

Kellner Gives Up One Hit; Cardinals Bounced Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
What did the National League sluggers learn in spring training friends apparently overlooked?

This was becoming a vital question today after the second straight one-hitter in the junior circuit while the National League was going its slug-happy way with another 26-hit donnybrook.

Lefty Alex Kellner of the Philadelphia Athletics tamed the Washington Senators on one safety—Wayne Terwilliger's lonesome single into center field with two out in the eighth inning as the A's won 7-0.

On Monday Jim McDonald of the New York Yankees, a right-hander, subdued Boston with the exception of a single by Harry Agganis.

Card Defense Lacks
A big share of the National League fireworks has involved the St. Louis Cardinals. The Redbirds absorbed a 13-6 shellacking at the hands of the Cincinnati Redlegs last night and now have been battered for 69 runs in six games. The battering hasn't been all one-sided. The Cardinals have averaged almost seven runs for each of the same half dozen contests. For years the National League has been the pitchers' league. Castoffs from American League mound staffs have gone on to big seasons in the National while the American has concentrated on hitting stars.

But this season the hits are coming off National League bats. Bums, Detroit Loss
The two contrasting contests yesterday were part of a curtailed five-game schedule. Philadelphia whipped Brooklyn 6-3 and New York defeated Pittsburgh 6-2 in the National League and Chicago beat Detroit 7-2 in the American. Milwaukee and Chicago in the National were rained out.

Kellner was breezing along toward the first no-hitter in Griffith Stadium since 1931 when Terwilliger, a .235 hitter, rapped one back through the middle.

"I didn't feel too bad," Kellner said. "You figure a feller is lucky to pitch a no-hitter."

Kellner walked three and struck out six. He had retired 15 men in a row before Terwilliger broke the string.

Trucks Stops Bengals
Fireballing Virgil Trucks picked up his first 1954 victory for the White Sox as he checked Detroit on six hits.

The Cardinals used five pitchers against the heavy-hitting Redlegs and none of them toiled with any success. Memo Luna, a $75,000 winter purchase, lasted only two thirds of an inning in his first starting role and was charged with the loss.

Venerable Preacher Roe made his first appearance of the season for the Dodgers but the Phillies were ready for him and sent him to the showers in less than five innings. The deciding blast was a mighty home run by Del Ennis with a man aboard.

The Giants picked on Pittsburgh rookie Nelson King for three runs in the eighth inning to give them a comfortable margin after building a 3-2 edge against Paul LaPalme, who left for a pinch hitter.

Central Oregon Reports First 1954 Forest Fire
PRINEVILLE (AP)—Central Oregon has had its first 1954 forest fire.

The blaze, apparently starting from a warming fire left by timber cutters 20 miles east of here, headed toward tree farm land of Ochoco Lumber Co. Monday. State crews got it out quickly, though, before it got into merchantable trees. About three acres, chiefly brush but with some young ponderosa pine, were burned.

Melton Crawford, state district warden, said the woods already are "pretty dry" after seven weeks of drier than usual spring weather.

Hot Pace Set By Kegler Cools In Last Of Series

SEATTLE (AP)—Good starts don't always mean good finishes and Fred Annala of Butte, Mont., ran afoul of that fact Tuesday night as he rolled his first series in the American Bowling Congress.

Annala, who bowls for the Mutual of Omaha team of Butte, hit nine straight strikes in his first game to wind up with a total of 366. He fell only slightly off that hot pace in his second game, rolling a 222.

But his third game total was a lowly 135 as he ran into five splits and committed one error. His total pin collection for the night was 623—not enough to put him among the leaders.

There were, in fact, no changes in any of the top ten standings in the ABC Tuesday.

CONGRESSMEN READY
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — With two days of spring "training" behind the congressional baseball teams play an exhibition game here tonight.
