

Tiller Youngsters Suffer Accidents

By VIRGINIA BYRD
Several Tiller youngsters suffered accidents last week. Roxa Akers fell while skating outside the Tiller School and injured her arm. It was believed to be broken at first, but X-rays showed a bad sprain. She is wearing a sling. Injured Ankle

Leon Newman, a Tiller boy, jumped from one of the high monkey bars at school, witnesses report, and suffered torn ligaments in his ankle. He will reportedly be on crutches for six weeks.

Pattie Byrd, playing with her brother, Sid, and Jackie Brand on the side of the hill below the Brand home, suffered an accident which resulted in a bumped head, body bruises and sore muscles. A log rolled completely over her.

Young James McKenzie got sawdust in his eyes Tuesday evening and required a doctor's care.

Donnell Tumey, who was seriously burned several weeks ago is gradually improving. He is the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tumey.

Mrs. Arman Beaudet of Winchester is staying for a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Tony Brand. Mrs. Brand has been ill.

Students estimate that the population of the world was fairly stable at 500 million between the years 1 and 1200 A.D.

Savings Bonds Continue Steady Climb In Oregon

United States savings bonds continued their steady climb as a favored investment by Oregonians, who purchased $1,653,728 worth of them in February.

This is 15 per cent higher than sales in February 1954, which was regarded as an excellent month," said County Chairman George Luoma, in announcing Douglas County's sales of $76,350 worth of E and H Bonds last month.

February sales for Oregon a year ago amounted to $3,100,936. The steady increase of sales of savings bonds in the state reflects how strongly this type of risk-free investment appeals to those who value guaranteed savings. Sales for the first two months of 1955 are ahead of those of 1954 in 30 of Oregon's 36 counties.

The county chairman said that on the national scene the biggest cash sales of savings bonds in ten years reflects Oregon's record, with the excess of sales redemptions being higher than at any time during the past six years.

SALEM (AP) — Mrs. E. A. Gall, the 48-year-old Lebanon housewife whose husband was beaten last week, will be subpoenaed to appear Wednesday afternoon before the Public Means subcommittee on Public Welfare.

The committee said that her records are being subpoenaed, too. Mrs. Gall has said that her husband was beaten because she has been making statements that welfare money is being paid to persons who are not entitled to it.

She met her Monday with Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thornton.
