

Bad Check Passer Moved By Christmas Spirit

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Edward F. Parker told police the Christmas atmosphere of this Washington, D.C., suburb was just too much for him. The Yuletide spirit moved him, he said, to come into headquarters and surrender this week, telling officers he was wanted for passing bad checks at Las Cruces, N.M. Police report they are holding him for New Mexico authorities.

Young People Decorate Glide Church Rooms

By MRS. ARTHUR SELBY

The young people of the Glide Baptist Church spent last Saturday decorating the large Christmas tree given by Arthur M. Selby. The church was also decorated throughout with greens and large pine cones. When the decorations were completed, refreshments were served.

Minister Surprised

Sunday at the Glide Baptist Church, when the Rev. Karl Faulkner had mounted the pulpit, the ushers carried in a large chair and placed it by the Christmas tree and handed the Rev. Mr. Faulkner the card from the chair, a gift from the many friends of the

Faith Lutheran Church To Present Carols

The Faith Lutheran Church Choir will present a Christmas song service at the church Wednesday evening, in festive worship of the holiday season.

The choir will present such well known Christmas selections as "Lo, How A Rose," a 13th Century German carol; "Vigil," and "O Holy Night." Mrs. Robert Kent will be heard in the solo, "Jesu Bambino." The congregation will join in singing Christmas carols. At the close of the service, the Scandinavian custom of coffee service will be observed. The members and friends of the church are invited to attend the service and are urged to bring guests.

Melrose Family Expects Son Home After Jan. 1

By NETTIE WOODRUFF

Mrs. Clifford Wood of Callahan Trail, who is convalescing from major surgery, reports that her son, Glen, will arrive here around the first of the year. He is attending sea school aboard the USS Philippine Sea, which will dock in San Diego then.

He will fly to Seattle for a short visit with friends and will then come to Callahan to spend the rest of his leave with his parents and his brothers.

Mrs. Wood states that another son, Dick, is in Korea and is driving heavy equipment.

Attend Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Youngren and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tjomsland left early Friday morning for Vancouver where they were met by Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Matthews. The party went to Winlock, Wash., to attend the funeral of the late Oscar Burnett. Mrs. Burnett is a sister of Mrs. Youngren. Mrs. Tjomsland and K. L. Matthews. The Youngrens returned home Saturday and the Tjomslands accompanied O. O. Matthews home Sunday. Mrs. Matthews is remaining with her daughter awhile.

Mrs. Dorothy Loman and two sons recently moved from Melrose back to their home in Lower Garden Valley. They have resided at Melrose for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Trusty and daughters left early Saturday morning for Phoenix, Ariz., where they will visit over the holidays. The former's mother is caring for their home while they are away. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Doerner made a business trip to Corvallis Friday. They returned home that evening.

Vanity Fair

Notable for sleek, siren beauty—the Little Leopard at-home pajamas in Vanity Fair's magnificent nylon tricot—printed in leopard spots and leopard colors. The top: dramatic décolletage front and back. The piped and tapered trousers (so slim-making) have a cummerbund of crisp taffette to whittle your waist to a minimum. A joy to launder, they dry already pressed.
