

Budget Board Gives Study To Custodians Need

Discussion over an additional $6,000 for employment of more custodians highlighted Wednesday night's meeting of the Roseburg School District Budget Board, now in the midst of setting up the 1955-56 budget.

Tentatively, the $6,000 for 2 1/2 salaries has been approved. The request by Supt. of Plant Guy Davis would raise the output for custodians from the present 136,700 to slightly more than 135,000.

Davis explained the new men would be needed in the new Huerfano Elementary School, recently approved by voters, and at Joseph Lane Junior High School, where additions are to be built.

Discussion was over the date of possible completion of the Huerfano School. The school may not be completed until about Jan. 1, so would be available for only half of the budget year.

Other items were approved in the general control and operation of plant schedules.

The salary schedule of administrators (principal, etc.) taken up, having been postponed to the next meeting of the budget group on Feb. 8.

Only one item was cut in general control from estimates presented to the committee. That was for elections and publicity, sliced from $1,600 to $1,050.

Three elections. That figure, though, is tentative.

Coast Guard Cutter Rescues Plane Crew

NEW YORK (AP)—All hands were safe today aboard a Coast Guard cutter which had raced to a radio-guided rendezvous with a military plane forced to ditch into the stormy Atlantic more than 800 miles east of Bermuda.

Rain slashed into a running sea a couple of hours before darkness yesterday when the cutter Coos Bay contacted a four-engine military Air Transport Service C54 with six crewmen and two passengers aboard.

The pilot of the plane, bound from the Azores to Bermuda, shortly before had radioed the U.S. Air Force base at Bermuda that he was running out of fuel 1,000 miles east of that island, bucking vicious headwinds and had no hope of reaching land.

The 311-foot Coos Bay, on mid-ocean patrol and itself battling 13-foot waves and 40-knot winds, was informed.

The vessel changed course and guided the pilot in its direction by radio. The race against storm and gathering darkness was on.

Federal Parolee Admits Murder

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP)—A federal parolee who told officers "my conscience has about run me crazy" Thursday confessed to the rape slaying of the pretty wife of an Air Force sergeant, Sheriff M. J. Daffin said.

The officer said George Lowell Everett, 20, employee of a Dothan, Ala., electrical contractor, signed a 40-page statement admitting he stabbed, strangled and raped blonde Mrs. Lou Ellen Jones, 21, Jan. 18 when she returned home unexpectedly while he was seeking to rifle the house.

Everett was arrested Wednesday at Dothan and brought back to Florida. Daffin said he was placed in an undisclosed jail as a precautionary measure.

The arrest capped one of the most intensive investigations ever conducted in this northwest Florida area. Officers, working around the clock, had questioned hundreds of persons.

Dynamite Laden Man Unhurt By Severe Blow

SWEET HOME (AP)—A flying piece of wood hit Jim Womack, 34, right in the pocket when he had just put a stick of dynamite. This bowled him over, but the dynamite didn't go off. Experts say it rarely does explode from a blow, although it does occasionally because it contains sensitive nitroglycerine.

Womack had to go to a hospital, however, with a severe bruise. A powderman for a logging operation 25 miles east of Foster, Womack was hit when a cable was pulled taut suddenly and sent a 10-pound block of wood flying.

Style Show Tonight To Benefit Polio Fund

A style show featuring sewing creations designed by girls of the freshman class at Roseburg High School will be presented Thursday evening at the high school. The show will be held at 7:30 in the library, according to Byron Auer, class president.

The style show is being given for the benefit of the March of Dimes. A "modest" admission price will be charged, Auer said. Included in the program will be a talk by Miss Helen-Curtis, nurse for Judy Bellows.

BENEFIT DINNER

A benefit dinner for the March of Dimes will be served Friday night from 5 to 7, preceding the Douglas High School basketball game between the high school faculty and administrators and the varsity team. The dinner will be held at the high school. It is being given by the students.

TOASTMASTER

Dr. O. Meredith Wilson, president of the University of Oregon, will act as toastmaster in the Sunday evening dinner which will open the annual Religious Emphasis week on the University of Oregon campus Jan. 30.

Housing Proves Problem For Oregon Legislators

lords at least aren't being very appreciative of this sacrifice when they try to bleed the last remaining money from the invading horde.

I can't say that the higher rent is entirely unjustified because there have, no doubt, been many times when legislative residents have been inclined to cut loose on the matter of entertaining and rather relaxed living with resulting damage to property. Also the very transiency of their residence makes it difficult for landlords. But it seems too bad to punish the poor solid citizen along with the buffaloes.

Most of the lobbyists and many legislators are living in hotels and I am assured that there is a blanket raise in hotel rooms during the session.

Our experience was such that out of desperation we found ourselves renting two houses the first month and paying out more money than our source of financial support would earn during his entire stay of several months in Salem for that one month's rent of two inadequate houses.

