Wandering Ex-Coach Shepherds Overseas Sports

By JACK HEWINS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SEATTLE (AP) — A peripatetic minstrel of sports is Sunny Jim McGregor, who deserted the vale of coaching tears to become a world wanderer.

You think he doesn't get around? One day we got a card from Jim, postmarked Bombay; next day he called us on the telephone from down around the corner.

The postcard, of course, had to travel by straight mail — camel, dhow, trampship and steam train. McGregor has a pass on the airline which employs him to further international good will by fostering athletic endeavors — and thereby selling a few tickets.

Before he vanished from the coaching scene Sunny Jim left a deathless memory with the referees. Once while his Whitworth basketball team was engaged in combat McGregor protested a decision and the referee, stabing a finger at our James, shouted "That will be a technical foul on you."

"And that," grinned Jim, "is the first one you've called right tonight."

McGregor has been twice around the world. His passport looks like it had been walked on by a bactrian camel with muddy feet, what with all those countries smearing it with their official stamps. His passport photo looks like — well, why should we libel the guy?

Jim has seen the Asian Games, the British Empire Games, the European Games and he'll see the Pan-American Games next in Mexico. He has seen basketball played in 14 different languages and that's what brought him prop hopping through the Northwest. He was shepherding the Philippine and Chinese National hoop teams on a barnstorming tour en route to the World Tourney in Brazil. Yes, he'll be there, too.

He arranged the Oriental tour for the Oregon basketball team last summer and has fixed up a similar jaunt for Portland State in December. His airline will bring the St. Paul's University hoopsters of Tokyo to the States in January and the Tokyo Giants baseball club is likely to follow in the summer.

And Seattle University is pondering the possibility of an Oriental or South American tour for its basketball players, come warm weather.

The Hungarians, says McGregor, who has even sneaked past the Iron Curtain in the cause of sports, have the toughest basketball players.

"They used to play water polo," says Jim. "Then they drained all the pools and turned 'em into basketball courts.

"The players are big and tough. If they can't locate the ball they'll put you through the basket."

Hugh Duffy, All-Time Slugger, Dead At 87

BOSTON (AP) — The baseball world Wednesday mourned the loss of Hugh Duffy, whose fabulous .438 batting average in 1894 for the Boston National League baseball club is an all-time record.

He broke into the major leagues as an outfielder with the Chicago Nationals in 1888 and hit better than .300 in 11 of his 18 big league seasons. His wife, Nora, died Aug. 22, 1953. They had no children.

Sutherlin, Viking JVs Battle To Tie

Sutherlin and Myrtle Creek jayvee teams battled to a 0-0 tie Tuesday evening at Sutherlin after Sutherlin had won an earlier season meeting between the two schools 6-0.

Both teams made a couple of threats but play in the evenly played contest was restricted much of the time by slick footing on the muddy field. Runners often slipped and fell to the turf before they could break very far.

Sutherlin made what could be called the deepest penetration in the fourth quarter when Cliff Whiting made the night's longest run, about a 50-yard effort to reach the Myrtle Creek 10. The Bulldogs faked a punt when Whiting broke loose. But on the next play the home team fumbled to lose the ball.

Myrtle Creek drove to about the Sutherlin 20 on a couple of occasions after receiving punts. Once in the second quarter and once in the third quarter these short drives of 20 and 40 yards died on owns.
