

HUNTING FOR IDENTIFICATION — Members of a coroner's party probe under the wreckage of plane crash on Old Fairview Mountain about 35 miles east of Roseburg. Twisted metal was pushed around and the craft was turned over in the search for clues to help identify four persons on board the plane. under of the pilot. The bag was wife part of the wreckage. Another coroner's party will return to the scene—probably Saturday—to hunt for more items and to investigate the crash. Relatives, Civil Aeronautics Administration personnel and sheriff's reservists will go along, Powers said. Investigating the crash scene Wednesday were Deputy Coroner Ira Byrd, Deputy Sheriff Cecil Hever, Photographer Paul Jenkins, Nielen Cellers of Glide and Ruthven. The crashed plane is on Old Fairview Mountain in the North Umpqua drainage area, north of the spot first reported. Byrd said the plane hit about 200 feet below the summit on the south side of the mountain. He said the plane evidently hit with a terrific impact, but wreckage was not too badly scattered. The carburetor heat was turned on and the throttle was part way back. The coroner's party reached the heavily wooded spot by way of the Sacred Man trail, leaving their Jeep and walking the last half mile. Parts of the plane were covered with a layer of needles. The fuselage, upside down, was turned over—while identification was sought, searchers said. Among the items of identification found were overnight cases, a camera and tripod, three wrist-watches and a woman's ruby ring. Remains of the bodies were found close together just in front of the nose of the craft, which was partly wrapped around the base of a tree. The four-plane plane had taken off from Eugene on a flight to Los Angeles in wintry weather. At the time, search parties made an effort to find it, but were unsuccessful. Survivors of Fish include a daughter, Mrs. Evelyn June Smith of Eugene; a grandson; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Fish of Hood River; a brother, Ivor of Eugene, and a sister, Mrs. Velma Specht of LaSierra, Calif.

Public Hearing Set On Proposed Gas Rate Raise

A public hearing has been set here on July 7 by Charles H. Heitzel, public utilities commissioner, on an application by the California Pacific Utilities Co. for an increase in its gas rates. A. D. Parr, Roseburg Division manager for the firm, said the increase sought by the company ranges between 10 and 11 per cent. Application for the increase was made with the commissioner in Salem on May 24. The rates would take effect on June 27 in seven southern Oregon cities—Roseburg, Ashland, Medford, Phoenix, Talent, Grants Pass and Klamath Falls. The hearing is to begin in the city hall at 1:30 p.m. July 7. Hearings also are scheduled in Medford and Klamath Falls. A flat increase would cover service on three schedules—domestic, commercial and industrial consumption. Eliminated would be an escalator clause now in effect for the company allowing for increases or decreases in rates as fuel costs move up or down. Survivors of Mrs. Hyland include a son, Dennis, and daughter, Rae Anne, both of Eugene; her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Rex C. Stinchcomb Sr. of Eugene; a sister, Mrs. Jean Woodward of Eureka, Calif.; and two brothers, Rex Jr. of San Diego, Calif., and James of the U.S. Army in Japan. Besides the son and daughter, Hyland is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hyland Sr.; three brothers, Arley D., Ansel N. and Wilbur H. Jr.; and two sisters, Mrs. Edith E. Richey and Mrs. Myra M. Ray, all of Eugene. Dr. Scoles' widow, now remarried, was due in Roseburg today, Powers said. No funeral arrangements have been announced for any of the victims.

School District 4 Budget Will Be Resubmitted

the limitation and which would not have to be voted on. 2. That if such a budget were put into effect, it would be necessary to close Garden Valley, Riverside, Melrose, Edenhower, Joseph, Lane and Winchester schools and to start double shifts at Central Junior High and Willbur schools. 3. That first grade pupils would not be accepted in the district next year, and that teacher loads in the five other elementary grades would be increased by 10 or 15 pupils per teacher. 4. That a number of teachers and other school employees would be left out of jobs. 5. That several of the "non-traditional" classes at the senior high school would be cut out of the school program (agriculture, shop, etc.) and that no school supervisor, coaches, music and art teachers would be paid. Supplies for schoolrooms would be cut seriously. 6. That little money would be included for maintenance of school property. Deiler commented that there would be no other solution. He and Building Supt. Guy Davis revealed that about 50 school employees will not be paid after July 1 until a budget is passed by the voters. Deiler said there are rumors that many of the teachers in the district already are "shopping around." The results of Monday's balloting drew caustic comments from members of the committee and the audience. School Atty. George Spruner: "Roseburg lacks civic pride. The vote showed there were more property owners who voted than people with kids." Carl Felker, an attorney: "We speed thousands of bucks to get new industry here, but we can't get adequate schools." Felker was there, it was obvious, to find why some items were included in the budget. Felker said he believes that many voters question specific items in the budget, and he asked questions on salaries paid to some persons in the school system.

91.2 Per Cent Favor McCarthy In Tribune Poll

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Tribune's poll on the McCarthy-Army hearings ended last night with 70,036 persons casting ballots and 91.2 per cent voting in favor of the Wisconsin senator.

The poll, by mail and telephone, was held for six days and followed the 36 days of hearings in the McCarthy-Army controversy. Those voting in the poll were asked to vote yes or no on two questions:

- 1. Do you believe Secretary Stevens and Army Counselor Adam and their advisers proved their charges that Sen. McCarthy and his staff exerted improper pressure to secure favored treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, former committee aide?
2. Do you believe Sen. McCarthy and his staff proved their charges that Stevens, Adams, and their advisers sought to end the inquiry into communism in the Army by having Schine's name removed from the list of names of persons who had reported about undue favors sought for Schine.
The Tribune reported today that of the mail ballots, 51,824 voted for McCarthy; 4,816 for Pentagon (Army) and 602 were undecided. Listed by telephone, 12,036 were in favor of McCarthy; 716 for the Pentagon and 53 were undecided. The total vote was 63,860 for McCarthy; 5,531 for the Pentagon and 655 undecided.

The Tribune said ballots were counted as "undecided" when the voter marked to show that he believed both sides had proved their charges or that neither side had proved its charges.

Workers Hope To Curb Flood

DES MOINES (AP) — The Des Moines River created in Iowa's capital city at a historic high of 39.19 feet Thursday. This was 18 feet above its normal flow. All major impounded areas were safe, however, and flood defense officials said, "we think we've got it whipped."

A three day battle, first to raise the levees and then to hold them against the pounding waters, was in its climactic hours. All major dikes were holding. No lives had been lost. The crest was 3 1/2 feet higher than the official peak reached in the disastrous 1947 flood when a major levee gave way and flooded a riverside residential area.

Morse Overruled On Returning Bill To Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate overruled protests by Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) Wednesday and sent to the White House a compromise bill appropriating $457,011,390 for Army civil functions, beginning July 1.

Morse, backed by Sens. Magnuson and Jackson, Washington Democrats, called for reconsideration of the bill, which cleared the chamber Tuesday, urging it be returned to a Senate-House conference committee to add half million dollars to plan the John Day lock and dam on the Columbia River.

The funds previously were approved by the Senate but were left out when the two-chamber conference committee met to work up a compromise bill. Morse argued the money is needed because two years' planning would be required before work on the dam could begin.

Morse was opposed by majority leader Knowland (R-Calif.), who told the Senate that House conferees refused to accept the item because they did not feel ready to undertake such an expensive project at this time.

"Meritorious project though it may be," Knowland said, "the fact remains it would cost 461 million dollars."
