Federal Income Taxes Not Due Until April 15

By FRANK O'BRIEN

WASHINGTON — There's an air of quiet satisfaction at revenue service headquarters for an unusual reason: a lot of people apparently have not caught on to one provision of the new tax law. A number of taxpayers evidently think the income tax filing deadline is still March 15, as it was for 40 years. But the 1954 tax law moved the date to April 15, effective this year.

Since this change was widely publicized, the revenue service had glumly expected a dull January followed by a mounting crush of calls for help in making out returns during February, March and early April.

It just isn't developing that way. A headquarters telephone check of some major tax filing points today disclosed that business is as good this January as a year before — better in some places.

And a check of one long line of taxpayers waiting for advice in the Washington area disclosed that something like 80 to 90 per cent of the people in the line thought the income tax deadline was still March 15.

The revenue service is continuing last year's drive to give priority to returns calling for a refund.

Also, last year's program of giving an especially close look at returns calling for big refunds is being repeated. Officials never have said where they drew the line between "big" and "small" refunds, but it was reported to have been at or near $200 last year, with all refund claims over that amount being set aside for special scrutiny. The line may have been dropped to around $150 this year, but officials would neither confirm nor deny this report.

Morse Elected Honorary Demo

WASHINGTON — The Democratic Club of the District of Columbia has elected Sen. Morse of Oregon an honorary vice president.

But the Oregon senator, who bolted the Republican Party in 1952 to become an independent, wouldn't say whether he will run as a Democrat in 1956.

He did say, however, that he would not conduct a campaign which would embarrass Oregon's other senator, Democrat Richard L. Neuberger, "no matter what political coat I'm wearing."

Mrs. Morse and Neuberger also were elected honorary vice presidents in the organization and Neuberger was presented with a medalion as "The Son of the Year from Oregon."

Neuberger said he hoped that Morse would be a Democratic candidate in 1956 and added that Pacific Northwest public power development was the major task facing him and Morse. Their "big job" is to combat "falseness" and charges of "greenback socialism" in the public power field, Neuberger said.
