

Sec. Dulles Rejects French, British Argument

from Communist control. 2. He renewed his warning to Western Europe generally and Italy and France particularly that "there may have to be a basic shift in United States policy" unless the nations there promptly complete organization of the European Defense Community. He noted specifically that France and Italy so far have failed to ratify the treaty under which a Western European army, including German forces, would be established.

Sharply Dulles declared: "The time for unity is fast running out." 3. The first condition must be fulfilled prior to possible American intervention in the fight against communism in Southeast Asia is the grant of complete independence by France to the native states of Indochina. Dulles asserted, "The United States will never fight for colonialism."

4. Regarding the development of Communist influence in the Central American republic of Guatemala, Dulles expressed hope that the organization of American states will "help the people of Guatemala to rid themselves of the malignant force which has seized on them." He said that if the Guatemalans do not succeed in this effort the whole American organization "may be corrupted."

5. Regarding the United States' attitude toward the rest of the world, Dulles disavowed any assumption "that we have any mandate to run the world." He said "some need fear that we shall develop an unhealthy lust for power."

In this connection Dulles reaffirmed basic American policy that the possibilities of effective action in solving the problems of other peoples—for instance, rejection of Red conquest in Indochina—rest primarily on the peoples who live there.

McCarthy Says Adams Tried To Blackmail Him testified he does not believe he proposed the picture — that he certainly had no recollection of it.

4. In his opinion, the Army took reprisals against Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton because Lawton cooperated with McCarthy's investigations subcommittee. McCarthy said he believes Lawton, commander of Ft. Moomouth, N. J., failed to get a promotion to the permanent rank of major general because of such cooperation.

McCarthy contended it was his committee's efforts to go behind the scenes in the Pentagon and find out who was "coddling" Communists that led to the filing of charges against him and his committee staff.

"I think that is responsible for the hearings here today," he declared.

McCarthy said he also thought "a part" in preparation of the Army's "false charges" was due to his insistence on finding out who was responsible for the honorable discharge Feb. 1 of Maj. Irving Peress, an Army dentist described by McCarthy as "a fifth amendment Communist."

Council Awards Terrace Avenue Paving Contract

cession. City Atty. Paul Geddes had requested the second for rezoning of part of Block 21 on Kane Street, where he plans to build office space for his firm. Construction, he said, probably will begin in about a week.

The council ran into one problem over which it probably has no control. A sawmill burner, in a direct line with the municipal airport runway, is 80 per cent complete near the old Coon Creek Lumber Co. mill. Since construction is outside the city limits, the city has no jurisdiction on construction. A joint city-council zoning commission, set up some time ago, is not functioning and never set forth recommendations to cover the situation.

The only recourse, the council decided, was to contact the owner in San Francisco. Little hope was held out that the nearly completed structure will be torn down or modified.

In other action, the council: Paid May claims and bills. Deferred plans for a driveway to the police station entrance to the city hall.

Referred a Church of the Nazarene petition for violation of the setback ordinance to the building committee.

Approved the business application of Vincent W. Schuetz for a self-service garage to be located at 404 W. Lane St.

Okayed a liquor license application for Parkinson's Food Store 323 W. Cass St.

Councilman Frank Ashley, council president, presided in the absence of Mayor Percy Croft, in Seattle for a Rotary convention. Only five councilmen were present to barely make up a quorum.

Man To Go To Gallows For Murder Of Wife

BALTIMORE (AP) — George Edward Grammer, 33-year-old, impetuous New York office manager, goes to his death on the gallows at Maryland Penitentiary tonight for the "almost perfect" murder of his wife.

Grammer was convicted of bludgeoning his attractive, 33-year-old wife to death in August 1952 and sending her body hurtling down a hill in an automobile so that it would appear she died in an accident.

Rose Festival Queen Selected

PORTLAND (AP) — The Portland Rose Festival stepped up its activities Thursday with six Navy ships in port and a new queen to rule over nightly exhibitions at Multnomah Stadium.

The queen is a pretty blonde, Jan Markstaller, a Washington High School student, selected before a crowd of 22,000 at the stadium Wednesday night.

The Navy cruiser Toledo and the submarine Gudgeon tied up in the Willamette River in the heart of the city Wednesday. Four mine sweepers had arrived the day before. All are open to public inspection through the Festival, which will be climaxed by the annual floral parade Saturday.

The parade has attracted a greater than usual number of floats from outside Portland—six from Oregon cities, four from Washington cities, and one from the President's hometown of Rose. The Washington floats will represent the Seattle Seafair, Puget Sound Daffodil Festival, City of Vancouver, and Vancouver Alcaz Plant. There will be about 60 floats from Portland firms and organizations.