Enough of complaining—we are all sheltered and fairly comfortable, and being a displaced person could be lots worse.

Road To Toketee To Be Improved In Two Months

WASHINGTON (AP)—The worst travel problems will be over in about two months for residents of Toketee Falls, Ore., the Bureau of Public Roads Wednesday advised Rep. Ellsworth (R-Ore).

Several residents complained to Ellsworth about delays encountered in driving along the road between Toketee Falls and Roseburg because of construction work.

Ellsworth, who passed the project along to the bureau, made public a reply in which the bureau said it expects the 3,000-foot section of road which is causing the difficulty to be completed in about two months.

The bureau said the project is located "in a narrow precipitous canyon along the river with overhanging cliffs and it is impossible to make heavy rock excavations without closing short sections of the road for intermittent periods."

It said the contractor has been directed to schedule work a week in advance so motorists can know of the planned closings and to adjust schedules as much as possible to avoid periods of traffic delay.

Arrest Follows Speeding Chase

A Roseburg man, stopped in his car south of Roseburg by city police after a 109-mile-per-hour chase, Wednesday night was booked for reckless driving.

He is Robert Boyd Rhodes, 222 W. First Ave., N., who was freed after posting $75 bail. He is to appear before Municipal Judge Randolph Slocum's traffic court next Wednesday night.

Officers said Rhodes passed a patrol car on South Stephens Street at about 1:3 p.m. The patrol car immediately gave chase and officers said Rhodes hit 90 miles per hour while still in the city limits.

He was hitting between 80 and 90 when he left the city limits, police charge, and the patrol car's speedometer read 100 before the chase ended. Police said they had the siren blowing and red lights on during the entire chase.

Rhodes, the arresting officer said, explained he saw no one on the street, so saw no reason to drive slowly.

Two Minor Accidents Reported In Roseburg

Two minor accidents were investigated Wednesday by Roseburg police. No injuries were reported.

Roy Becker, 32, Glide, a log truck driver, was cited for following too closely in traffic in the afternoon when his truck hit the rear of a car driven by Dale D. Dyer, 22, Alameda Trailer Court.

Dyer's car was shoved into the rear of one operated by Martha Sinclair, 922 Brook St. The trunk and rear fenders were smashed to the extent of $200, officers estimated. The accident occurred on Stephens St.

A county-owned dump truck and an automobile were involved in the second collision. Officers said George Crist, 44, of 115 Clover Lane, tried to pass stopped line of traffic on the right at Stephens and Washington streets. He drove into the side of the truck, driven by Bernard Maliszewski, Rt. 3 Box 1510. Officers issued no citations.

LUNCHEON SPEAKER

President O. Meredith Wilson will be the luncheon speaker at the annual University of Oregon Dad's Day here Feb. 5.

"Viva la Papa" is the theme for this year's weekend which attracts students' dads from Oregon and out-of-state communities. Dad's President, Gordon Wilson, Portland, will preside at the Oregon Dad's Club's annual business meeting Saturday afternoon.

NON-SUPPORT CHARGED

Another man indicted for non-support has been returned to Roseburg to face the charge. He is James Bradford, returned here Wednesday from Yreka, Calif., by a deputy sheriff.

Sheriff Cal Baird said two other men are being held in Washington and California on similar charges. They are Edward Nicholas, Jr., at Geays Harbor and Lloyd James Veach, at Los Angeles.

Youth Will Get Another Chance Under Probation

An 18-year-old Myrtle Creek youth will get a second chance to live up to probation granted on a prison term, but he will have a change in environment.

Robert Keith Reymann appeared before Circuit Judge Carl E. Wimberly Wednesday for possible revocation of probation after it was charged he failed to live up to rules set for him last December.

The judge decided to give the boy another chance, transferring the probation to California. The youth's father, George J. Reymann, had asked officers that the boy be allowed to live with an aunt at Gardena, Calif.

Young Reymann denied he was guilty of recent charges brought by police. He denied knowledge of a stolen motor found in the garage of his home, and claimed officers picked him up without just cause for picking Reymann up on several occasions lately, but agreed to let the boy take a bus ride to California.

Judge Wimberly advised the boy to get a haircut ("That draketail is a badge of some of these gangs around here") and to toe the mark in California.

Reymann was granted probation on a one-year term Dec. 8 after pleading guilty to a charge of receiving stolen property.

Eisenhower Would Take Full Responsibility

question whether Chinese Nationalist Leader Chiang Kai-Shek might be able to pull the United States into a war with Red China, and possibly with Russia, if the administration's resolution is adopted.

Further, Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore.) expressed some concern in Senate debate over the attitude of Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Morse said he admired Radford but that Radford had been an advocate of "preventive war."

Eisenhower met at the White House Thursday with the National Security Council, the government's top security unit.

After that session the President held another meeting with Secretary of Defense Wilson, Deputy Secretary Anderson, Secretary of the Army Stevens, Secretary of the Air Force Talbot, Secretary of the Navy Thomas, and Adm. Radford.

