Continued Segregation Harmful, Claim Negroes

DALLAS, Texas (AP) — Continued segregation would only be harmful and an "unbearable strain" to both whites and Negroes in this country, according to two prominent Negroes attending the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People meeting here.

Dr. Kenneth B. Carter, whose research into the psychological impacts of segregation were cited by the Supreme Court, said that segregation cannot go on much longer because of the pressure it builds up in "a basically undemocratic American dilemma."

Walter White, 61, veteran leader in the struggle for Negro equality, declared that people who do the segregating are hurt as badly as those discriminated against because "they form unsentimental notions of their own superiority."
