Grocery Stores Don't

Need Milk Sales License

SALEM (AP) — Grocery stores don't have to get licenses to sell milk any more, the State Agriculture Department has emphasized. This type of license was issued by the Milk Marketing Office in Portland. This office was abolished by repeal of milk control at the general election.

The Department of Agriculture said that several stores have sent in money to get the milk sale licenses, and the department has no authority to accept it.

R. Brenon Held

In Abortion Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Roger Fred Brenon, 28, was held to answer on a charge of murder in abortion death of swimmer Virginia Hopkins Watson, 32.

She died of peritonitis 11 days after the surgery Nov. 18. Her husband, Arthur, said she insisted on the operation to avoid motherhood so she could play a movie role.

At Brenon's preliminary hearing Friday, Watson at first refused to testify on grounds it might incriminate him. A court order was obtained, forcing him to testify and guaranteeing him immunity.

Watson said Brenon sterilized instruments in the kitchen and "My wife asked me to leave them alone in the living room." Later his wife told him "Honey, write him a check for $150," Watson testified.

E. German Beauty Charged With Love Making To Get Secrets From U.S. Officers

BERLIN (AP) — An East German beauty was accused Saturday of delivering the U.S. Army's "Order of Battle" in Berlin to the Russians.

The charge was one of three drawn up against 30-year-old Irmgard Margarethe Schmidt, who allegedly made love to two high U.S. intelligence officers in Berlin to get the information.

The U.S. high commission said she would be arraigned here on three counts Tuesday.

The top secret "Order of Battle" details the identity, strength and deployment of U.S. troops in Soviet-surrounded Berlin.

Details of the case were outlined by the high commission as an aftermath of Friday's disclosure of the arrest and the intelligence links the voluptuous brunette engaged in the while working as a double agent for East and West.

The charges: (1) The girl transmitted details of U.S. military intelligence, and its "Order of Battle" in Berlin to the Russians over the past 18 months.

(2) She attempted to give to the Russians details of the entire intelligence operation of military and Air Force units here, the location of "operational houses" by agents, the identities of "sources," the method of training counter agents.

(3) She approached a German employee of intelligence and tried to obtain additional details from him.

The high commission refused to divulge the identities of the top-ranking officer and the civilian chief Miss Schraidi "dated" from time to time. A spokesman insisted that "no one has been disciplined" as a result of the case, and he contended the girl "did not succeed in obtaining any information through these contacts."

The spokesman said he was unable to reconcile this statement with the broad charges contained in the indictment that information actually was transmitted to the East.

On Mondays, beginning Jan. 3, a course in Measurement in Education will be offered, with Dr. John McAulay, professor of education, Southern Oregon College, as instructor. This is a study of the use and interpretation of informal and standardized tests as guidance in improvement of instruction in the elementary and secondary schools.

A class in Principles and Practices of Guidance Services also will be held on Mondays, with Dr. Loren E. Messenger, professor of psychology, Southern Oregon College, as instructor. Methods of assisting students with personal, educational and vocational problems are studied.

A third class on Monday, Biological Science Survey, will be offered, with Miss Mildred Ericson of the extension division as instructor.

On Tuesdays, Dr. Charles Deard of the division staff will teach a class in Reading in the Elementary School.

A class in Elementary School Supervision and Administration is scheduled for Wednesdays. Instructing will be Dr. Waldemar Odson, visiting associate professor of education at the University of Oregon.

On Thursdays, Dr. Glen Wright, acting chief psychologist at the Roseburg Veterans Hospital, will conduct a class in Abnormal Psychology. The class is limited to persons who attended the Douglas County teachers' workshop.

Brenon was released from prison only seven weeks ago after having served a 10-month term for an abortion conspiracy.

Defense Dept. Denies Giving Up Test Center

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles said Saturday it is "absolutely untrue" that the Defense Department is planning to close its guided missiles test center at White Sands, N.M.

Quarles, who has charge of research and development, was commenting on a published report that the department was preparing to abandon the center because of budget cuts and other reasons.
