Vote Held Likely On Governor's Taxation Plan

By PAUL W. HARVEY JR. SALEM — Possibility that the Oregon Legislature's tax program would be referred to the people at a special election next spring loomed large Thursday, after presiding officers of both houses took a dim view of Gov. Paul Patterson's tax recommendations. Senate President Elmo Smith and House Speaker Edward A. Geary today opposed the governor's plan to raise $30,000,000 in the next biennium by removing the federal tax deduction in figuring state income taxes. They also said they fear the effect of levying a state property tax to raise another $30,000,000. Smith and Geary added that they didn't know if these or different proposals would be passed by the Legislature. But they agreed it is likely that whatever tax the Legislature votes will be referred to the people at a special election to be held soon after the Legislature adjourns. If the people then reject new taxes, the Legislature would come

Defendants Held Not Liable In Damage Action

By MERLE F. PUGH

A 2½-day trial came to an abrupt and dramatic end in Douglas County Circuit Court Wednesday afternoon when a jury of eight women and four men returned a verdict after less than 30 minutes of deliberation.

The President set out the administration's military manpower program in two special messages to the lawmakers, saying the measures he proposed would give this country the "proper military posture" for the first time in peace-time. On pay, he proposed increases only for men willing to serve longer than a minimum time, saying it is necessary to maintain "the experienced hard core of a modern fighting force."

The verdict in the big damage action was unanimously in favor of the defendants. The plaintiff, Wallace B. Spurgeon of Drain, sought $50,000 general and $1,937.50 special damages for injuries received in a fatal accident. The mishap occurred about five miles west of Reedsport on Highway 38 on Oct. 3, 1952.

School Board At Oakland Accepts Resignations Of Both Cummings And Akey

By GEORGE CASTILLO
City Editor, News-Review
Nobody envied the three-man Oakland school board Wednesday night as it listened to a cross-section of public opinion for 1½ hours before announcing a decision.

Calling for a "selective" rise, Eisenhower said there should be no increase for officers in the first three years of their service and none in the first two years for enlisted men. This would mean no pay raise for two-year draftees or for young reserve officers putting in only their obligated time. The President said the aggregate increase he proposed would

Named defendants were a truck driver, Ray Roth, and the truck owner, Daniel D. Santry, both of Olympia, Wash. Spurgeon was a passenger in a car which collided with a truck and trailer driven by Roth. The car turned upside down and burned, and another passenger, Stanley W. Wallace, was killed.

By accepting both resignations, the board created a problem of finding two new men but cleared up what it apparently viewed as dissension in the administrative ranks. The decision was one of two the board had. It could also have kept one man and accepted the resignation of the other. A third possibility was blocked when Supl. Cummings said both men could not stay. The board had asked both to remain.

Reports published abroad that a U.S. destroyer fired on Chinese Communist planes Tuesday 80 miles south of the Tachens were discounted by Capt. Albert Kilmartin, U. S. embassy naval attaché.

The case hinged on the question of whether Roth was responsible for the accident. Defense attorney Robert G. Davis contended the driver of the car, Chester E. Miller, was negligent, that the truck trailer did not cross the center

It took a shot of tear gas to subdue Earl Chandler and Kenneth W. Wilson after they had (1) Torn out plumbing; (2) shredded three mattresses and (3) started to beat out the concrete from around their jail cell. Riddle officers told Mrs. Erma Best, News-Review correspondent.

Moose had the little girl all dolled up in yellow dress, yellow hat and yellow coat as a Navy transport landed him back on home soil. The baby's big brown eyes sparkled. She's a cutie.

Members of the Coos and Douglas County Public Welfare Depts. held a joint session in Roseburg this week to discuss staff development.

The pair was arrested by Leon Wilburn, special officer, Tuesday night. Wilburn had to call in Officer Kenneth Hunt during the fracas, and Hunt tossed tear gas into the cell to quiet the prisoners. They were removed to the county jail in Roseburg, then returned Wednesday to Riddle Municipal Court. Judge Ruth Gelling penalized them on each of three counts — disorderly conduct, being drunk on a public street and malicious destruction of property — when they pleaded guilty.

She slept through landings and takeoffs, he said. Donahoe and Roni Marie arrived here well fixed for diapers, which had been his main concern as he sweated out weather delays and missed connections on the flight home from Athens.

Philosophy Of Lifelong Adventurer Told To Knife And Fork Clubbers

By LAURA OLSON
Staff Writer, News-Review
The individual armed with a smile, humility, imagination and personality is the real adventurer in the world today, according to Sydney R. Montague.

Montague was guest speaker before 225 Umpqua Valley Knife and Fork Club members Wednesday evening. The former member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police force entertained his attentive audience for 75 minutes with his philosophy of lifelong adventure.

SALEM — Increased state taxes on pari-mutuel betting will be proposed by Rep. Richard E. Groener, Milwaukie, he announced Thursday.

Interspersing his pertinent remarks concerning the world today and its inhabitants with rib-tickling asides, the author-lecturer termed adventure "the art of living... and living this very moment."

His definition of the true adventurer was based on the four major "weapons" used by the mounties. Weakest of all weapons, he said, was the gun.

The average tax in Oregon is 4.9 per cent, he said, and he would raise this to 6 per cent. Oregon's tax is 3 per cent of the first $66,000 of the daily pari-mutuel handle, 4 per cent up to $133,000, 5 per cent up to $200,000 and 6 per cent over $200,000.

The adventure of living "isn't killing or being killed," he continued. Montague said he was not "anti" anything. "I would much rather plant good seeds than dig out weeds. We have experts doing it today (digging the weeds)," he added.

His definition of the great secret of life and success centered around the matter of expression. "If you want to be a success in any field, don't be afraid to make an error," he continued. "If you make an error, you've tried."

Groener said the average is 5.1 per cent in Washington, California, and 8.5 in Florida.

Security, he believed, was of the heart, not of things. "What a man gives away is his forever," he continued.

On-The-Spot Investigation To Be Made

Costa Ricans Report One Of Rebel Leaders Has Been Captured

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica — A five-nation commission arrived in a U.S. Air Force plane from Panama Thursday to conduct an on-the-spot investigation of spreading warfare in Costa Rica.

A short time later the army command announced the capture of Carlos Lara Hine and said he was one of the "rebel leaders" who started the uprising at Villa Quesada that set off the warfare on Tuesday.

The announcement said he was captured uninjured in fierce fighting Wednesday at Rio Pepe, a town near Villa Quesada. The announcement gave no details on Lara's background. It added that large supplies of ammunition, including seven Browning machineguns and many Mauser rifles, were seized from retreating rebel forces.

The announcement said the rebels abandoned one of their dead at Rio Pepe. In addition to Lara, "many" other rebels were captured, including two seriously wounded.

A news airport guard gave a trigger happy welcome to a U.S. Air Force transport plane that arrived in advance of the commission from the Organization of American States.

Arrival of the commission in another U.S. Air Force plane from Panama a short time later was without incident. But a single shot
