the school and brought to be displayed at the meeting by their parents. The one request made of the children was that they were not to purchase any material to use in their displays, but were to use flowers and greens found in their garden, yard or in the woods. Of the 68 floral arrangements shown, each was different and original.

Programs for this year at Fullerton have centered about the theme, "A Good Home Is Our Best School," and emphasis has been placed on the family working and enjoying things together. Workshops have been featured during the year where interested parents could learn a craft or an art to enable them to teach it to their children, thus creating a family hobby to be shared in the home. Potluck dinners have been held separately for each grade at which time the entire family have enjoyed an evening at school, and parents and teachers have become better acquainted.

Displays have been featured at each meeting in keeping with the theme of the evening, much to the enjoyment and instruction of those present.

Meetings were designed to be informal and short, beginning at 7:30 P.M. and adjourning to the social hour at 9:00 P.M., a fact which helped keep attendance high throughout the year. Average attendance for the meetings held so far this year has been 150 present. High attendance at meetings and enthusiasm shown for projects and programs presented have helped make a good year at Fullerton. Next meeting will be installation of officers on May 3rd.
