League became more lopsided with the New York Giants stretching their advantage over Brooklyn to seven games, their longest lead of the year.

The Giants won a 13-inning struggle in Cincinnati 2-1, and Brooklyn lost in 10 innings in Chicago 3-2. St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 4-2 in the only other National League action. Milwaukee and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

Other results in the American League included a 9-1 triumph by Washington over Baltimore and two more losses by Philadelphia Athletics, their 9th and 10th in a row, this time to Detroit 12-0 and 4-3.

Stengel Ires Ford To Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel is as crazy as a fox, and twice as sly.

Talking to newspapermen before last night's game with Chicago, the New York Yankee manager spied White Ford, his ace southpaw.

"You want to know who is the best left-hander in the league?" he asked. "That feller Billy Pierce with the White Sox. He's a better than my feller. Sure I picked my feller to pitch the All-Star Game. But that was only because the other feller had just recovered from a sore arm. But use other feller is better."

Ford undoubtedly heard every word. A few moments later he arose and began throwing warmup pitches. About 2 1/2 hours later, he walked off the field with a neat eight-hitter, after pitching the Yankees to a 4-1 victory over Chicago that kept the Yankees hot on the heels of the Cleveland Indians.

Reached in the clubhouse after Ford declined an invitation to take issue with Stengel but admitted he was determined to show his manager that he was a pretty good pitcher too.

Fourth Straight Win

The 24-year-old ex-serviceman turned in one of his best efforts of the year last night. He struck out five and walked only two as he won his ninth victory against only one loss against the White Sox since he entered the league in 1930.

It was his fourth straight strong performance after a poor spring. His record, which once was 2-4, is now 9-6.

"I was all mixed up early this year," he explained. "My control was off, my curve ball wasn't doing a thing and I seemed to be going from bad to worse. I finally got all confidence in myself and if it wasn't for Jim Turner (Yankee coach) I might be sitting in the bullpen now or pitching for Kansas City. He straightened me out."

Ford went on to explain that Turner discovered he was doing several things wrong. First, he was looking down on the ground after each pitch, instead of keeping his eye on the batter. Third, he was not following through his curve ball.

Keegan Takes Loss

The Yankees picked the fifth loss on Bob Keegan although they were out 8-7. Fine fielding which included three double plays helped White Ford to his ninth success.

Detroit scored nine runs in the first inning of the first game at Philadelphia in a spurge which included a double and a grand slam home run by Harvey Kuenn. In the nightcap the Tigers rallied for three runs in the eighth, two of them on a home run by Bill Tipton.

Roy Sievers and Eddie Yost were the hitting standouts in Washington's triumph over Baltimore. Yost tripled with the bases loaded and Sievers hit his 15th home run.

Yank Pennant Seen By Tigers

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Freddie Hutchinson of the Detroit Tigers and Schoolboy Rowe, his first lieutenant, agreed today that the New York Yankees will win their sixth straight pennant, but they differed as to the degree.

Hutchinson thinks the Yankees will win only after a hard-fought battle with Cleveland and Rowe believes the defending champions will win in a breeze.

Hutchinson commented on the Yankees' prospects yesterday after the Tigers had split a doubleheader with them, losing 6-0, then winning 8-6.

"I'm not sure they have the better team, but they have a psychological edge over Cleveland," he said. "After all, they've been in three straight dogfights with the Indians and they've come out on top every time."

Towre former Tiger pitching great who returned to the club in the capacity of a pitching and first base coach this year, didn't mince any words.

"I can't see anybody but the Yankees. There's nobody around that can beat 'em. They're making their move now and once they grab the lead from Cleveland, nobody is going to take it away from them. Certainly not the Indians. They'll fold like an accordion. They always do."

Air Force Major Tops Western Amateur Pack

SEATTLE (AP) — Maj. Harley Williams of Seattle and the Air Force, a transplanted Texan, reigned Wednesday as medalist of the 1944 Western Amateur Golf Tournament in spite of trees, traps, Dale Morey and grass as thick as the hair on an angora goat.

Williams battered around the Broadmoor layout's 6,338 bitter yards in 72 Tuesday, two over par, for a 36-hole total of 142. Defending champion Morey of Indianapolis, whose daily garb dully the rainbow, also had a 72 and that gave him 141 for the qualifying schedule, although he didn't have to qualify.

