Sen. Knowland Urges Answer From France

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON — Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said Tuesday he still believes the United States must get a definite answer soon from France regarding German participation in the anti-Communist European Defense Community.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee by an 8-5 vote Monday softened a Knowland-backed proposal to cut off military aid to France and Italy on Dec. 31 unless they ratify EDC by the end of this year.

Knowland indicated that he and other Senate Republican leaders will continue their fight on the Senate floor.

The Foreign Relations Committee, yielding to State Department appeals, reversed itself on the cutoff provision and accepted a less stringent plan adopted earlier by the House.

Knowland said the Foreign Relations Committee should complete action during the day on the new $3,100,000,000 foreign aid authorization and pass the measure along to the Senate Armed Services Committee for action.

McLain ELECTED A. G. (Mike) McLain, Roseburg pharmacist, has been elected a director of the Oregon State Pharmaceutical Assn.

He is the only representative of the association in Southern Oregon. His job with the association will be to help formulate policies for the legislative committee to act on in the state legislature in regard to laws of pharmacy in the state.

McLain is co-owner of McKay drug store.

In The Day's News By Frank Jenkins

The senate foreign relations committee votes tentatively to cut off the flow of American foreign aid to France and Italy next December 31 unless by that date both nations have ratified the European defense treaty.

That's what's known as talking turkey, and I hope it sticks. As one American, I'm growing weary of shelling out foreign aid year after year and getting nothing but insults in return.

A London foreign office spokesman "discloses" this morning (your real blow - in - the - bottle diplomat never just tells a piece of news; he always "discloses" it) that Britain is URGENTLY urging attendance of Secretary of State Dulles at the Indochina peace talks when they get under way again at Geneva next week.

Dulles, the dispatch continues, has made it clear that he wants no part of what is apparently being cooked up for Indochina at Geneva.

What is cooking up on the Indochina business? An AP correspondent in Hanoi says in a dispatch this morning that residents of Hanoi BELIEVE their city is about to be handed over by the French to the communists under a cease-fire agreement. He says the situation is potentially explosive and quotes one native Hanoi resident thus: "The day I learn we have been cut out, I will take my gun, go into the streets and SHOOT THE FIRST THREE FRENCH I SEE. It will make me feel better, and it will give me points with the communists."

What he means is that he and all the other Indochinese HATE THE FRENCH, and he thinks cynically that by SHOOTING

Last Chance On Budget Wednesday

Amount Only 1 Mill Higher Than Last Year

The climax of the Roseburg School District's fight to get an operating budget into effect for the school year 1954-55 comes Wednesday when voters ballot on whether a special tax levy of $935,115.26 shall be assessed to balance the proposed budget.

The same amount was turned down at the polls by a 1,104 to 865 margin. It was pared to that amount when, on May 18, a request for a $1,072,425.78 levy was turned down, 1,682 to 957.

Should the levy again be defeated, a reduced budget operating without a special levy will be placed for the school district to follow. No further vote will be made, for the county requires that total levy by the district be put on the tax rolls by July 20.

Here is the choice the voters face: 1. To pass the budget levy. The total amount, including the special levy, to be raised in taxes is $1,298,092.04, a tax load of 65.2 mills. That would be a load of exactly

Governors Ask Showdown On Road Building

By JACK BELL

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y. — Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania proposed and Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California endorsed Tuesday a plan for a showdown conference of governors with President Eisenhower on a projected 50-billion-dollar highway program.

In a point-by-point criticism of an Eisenhower proposal laid before the 46th annual governors conference here by Vice President Nixon, Fine told his colleagues: "We want the federal government to get out of the gasoline and fuel oil tax field once and for all and now is the time to do it before we embark on any large scale highway program such as the President has suggested."

Eisenhower proposed that the federal government and states cooperate to build a system of roads aimed at providing transportation for an expected 200 million population by 1970.

The President's proposal was interpreted by Fine, a Republican supporter of the administration, as placing a "cloud" on the states' control of road building activities

Northwest Lumber Strike Negotiations Break Down

11 Mills Pay Larger Wages

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hope for an early end of the 23-day-old Pacific Northwest lumber strike was dim Tuesday after operators broke off the first major negotiations since the start of the walkout.

Two major employer groups—the Lumbermen's Industrial Relations Committee and the Columbia Basin Sawmills—opened talks Monday with representatives of the AFL Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union's Coast-Columbia district. But they promptly told the union and a federal mediator "we are unwilling to meet further until the union committee" agrees to accept their original offer to renew contracts without change.

The employers, standing firm on their refusal to consider pay increases, said the contract renewal proposal is their "final offer."

The AFL union and CIO Woodworkers went on strike June 21 for a 12 1/2-cent hourly increase.

The employer committees said individual operators are "always willing" to meet with their crews to negotiate settlement with no wage increases.

In a public statement the employer groups charged the union with "bad faith bargaining."

They said their offer to renew contracts never had been submitted to union locals and that union officials had ordered out workers who voted against striking.

Kenneth Davis, secretary of the AFL union's northwestern council, replied that some employers are trying to "break the union."

Secretary Arrives In Paris Today

Talks Are Scheduled To Open With French Premier On Indochina

PARIS — Secretary of State Dulles arrived here Tuesday and said he considers that a collective defense organization for Southeast Asia could help France get "just and honorable peace terms" in Indochina.

