

National Guard Unit Arrives At Ft. Lewis Base

By JIM VANCE
Members of Roseburg's national guard unit, Co. D. 186 Inf. Regiment, departed at the Ft. Lewis Railroad Depot at 8:30 Saturday evening and immediately moved into prepared tent quarters at the Northeast Ft. Lewis base.

A busy two-week schedule of events was immediately inaugurated, however, upon arrival. After an evening's meal and night's sleep, troops were up soon after the crack of dawn for their first work day.

Activities began with the completion of camp site details early in the morning. Later in the day, advanced personnel took part in sharp marching formation drills between classes on military discipline, supply economy and character guidance.

Nineteen recruits spent the day being initiated to the military under the supervision of Sgt. Lyle Westcott.
