

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC as a hobby is practiced by a large number of professional residents of Douglas County, who have done much here in promoting interest in good music. The five appearing on today's society page need no introduction to Roseburg music lovers.

WILLIAM JELSKI, above left, played the clarinet in the Portland Symphony for a year and in Gershwin's Orchestra in New York City, before coming to Roseburg, where he has the Lewis Travel Service. He has taken an active part in music circles since coming to Roseburg.

ATTORNEY CHARLES WOODRICH, top right, was graduated from University of Chicago in Law, but he has enjoyed playing the trumpet as a hobby for a number of years. For several years, he played in various orchestras and bands and continues his hobby by participating in musical groups here.

WENDELL JOHNSON, who teaches instrumental music to beginners in band and teaches orchestra in both junior and senior high schools, is one of Roseburg's most outstanding violinists. He has done considerable symphony work and is interested in promoting symphony music here.

BOB ROBINS, lower left, gets much enjoyment in playing the kettle drums. He teaches chorus in the Roseburg schools and takes part in music groups since moving here to make his home.

MRS. LEON (MARTHA) MULKEY, lower right, has studied violin since she was 7. She studied 2 years under Rex Underwood at U. of O. on a scholarship. For the last 2½ years she has been employed by Ott-Ricketts Record Music Shop. She has been a teacher of violin for several years and is active in music circles here.
