'The Magnificent Rift' Story Of Prospector

The whole mountain-side had slid down and brought ruin and chaos to the bench on which the cabin was sitting. He looked back into the cabin. The fire was rapidly spreading across the side and up the tipped floor. The red head was lying still and pale on the far side. He closed the door and said: "Well, that takes care of that."

Five days later the early risers of Whitehorse looking out the frost-rimmed windows saw a black blob slowly moving through the deep snow of their street and they rushed to investigate.

Three days later, the short, dark-haired one was sitting in the hospital room. His frost-bitten hands and feet were wrapped in bandages. The skin was peeled from his nose and ears. He was watching the bed.

Slowly, the figure in the bed moved and opened his eyes.

"Well, it's about time you're wakin' up from your heavy sleep, Red. Time's a wastin' and we got a lot of work ahead of us this summer."

The red-head grinned.

Old-timers in Dawson are still telling the story of the two prospectors, who hit real pay-dirt, and how the smaller of the two packed the other for 70 miles to the hospital.

EXPENSIVE ACREAGE—T. H. Tanner, left, of Kalamazoo, Mich., hands $4 to T. H. Ellis, and receives the deed for a foot-square "ranch" in Hunt County, Tex. At that rate an acre would cost $160,000. Immediately after the transaction, Tanner erected fence posts, covered with barbed wire, around the property. He bought the ranch to pay off a bet with a friend back home. Looking on is Tanner's daughter, Billy Jo.

Tiller School Prepares Play

The eighth grade play of the Tiller School will be held Thursday in the school gym at 8 p.m.

The play is a mystery-comedy, "Room 13," and promises many thrills and laughs before the last scene. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Curdell, and her son, Alan Hall, for a few days, Mrs. Knight was present at 4-H achievement Day to view some of her son's work.

Garth Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Andrews, of Tiller became seriously ill last weekend, when a case of measles was complicated by brain fever. He was rushed to the Myrtle Creek Clinic where treatment was instituted. It is reported to be much improved.

The regular Friday evening skating session at the school was followed by a wiener roast on the Imviqua at the Vernon Lamin residence.