Use Of Fairgrounds Field Starts Thursday

Softball Commissioner Lewis McAllister announced that night use of the new Fairgrounds Field will not begin Wednesday night as originally scheduled. Only one game of a doubleheader scheduled will be played between Roseburg Lumber and Mill's Drive-In Cleaners beginning at 8:30.

First official night use of the field is slated Thursday night with a doubleheader between undefeated Jorgenson's Dairy of Medford and two Roseburg teams, Mill's Drive-In and Youngs Bay Lumber beginning at 7.

Hatchery Jobs Get Under Way

Four of Oregon's trout hatcheries are getting a "working over."

This is the word from George Kernan, chief engineer for the Oregon Game Commission.

Most extensive work is to be done at the Hood River hatchery near Dee.

Donald W. Thompson of North Bend submitted the low bid for work on this station. The project will involve construction of a new hatchery building to replace the one partially destroyed by fire earlier this year plus facilities for the storing and processing of fish food.

At Cedar Creek hatchery near Hebo, Larson Construction Co. of Astoria has been working since June 21. Two new ponds are being constructed to replace old dirt-bottomed ones. In addition to the ponds, a new dam and water intake structure and water supply pipeline are underway. These are being built to replace ones that have deteriorated through age.

Tourney Rhubarb Features Opener

With the Postoffice team disputing the legality of the use of a PAL Club player, Tuesday evening's opening round of the Twilight League's double elimination softball tourney was played under protest and ruling on the outcome was awaited from the Commissioner's office.

Postoffice players charged that PAL Club pitcher Butch Daniels had played with an Industrial League team this year and under league regulations he should not be participating with any Twilight League teams for the rest of the season.

PAL Club team members questioned the existence of such a regulation and after several pre-game disputes, the two teams completed three and one-half innings of play before darkness set in with PAL Club leading in the ball game 12-3.

Hopkins Duo Victors In Bowling Feature

Shirley and Chuck Hopkins were high in mixed doubles Tuesday night with a total of 1085 points. Other high couples included Mary Circle and Don Nye 1082; Barbara and Jerry Wittren 1071 and Helen and Paul Ryan 1061.

OUT OF TOURNEY Mount Shies, Tennis Champ Fractures Leg

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Tennis champion Maureen Connolly, seriously injured when thrown against a moving cement truck while riding her horse, rested in a hospital here today.

"Little Mo's" injuries—a broken and severely cut right leg—will prevent her from defending her U. S. singles title at Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 28.

Dr. Bruce Kimball, who operated on her shortly after the accident yesterday, said the fibula or small bone below the knee was fractured and that some muscles were torn but not severed. She was in surgery more than three hours.

Her leg was put in a cast and Dr. Kimball said she would be hospitalized at least a week. He said, however, that the injury would not permanently cripple her. He ordered her not to touch a tennis racket for a month, and perhaps longer.

"We were riding along Friar's Road. We stopped our horses as the truck approached. Colonel Merry Boy whirled into the truck. My leg was caught between my horse and the truck."

By the Associated Press
Hollywood's pitching staff, shorter than at any time this season, came up with two fine performances against San Francisco Tuesday night as the Stars increased their lead in the Pacific Coast League race to five games.

With the ace of the staff, Lino Donoso, hospitalized, and Fred Strohle recently optioned, the Star hurlers apparently feel it necessary to go the route in every game. No relief was necessary Tuesday night as Mel Queen and Roger Bowman tossed a pair of five-hitters.

The Stars won the opening game against the Seals, 5-2, and the windup, 1-0.

Bobby Spicer, the little Los Angeles pitcher who throws just about every pitch in the book, was in rare form as he held Oakland to five hits and scored his third shutout of the season. The Angels won, 3-0.

Stanky Draws Suspension, Fine, Gives Public Apology

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Eddie Stanky, under suspension and a fine for his action in a forfeited game Sunday, has bounced back with a public apology and a promise to reform.

Warren Giles, National League president, handed a five-day suspension and $60 fine to the St. Louis Cardinal manager yesterday after a hearing here.

A free-for-all and stalling in Sunday's game led Umpire Babe Pinelli to give the Philadelphia Phils a 9-0 forfeit victory in the second half of the twin bill.

