Humphrey Claims He Hasn't Learned Yalta Paper Leak

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said Wednesday the State Department has "utterly failed" to answer his request as to who "leaked" the long-secret Yalta papers March 15.

Humphrey said he will make a second and stronger demand to Secretary Dulles for information about the source who supplied the documents to The New York Times one day before they were officially made public. The Times has said its copy came from the State Department.

Humphrey said he had received from the State Department a reply which, he said, does not answer two questions he asked Dulles in a March 23 letter.

Humphrey declined in an interview to disclose actual contents of the letter, signed by Asst. Secretary Thurston Morton, but said he would do so when he is ready to send Dulles a second demand for clarification.

He said Morton's letter "utterly" fails to say who gave out the documents in advance.
