Lead Ship Of Navy's First New Destroyers Soon Ready

WASHINGTON (AP)—The lead ship of the Navy's first new line of all-purpose destroyers since World War II will be unveiled this week with the launching of the USS Forrest P. Sherman.

The widow of Adm. Sherman, who was chief of naval operations at the time of his death in 1951, will christen the ship Feb. 5 at the yards of the Bath, Maine, iron works. The vessel has been designed as a prototype that can be reproduced rapidly by the hundreds if war comes.

Ten other destroyers of the new class are building, five at Bath and five at the Quincy, Mass., yards of the Bethlehem Steel Corp. The navy has described the new ships as "fast, flexible and potent."

Their speed, still a secret, will be more than the 35 knots of existing ships of this type. They will also be somewhat larger than the World War I 2,425-tonners, but little heavier, because aluminum alloys are being used for most of the superstructure.

Experts, including interior decorators and color scheme artists, worked to make the destroyers as habitable and comfortable as a 39-foot vessel can be while housing some 350 people. They will be air conditioned throughout. The galleys have been arranged so that the crews can get hot food and eat it on tables near the source of preparation. Recreational areas in the mess-rooms will be fitted out with chairs and writing desks.

Sleeping quarters have been moved around so that they are relatively free from noise, heat and vibration.

There will be perforated metal partitions between bunks, each of which will have individually controlled reading lights. In the wash-rooms, each man will have a private drawer.

Pilot Breaks No Bones In Drop Of 1,000 Feet

ELMENDORF AIR FORCE BASE, Alaska (AP)—Pvt. Stanley Melczak's parachute failed to open and he fell 1,000 feet—without breaking a bone.

He landed hard on his back in deep snow.

The 20-year-old paratrooper with the 11th Airborne Division was reported recovering at the Ft. Richardson hospital today.

Melczak, of Pittsburgh, Pa., jumped with other paratroopers over Taktetna during the Operation Snowbird maneuver Saturday.