Dulles flew into Paris aboard a U.S. military air transport Constellation for a top-level British-French attempt to convince him an "honorable" peace can still be won in Indochina—and that his presence in Geneva would help win it.

He was scheduled to open talks with French Premier Pierre-Mendes-France and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden during the day. Eden and Mendes-France left Geneva earlier Tuesday to be on hand for the conference.

In a statement, Dulles recalled he had come to Paris last April 13, before the Geneva conference started, to talk about forming a Southeast Asian defense pact.

At that time, he said, he felt such an organization would help France. "I still feel the same way," he added.

He went on to explain: "The United States is not itself a belligerent and therefore not a proper party to many aspects of the problem which are the principal concern of the Geneva conference. However, we do have a

Blood Shortage Delays Operation On Mrs. Elliott

The shortage of blood at the Portland Blood Center has had its effect on another Douglas County woman.

Mrs. Bruce Elliott of Roseburg is at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland waiting for heart surgery. However, the operation is being held up because not enough blood is available for her. She needs 10 pints.

Mrs. Walter Brittle, Roseburg blood recruitment chairman, asked that any donors wishing to help her should donate in her name, Mrs. Bruce Elliott at the Good Samaritan Hospital.

Monday, Mrs. Brittle reported that a Winston woman was to undergo brain surgery, but enough blood was not available because of the depleted stocks at Portland. She reports that the operation was started when enough donors from the "walking blood bank" were secured.

The bloodmobile is in Roseburg today and Wednesday in an effort to bolster the supply of blood both locally and at the Portland center. It is here today from 4 to 8 p.m. and Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Elks Lodge in Roseburg.

Ellsworth, Coon Return From European Trip WASHINGTON — Two Oregon congressmen were back in the city today after weeks of European visits on legislative matters.

Rep. Ellsworth (R-Ore) returned Monday from London where he went with Rep. Scott (R-Pa) to inquire into British investigative proposals in connection with pending proposals in London and to acquire additional space in Helsinki.

Accompanying Coon were Reps. Bow (R-Ohio) and Preston (D-Ga) and William P. Hughes, director of Foreign Building Operations for the State Department.

Ellsworth, a member of the House Rules Committee, said he and Scott met with members of the British House of Lords and with a chief judicial officer, Sir Raymond Evershed, relative to British experience with legislative investigations.

Ellsworth said he also talked for about an hour with Clement Attlee, former prime minister, on the same subject.

He announced himself as satisfied with the results of the trip and said that he and Scott, who has not yet returned, plan to confer soon to see what of the material gathered can be used in connection with the congressional proposal.

Searchers Seek Drifting Raft

SAN FRANCISCO — Another search party has sailed out after the raft Lehi — confident after air sightings and radio contacts she is still floating southward in the Pacific.

The Lehi, only about 20 miles off central California, refused a Coast Guard tow to shore Monday.

Four of her five crew members still hoped she would change course and drift the 2,300 miles southwest to Hawaii.

The fifth, radio operator Don Smith, of Santa Rosa, Calif., repeatedly radioed from the 32-foot, boxlike craft: "Get me off this damned thing."

He complained he was coming down with the flu and threatened to call the Coast Guard for help.

The raft was towed out of the Golden Gate Friday with no provisions.

The amateur adventurers planned to live off the sea. They have caught one salmon and one small shark and made a little water in their solar still.

Recent cool weather and rains have kept the fire danger down he added. However, current warm weather may quickly change the condition, Benecke said.

Jacklin was the only person in attendance from the local lodge.

The convention was held from July 5-9. Full business sessions were held at the Paramount Theater in Los Angeles.

According to Jacklin, Oregon Elks won a large trophy for the best display of state. The winning entry featured the work of an eye clinic in Portland, shown in motion pictures, and the activities of the veterans hospital, both of which are Elk supported.

SEATTLE — Adlai Stevenson, confident of a Democratic victory at the polls in November and highly critical of the Eisenhower administration, was to conclude a dash to the Pacific Northwest Tuesday.

Stevenson, the unsuccessful Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, arrived here late Monday night after a trip from Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, via Spokane and Grand Coulee Dam.

En route to Alaska on a vacation trip, Stevenson was scheduled to speak at a 50-a-plate Democratic fund-raising luncheon here Tuesday noon before leaving for Bremerton and a tour of the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard.

Tuesday evening Stevenson was scheduled to leave Bremerton on a private cruise of the San Juan Islands, arriving at Bellingham Wednesday noon for a car trip to Vancouver, B.C.

He will leave the Canadian city Wednesday night for Alaska.

Stevenson's schedule Monday included a breakfast speech at Cosur d'Alene in which he ripped into the administration's power policy and a talk before the state AFL Federation of Labor convention at Spokane.

At Spokane, Stevenson turned his attention to what he termed a "peril" in Southeast Asia.

The peril, Stevenson told the delegates, was a delusion on the part of millions of Southeast Asians that the United States, Britain and France represent the "symbols of a dying order."

"It's a sad fact," Stevenson said, "that countless millions don't look on Communism as we do. They see it as the lesser of two evils."

The shop moved to Jackson Street July 2.

Between $1,500 and $2,000 has been spent in putting a new face on the back portion of Len Mitchell's Men's Clothes, 213 N. Jackson St., according to Larry Mitchell, store manager. Mitchell said that work inside the store was done by the firm while exterior building changes were made by