Selassie Heads For Far West

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Haile Selassie, Ethiopia's solemn-eyed Lion of Judah, heads for the Far West today after voicing admiration for "your country's splendid farm industry."

The African Emperor's next stop is Spokane, Wash. Yesterday he visited the Twin Cities and the rich farming country of southern Minnesota.

His tightly crammed schedule brought him glimpses of green fields, tall silos, the Hormel meat-packing plant at Austin and the famed Mayo Clinic at Rochester.

He stopped briefly at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Doty near Rochester, where he smilingly drank a glass of lemonade and ate some homemade cookies.

The grueling tour sapped the energy of many in the royal party. But the 3-foot-4-inch-tall, 130-pound oldest nation disclaimed any fatigue. "Any tiredness I might feel is offset by the wonderful reception I am having," he commented.

President Denies Abandoning Program

for a simple one-year extension of for a three-year extension with provision for a gradual 15 per cent cut in tariffs — does not mean he is abandoning the program.

There have been suggestions by Democrats that the administration was giving up on the Eisenhower program without a fight.

The House Ways and Means Committee Thursday unanimously approved the one-year extension of the President's authority to make trade agreements with other nations. The House is likely to act on it Friday and the Senate perhaps next week.

On other matters the President had this to say at his news conference:

Communism — What he personally fears more than anything in the free world's struggle against communism is the possibility of a failure to look the danger squarely in its broad face. Eisenhower said emphatically the United States cannot achieve its aims by military force alone.

He said that in addition to military strength, there must be the psychological, political and intellectual basis for any intervention designed to help the free world in the battle against the forces of communism.

Secret Information — Eisenhower said the loyalty and obedience to the provisions of the Constitution should be beyond question in the case of any man holding a commission as a reserve officer.

Indochina — The President said the French Union forces in Indochina are in possibly better defensive shape than before the fall of Dien Bien Phu, but undoubtedly could be much aided by outside military help. Added he still does not believe this country should start a war but should keep its military reserves highly mobile.

Infiltrating Reds Win Two Small French Positions

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — Infiltrating Vietminh troops have won two more small defense posts in the Red River delta southeast of Hanoi, the French High Command announced Thursday. And the rebels stepped up harassing attacks northwest and southwest of this headquarters city.

A garrison of about 160 men at the village of Haiyen, on the Bamboo Canal in the Hungyen sector 30 miles southeast of Hanoi, blew up a big little red brick fort and withdrew — fighting off rebel ambushes — after withstanding a long assault. The French said there were appreciable losses on both sides.

Vietnamese militiamen of Lachien, in the Phat Dien sector near the gulf of Tonkin, were overwhelmed by a Vietminh attack in which they were reported heavily outnumbered.

Posts garrisoned by the Vietnamese — Indochina troops fighting under French command — were singled out in other attacks. But the rebels were reported beaten off in each case.

The abandonment of Haiyen was described as part of a French campaign to draw in isolated units and concentrate on building up key defenses before the Vietminh can mount an offensive with its five or more regular divisions now rumbling the delta.

Added by Vietnamese who had marched to its relief and French who landed from naval craft along the canal Wednesday night, the garrison fought its way to Hungyen, a timber center of 4,000 population four miles to the west.

Five Persons Injured In Vehicle Accidents

ern Douglas County early Wednesday night.

State police said a car driven by Mary Haughn, Jackson, 31, Grants Pass, skidded off the road hitting Richey who was walking along the highway. Richey is being treated for a broken clavicle, broken ribs, concussion and several lacerations of the head.

Mrs. Jackson told police she was coming around a curve and saw a car slowing down in front of her. She stepped on the brakes and went into a skid, she said. Her car, traveling north, went into the ditch on the right side of the highway, she said. It hit a bank with the right front fender and bounded back on the shoulder.

The rear of the car swung around and hit Richey, who was walking along that shoulder, police reported.

Here in Roseburg, Eldon Harold Age, 35, Medford, is being treated for head injuries and contusions to the body as the result of an early-morning tangle with a diesel locomotive north of the city limits.

The accident occurred at 5:45 this morning as Age was driving a pickup out of the Chrystallite The Co. driveway across the railroad tracks.

Engineer W. C. Scharen, Eugene, told state police he saw the pickup coming across the tracks and knew his locomotive would hit it. He slammed on the emergency brake and skidded into the vehicle. The draw bar on the engine hit the left rear of the pickup flinging it about 24 feet down the track and on its side.

Age said he looked both ways, but did not see the Southern Pacific locomotive, so he started to cross. When he saw the train he told police, he stepped hard on the gas, but the wheels spun in the loose gravel.