Other representatives of the Joint chiefs group also were present.

Roseburg Men Will Leave For Desert Uranium Country

Three Roseburg men are expected to leave Monday for the bleak vastnesses of the Utah desert.

They will join a fourth of nine partners in quest of uranium riches under the banner of the UCAN Uranium Mining and Prospecting Co.

The three are President Oscar L. Hunnicutt, Vice President Ted Schultz and George Kuhn. They will join Rudy Harness, also of Roseburg, at Hanksville, Utah. Most of their 122 claims are located within a 20-mile radius of the town.

These four and a hired bulldozer operator will then begin working the claims which spread over 2,440 acres around Hanksville. Their base of operations will be a house trailer. The men's families will remain in Roseburg.

The men have already completed the first phase of operations, discovering so-called "hot spots" that set geiger scintillators doing a jig. Claims were staked around these areas. Now the men must discover the sources of the radio activity. Then, they will turn to the heavy work of determining commercial worth of deposits and even heavier work of mining the ore.

One of the men, George Kuhn, who has made two trips there, Tuesday painted a rugged picture of the area in which they will work.

The inconvenience of the jagged waste has been compounded by the influx of other uranium hunters, he said. "The only way you can get housing is to bring your own," he related. Besides that, he said, the nearest hospital and doctor are

Two Glendale Residents Suffer From Injuries

Accidents plagued Glendale residents Wednesday.

Ted Wells, employee of the Dollar & Patterson Mill, was injured late in the afternoon when a saw broke as he worked nearby, according to Mrs. G. B. Fox, News-Review correspondent. Pieces of the saw struck Wells in the right leg and thigh.

He was taken to the Forest Glen Hospital, Canyonville, by National Hospital Ambulance and treated for an eight-inch laceration on his leg, Mrs. Fox said. Wells is employed as an off-bearer on the head rig at the mill. He was reported in good condition at his home Thursday.

And young Gary Suttch cut himself with an axe. Mrs. Fox said Gary stayed home from grade school with a cold. During the day he accidentally cut two fingers. He was reported in good condition at his home, following treatment at the Glendale Clinic.

55 miles away. Despite the hardships, Kuhn is an example of the uranium fever which has touched the men in the company. He sold a business which he had built up for the past eight years to devote full time to the uranium project. (See other story)

He and the other nine men formed the corporation about eight months ago. The corporation is licensed both in Oregon and in Utah. Some of the men will stay in Roseburg to handle business ends of the corporation here. The other four will serve as a striking force.

Now, Douglas County will be watching with interest the activity of its local contingent of the 1955 "uranium rush."

U Of O Education Dean Is Featured Speaker

Dr. Paul B. Jacobson, dean of the University of Oregon school of education, will be the featured speaker tonight at a meeting of Douglas County school board members and administrators.

About 150 board members and administrators have been invited to a dinner meeting at Fullerton School, Roseburg, starting at 6:30 p.m.

Eugene Fisher, chairman of District 10, Oregon School Board Assn., called the meeting. Discussion will be held on the possibility of forming a county school board association. Fisher is also chairman of the Elkton board.

Jacobson will talk on the growth of the OSBA, its legislative program and proposals for amending the basic school support formula.

safe apparently had not been opened. Adams said an adjoining dressing room had possibly been ransacked also.

In the house during the night were Rubenstein's mother, Stella, 78; his aunt, Genia Forrester, 82; Morter, the butler; Katherine Petko, the cook; and Isabella Hughes, a parlor maid.

Rubenstein, a master of many languages and possessor of a continental manner, bought the mansion at a time when real estate prices were low and furnished it lavishly.

CLERK ON TRIP

County Clerk Charles Doerner went to Salem today for a meeting of the legislative committee of the Oregon Assn. of County Clerks. He expects to return to Roseburg Friday.

Problems Facing Oregon Schools Aired At Meet

be improved. The association estimates $500,000,000 of Oregon's property is not on tax rolls. It suggests better training for the assessment personnel in many counties might be helpful.

The 17-year lag in school building brought by the depression has not been licked, Tinker said. To keep up with predicted future enrollment the OEA estimates about $175 million dollars must be spent in 1962. The figure does not include improvement features, Tinker added.

A 16-page brochure "Better Schools" has been prepared by the association. It explains cost of government to Oregonians and tells how the government is financed; indicates future needs; delves into the school finance problem; tells what is happening to the basic fund; says why OEA believes "we must invest more in our schools."

The association believes all state residents should be told the school need story. Each representative at the Roseburg meeting received a copy of the OEA brochure. It is the hope of OEA that they will tell the story to county residents.

The association is devoting $15,000 to the program, Tinker said. He illustrated a portion of his lecture with slides.

Robert Sabin, vice principal of Roseburg High School, chaired the meeting held at Carl's Haven.