Stanky told newsmen later he realized he has embarrassed and hurt St. Louis fans, baseball nationally, the Cardinals and his own reputation.

"A lot of people say, 'Eddie Stanky won't do it,' the Redbird pilot said of his promise. 'However, I consider this challenge the biggest of my baseball career. I will win.'

Giles also punished St. Louis catcher Sal Yvars and Philadelphia first baseman Earl Torgeson. Their boxing in the top of the fifth inning of the game led to the suspension. Yvars drew a three-day suspension and Torgeson two days. All the suspensions started last night.

Philadelphia Manager Terry Moore, in the middle of the home plate battle, drew no penalty after telling Giles he was trying to restore peace when Stanky tackled him about the neck.

Giles also upheld the forfeit ruling, based on stalling by Stanky and Cardinal players.

Is That So!

For a change, we'll deal with the ups and downs of our earth today and wind up with the world's greatest mountain, anchored securely in our own backyard!

Of continents, Asia which has a mean height of 3,000 feet, takes the plum for having the greatest up and downs: Mt. Everest is the highest point of land on earth, 29,141 feet (but mind, not the greatest mountain), and the shore of the Dead Sea of Palestine, with a 1,289 feet, is the lowest point of dry land.

South American, with Mt. Aconcagua, Chile, comes in second with 22,834 feet and is unique of all continents in having no land below sea level. The mean height of South America is 1,800 feet.

Mt. McKinley, 29,300 feet, in Alaska and Death Valley, California (-276 feet) are both the highest and lowest spots in North America. (Death Valley received its sinister name from a group of 39 adventurers who attempted to cross it on their way to the California gold fields in '49—18 died of thirst within sight of the snow-capped High Sierra, topped by Mt. Whitney, 14,496 feet, highest peak in the U. S., and only 85 miles away). The mean elevation of North America is 2,000 feet.

AFRICA COMES in fourth with Kibo Peak (Kilimanjaro) with 19,710 feet and a low spot in the Libyan desert of -440 feet.

Of the continents, Europe comes fifth with Mt. Elbruz in the Caucasus, 18,465 feet, and the 795-mile long Caspian Sea of Russia, 86 feet, largest lake in the world.

Last in geographical ups and downs comes Australia. Its Mt. Loscuoko is 7,328 feet and its Lake Eyre is -88 below sea level. The maximum depressions in Asia (Dead Sea) Europe (Caspian Sea) and Australia (Lake Eyre) are particularly intriguing. To maintain their status, all have fresh water pouring in daily.

Of these, the Dead Sea spreads out over 340 miles and lies at the bottom of the earth's deepest break, or fault, and has a maximum depth of 1,309 feet although one end of it is quite shallow. Each day, 6 million tons of fresh water dump into this warm inland sea but the rapid evaporation keeps the level fairly constant. (At one time, the lake was much larger — filling the entire Jordan Valley but it has now shrunk to about one-fourth of its area). The surface of the Dead Sea, presumably, has reached a perfect equilibrium where the surface in neighboring areas is too small to produce an evaporation equal to the amount of water being dumped into it by the River Jordan and other smaller streams.

TO BE SURE, all of these inland seas are intensely salty—and becoming more so with the constant leaching out of minerals from the surrounding territory and the constant evaporation which leaves an accumulating residue in the lakes.

As a result the Dead Sea contains a great deal of solid matter, mostly common salt — to every ton of water there are 187 pounds of salt, which makes it the saltiest large body of water in the world. (In the Atlantic Ocean, the proportion is 31 pounds of salt to every ton of water).

But in a real sense, the Dead Sea is not the lowest point on earth, neither is Mt. Everest the highest mountain. Lands below the sea are much deeper — a trench off Mindanao, east of the Philippines is an awesome pit of -34,218 feet!

And as for the greatest mountain, there is the majestic dome of Mauna Loa in Hawaii which is 13,680 feet high. A level, and has on its shoulder the largest active crater in the world, Kilauea, about three miles wide. Unlike Everest, Mauna Loa does not start from a high tableland — it begins from a great plain 18,000 feet below sea level and builds up gradually within 50 miles to a height of 32,000 feet!
