

Northern Californians Win Pass-Catch Honors

NEW YORK — A regular end as a sophomore in two-platoon football two years ago, Jim Hanifan of California is the nation's major college pass receiving champion, the first the Pacific Coast has ever had.

Hanifan completed his sensational switch, final NCAA Service bureau statistics showed, by catching 44 passes this season. He also led in touchdown passes caught with seven and his 569-yard advance was exceeded only by Stanford's John Stewart, who gained 577. Stewart was runner-up in number caught with 36.

And with Hanifan's teammate, junior Jim Carmichael, taking third place with 33, the San Francisco Bay area was able to boast a monopoly on pass receiving honors never before concentrated in such a small area.

Rule Would Restrict Pro Grid Runners

PHILADELPHIA — Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League, has urged a rule to prohibit pro ball carriers from getting up and running after they have been tackled or knocked down.

Bell advocated the rule Monday as he opened an investigation into charges by the Los Angeles Rams that Don Joyce of the Baltimore Colts struck Ram linebacker Les Richter with a helmet last Saturday.

The commissioner said his proposal would prevent rough play and piling on.

"I want to see a rule written in where the ball is dead at the spot where the carrier or ball touches the ground," Bell said, adding, "Now the carrier is allowed to run if he is not in the grasp of an opponent."

Dr. Danny Fortmann, Rams' physician, said 15 stitches were required to close a wound over Richter's right eye after last Saturday's game which the Colts won 22-21.

Bell said Joyce will be punished if the evidence is sustained.

Joyce was ejected from the game when the head linesman and umpire called a foul on him at the same time.

Slugger Hinted Ready For Return To Bosox

NEW YORK — He didn't come right out and say so, but Boston Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey has given a strong hint that he thinks slugger Ted Williams may be back again with the team next season.

Williams said at the end of last season that he won't be back next year. At the moment he is on his way to Peru to indulge in a favorite sport, deep sea fishing.

Yawkey, here for the baseball meetings, said in reply to a query: "I'm leaving Ted alone for a while. Let him get his fill of fishing and other business this winter and then see what happens in the spring."

"I know if I were a betting man how I'd bet about Williams playing again. I'd like to see him. I'd be tickled if he comes back."

Baseball Trade Okay With Chicago Pitcher

PORTLAND — Pitcher Don Johnson says it's "OK with me" that the Chicago White Sox have traded him to the Baltimore Orioles.

Johnson was one of the players in a deal between the two American League clubs announced at the major leagues meeting in New York Monday.

Johnson, who works between seasons at a bookstore here, said he will be glad to be back with his former boss, Paul Richards, now general manager of the Orioles.

"When Richards moved to Baltimore," the pitcher said, "I said I hope I can go along but I certainly don't repeat stryzzsuzssee seasons at a bookstore here, said he will be glad to be back with his former boss, Paul Richards, now general manager of the Orioles."

"When Richards moved to Baltimore," the pitcher said, "I said I hope I can go along but I certainly never expected it."

Van Brocklin Tabbed Most Valuable Ram

LOS ANGELES — Quarterback Norm Van Brocklin was voted the most valuable player on the Los Angeles Rams at the Olde Rams annual banquet at the Moulin Rouge Monday night.

The secret ballot was by former Rams. Van Brocklin, gunning for his third National Football League passing championship in five seasons, was given the Warren Clements Memorial Trophy. The trophy is named for the late team trainer who died in 1951.

Left end Tom Fears was voted the most valuable lineman, succeeding Andy Robustelli, who won the award in 1952-53. Fullback Tank Younger was voted the outstanding back, succeeding Skeet Quillian, and Les Richter, former California All-American, was named the outstanding rookie in a close vote.

Milwaukee, Baltimore Aid Baseball Attendance

NEW YORK — Milwaukee and Baltimore, newest additions to major league baseball, helped the National and American Leagues to show attendance gains during 1954, officials said Tuesday.

The Milwaukee Braves had 2,131,386 for a National League record. The New York Yankees, who dropped 62,640 from 1953, led the American League with 1,475,171.

Fall From Roof Traps Boy Between Buildings

SPOKANE — An 11-year-old boy fell 20 feet from the roof of a shed and was wedged tightly in a six-inch gap between two buildings for an hour Sunday before two crews of firemen got him out.

Terry Walker escaped injury except for some cuts and bruises and a little lost dignity. The slide and the scramble to get him out took the seat out of his jeans.

Firemen said he was playing on the shed when he lost his balance and fell feet first. He came to an abrupt, light stop two feet off the ground. Companions called police. Firemen finally cut a hole in one of the buildings and pulled him through.
