Sunday afternoon at four o'clock Miss Jean Carolyn Clough became the bride of Theodore William Bradley at a very beautiful garden ceremony performed by the Rev. J. K. Howard of Glendale at the beautiful Clough ranch home between Days Creek and Canyonville. The double ring rite was solemnized before a white lattice arbor flanked by huge baskets of salmon pink and cream gladioli with one hundred and fifty friends and relatives present.

The bride given in marriage by her father was dressed in a ballerina length frock fashioned of lace and nylon net over satin in champagne color. Her finger tip veil of illusion was held in place by a coronet of pearls. Her showery bouquet of white carnations was centered by a large white orchid, which she later wore as a corsage with her traveling costume.

The bride's attendants included her elder sister, Mrs. Raymond Hays, who as matron of honor was dressed in pink Bougainville silk with matching headband; and her younger sister, Miss Donna Clough, who wore pale jade Bougainville silk also with headband to match. Both dresses were in ballerina length. Their flowers were pale pink carnations arranged in shower fashion. Little Miss Dorothy May Hayes acted as flower girl for her aunt and dressed in a bouffant ankle length frock of pink net scattered rose petals in the pathway of the bride. Miss Darrellene Carter of Riddle played the incidental music as well as the wedding march from Lohengrin.

The bridegroom had as his best man, H. B. Luckett of San Francisco, while Raymond Hays and Verlon Cook were ushers. The bride's mother was most attractive in a dress of smoke colored lace over pink taffeta with a pink flowered hat. Her corsage was of pale pink and cream gladioli.

Following the ceremony a reception was held. The guest book was in charge of Mrs. Lawrence

Michael, while Mrs. Marlen Yoder, a sorority sister of the bride, had charge of the gifts. She was assisted by Miss Janice Daniels and Miss Janice Patton. After the bride and bridegroom had cut the traditional first piece of cake with an heirloom silver cake knife, which had belonged to the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. W. Frank Brown and Mrs. Ralph Weaver continued with the serving. The beautifully decorated tiered cake was served at a table placed before a windowed alcove which was graced with a huge arc of pink and cream gladioli. Coffee and punch were served from a long lace covered table, which was centered with a beautiful low arrangement of gladioli in the same shades, flanked by tall cream colored tapers. Assisting in serving and about the rooms were the bride's aunts, Miss Bess Clough, Mr. Glen Martin of McMinnville, Mrs. Glen Stone of Junction City, and Mrs. A. W. Baum of Roseburg. Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Bradley left for San Francisco, where they will reside. Mrs. Bradley wore a dress of pink wool tweed in princess style. Her hat was of white felt and her accessories were in brown. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Huron Clough and a member of one of the pioneer families of Douglas County. She is a graduate of the University of Oregon and a member of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. For the past several years she has been working as a secretary. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Bradley of San Rafael, Calif., and is office manager for the American Presidents Lines in San Francisco.

Coming from a distance to attend the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Luckett of San Francisco; Mrs. E. M. Martin, maternal grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sheldon and family and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Martin, all of McMinnville, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Marcotte of Portland, and Mrs. Glen Strome of Junction City.

THE WEDDING of Virginia Belle Cyrus and Robert Newman took place at the First Baptist Church in Roseburg Sunday, Aug. 8, with the Rev. Raymond Schaefer officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Cyrus of this city. (Picture by Clark's Studio).

A pretty wedding took place Sunday afternoon, Aug. 8, at the First Baptist Church of Roseburg, when Virginia Belle Cyrus and Robert Newman were married by the Rev. Schaefer at 3 o'clock in the presence of approximately 200 relatives and friends in a double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white satin gown fashioned with a scalloped neckline with seed pearls. Her veil was fingertip length and was held in place with a white satin cap encircled with pearls and nylon tulle. She carried a white Bible with white shattered carnations centered with a lavender orchid. The Bible was a gift of her aunt and uncle.

Maid of honor was Margaret Cooper, and bridesmaids were Mary Ann Baeken and Mrs. Rena Brandt. The brides attendants all wore lavender organza gowns and carried light lavender asters. They wore flowered headpieces to match their dresses.

The two candlelighters, Nancy Cyrus, sister of the bride, and Barbara Shaeffer, wore lavender organza dresses with white organza aprons and wristlets and head pieces of lavender and white

VIVIAN CALAVAN IS JULY BRIDE

Miss Vivian Calavan of Salem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Calavan of Scio, and Dennis Johnston son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Johnston of Olla, were married in a pretty and impressive ceremony Saturday, July 24, at the First Christian Church of Roseburg at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride was most attractive in a pale blue suit with white accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with a nosegay of pink rosebuds and stephanotis. Her jewelry was a silver locket, a gift from the bridegroom.

The matron of honor, Miss Virginia Calavan, sister of the bride, wore a shell pink suit with white accessories. Ushers were Dick Wambolt and Johnny Northcraft. Best man was Johnny Lewis.

Gaylen Kleinfeldt sang "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Mrs. Lena Poole at the organ. Bouquets of gladioli and hydrangeas were used in the church decorations and reception room.

Mrs. Kenneth Atterbury, aunt of the bridegroom, took the place of the bride's mother, who was unable to attend because of illness. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

A reception followed in the church parlors and a beautifully decorated wedding cake was served to 60 friends and relatives by Mrs. Irvin Wambolt, and Mrs. Ed Amo of Salem, a sister of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Bob LeGat and Mrs. Lowell Atterbury assisted about the rooms. Miss Jan Durham had charge of the guest book, and Mrs. L. W. Riley and daughter, Pat, arranged the gifts.

Following a honeymoon to coastal points the couple is now at home at 731 Ivan St. They plan to leave soon for Klamath Falls, where Mr. Johnston is attending OTI as a senior this year.

The bride was formerly employed in Salem as a secretary in the State Highway department office. The bridegroom is employed by the Roseburg Lumber Co.
