Suds Manager Gets $100 Fine

SEATTLE (AP) — Pacific Coast League president Clarence Rowland Tuesday slapped a $100 fine on Seattle manager Jerry Priddy for his part in a fist fight during a game with San Diego last Saturday.

Priddy promptly protested the fine, and Rowland's threat of suspension if the fine is not paid, declaring "it's obvious his umpires are not only blind—they can't hear either."

Priddy drew the fine for a fight with San Diego catcher Red Mathis. Mathis' right arm was broken in the melee which started when the catcher tossed his bat at Seattle pitcher Van Fletcher after he had been struck by a pitched ball. Doctors said Mathis will miss the rest of the season because of the injury and may have to give up baseball.

Priddy protested because he was the only one penalized and argued Rowland must have received a false report of the altercation from the umpires.

General manager Dewey Soriano sided with Priddy, terming it "a lousy decision," but indicated the fine will be paid.

Soriano said the umpires, Priddy and Mathis were equally to blame. The umpires, he said, "were slow to kick Mathis out for throwing his bat, which gave Priddy time to step in and stick up for his pitcher."

Charity Matches Set By Wrestlers

Wrestling programs are on schedule for both Thursday and Saturday nights at the Roseburg Armory this week.

In addition to Saturday night's regular program, a Thursday night two-match program will be donated by four popular wrestling favorites with gate receipts to go to the Camp Easter Seal Fund for Oregon crippled children.

Two one hour or best of three fall matches comprise the double main event with Luther Lindsey and Pepper Gomez tangling in the one match and Killer Kameroff and Juan Hernandez meeting in the other.

Matchmaker Elton Owen informs fans that this may be the last time for the local fans to see the great Lindsey before he goes south for a few matches and then to his home for the summer.

Kameroff will be favored to take Hernandez into camp after having disposed of Karl Gray in a tough match last week. Wimpy Howland of Canyonville will donate his services as referee for the benefit match.

All proceeds except for the wrestlers' traveling expenses for the matches will go directly to the crippled children's fund.
