

Bill Gives Permission To Abolish Flax Plant

SALEM — Without a dissenting vote, the Senate Thursday approved a bill allowing the Board of Control to abolish the state prison flax plant if it fails to show a profit.

Prison flax production has been declining steadily, but there are indications of a revival of the flax industry in this state, Sen. John Merrifield, Portland, said.

Know Your Fire District, Advises Rural Firemen

Roseburg Rural Fire Department members Thursday cited a happening which they say could happen to many central Douglas County residents.

Twice Wednesday they received fire alarms from the J. R. Barrong residence, 22 Austin Road, in the Green Community. In both instances the calls came because excessive heat in the attic of the Barrong home had set off the individual alarm system in the house. The alarm goes off when it becomes too hot; and Wednesday was a hot day, relatively speaking.

National Guard Callout Likely In Phone Strike

ATLANTA — Gov. James E. Folsom may be asked to call out the Alabama National Guard to prevent further violence in the 26-day-old strike of Southern Bell Telephone Co. employees.

Sheriff Holt A. McDowell of Jefferson County (Birmingham) said he might make the request after a new outbreak of violence Thursday night.

Birmingham Police Chief G. L. Lett reported a 22 caliber bullet shattered a fourth floor window of a Birmingham telephone exchange while a jeering crowd of about 500 persons milled about the structure.

Twenty policemen and two companies of firemen rushed to the scene and the crowd gradually left. Eggs were hurled at the officers but no arrests were reported.

Fifty-seven Jefferson County sheriff's deputies and policemen guarded a Southern Bell warehouse at Bessemer, Ala., against threats to blockade its approach.

Under the bill, five of the nine board members could be graduates of the system, another two members could come from any one school in the system.

Brother, Sister Accuse Each Other Of Killing Woman

HOUSTON, Tex. — Houston police Friday said pretty Mrs. Evelyn Watson, 24, and her brother, Jimmie Lee Baker, 23, had accused each other of the slaying of a Baptist minister's widow.

The announcement came from Police Chief Jack Heard after a steady grilling by relays of police Thursday.

Meanwhile, the bewildered parents of the two young people Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Baker, said their son and daughter were eating hamburgers at Hemstead, Tex., at the time of the slaying.

Both have been charged with murder, with robbery as the motive.

Police Chief Heard said Mrs. Watson's statement relates that she and her brother were at the Quaries home the night Mrs. Lucille Quaries, 46, was slain.

He said the young mother of four children said that as she sat outside the house waiting for her brother, she heard a scuffle. She went inside to find her brother whipping Mrs. Quaries in the bathroom, Mrs. Watson stated. She said he was trying to pick something off the floor when she screamed:

"My God, what's happening."

In her statement, Heard said, she related that young Baker told her:

"Let's get out of here."

Baker Thursday accused his sister of the slaying, saying she beat the widow to death when the older woman would not tell where her money and valuables were hidden. Mrs. Watson at the time denied the charge and offered to take a lie detector test.

Powerful Atomic Bomb Test Again Postponed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Detonation of perhaps the most powerful atomic device of the 1955 series—a 400-foot tower shot — was postponed Friday at a 7 a.m. weather conference.

Conditions were not acceptable for the explosion, the Atomic Energy Commission said. Another conference will be held Friday night to determine if conditions are right Saturday.

The 400-foot tower blast is designed to test nuclear age logistics, which means the transportation of materials and men for battle.

As was the case Friday, the AEC will have a choice Saturday between the logistics test and another of a 300-foot tower. The latter, of lesser power, would be held at Yucca Flat at 1:30 a.m. and involve Air Force and Navy planes on indoctrination missions.

It also is contemplated that concrete and county fair activities will be held in the building.

The foundation of the building already is in place. Myers said construction will be let on contract.

Still under consideration is a budget for the county library which will be located in the new west wing of the courthouse, now under construction. A proposal to hire a county veterans' service officer also is under advisement of the budget committee.

Unintentional Libel Bill May Be Unconstitutional

SALEM — The House passed a bill to reduce damages for unintentional libel into reports Wednesday that it is unconstitutional.

At a Senate State and Federal Affairs Committee hearing, Sen. Philip B. Lowry, Medford; Carl H. Francis, Dayton; and Warren Gill Lebanon, said it violates the Constitution. All are lawyers.

The bill would limit damages for unintentional libel to the actual amount of damages, thus ruling out punitive damages. The publisher would have to publish a retraction.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Lloyd G. Hammett also said there is "extremely grave doubt" as to whether the bill is constitutional.

The bill, he said, would out the burden of proof on the plaintiff. Now this burden rests on the publisher.

Lowry, while sympathetic to the bill's aim, said the bill would unconstitutionally limit the right of an individual to have a complete remedy at law for injuries.

Tom Purcell, publisher of the Gresham Outlook, said publishers should be protected from "willy nilly" libel suits. He said small newspapers can't afford libel insurance.

Philip N. Bladine, editor of the McMinnville News Register, said a small paper could be driven into bankruptcy by an accidental libel.

Rep. George Layman, Newberg lawyer who introduced the bill, and Carl Webb, manager of the Oregon Newsman Publishers Assn., also testified for the bill.

hicle Division to the governor, license and regulate billboards, and to legalize the use of radar to car speeding motorists.

The House voted 39 to 16 for the Senate bill to repeal the 10-year-old law which requires the teaching of physical education and health in schools. The bill would let the school districts decide what P.E. and health programs they want.

A bill passed by the Senate and sent back to the House would make employees under the industrial accident program pay contributions of 2 cents a day each. They now pay one cent a day.

The extra cent would be used to pay pensions to widows and orphans of persons killed in industrial accidents.

The Senate withdrew the bill calling for study of the question for two more years.

Under the compact, the Northwest states would plan development of the resources of the Columbia Basin.

The House Education Committee agreed to ask for an interim committee to make a two-year study of school building problems. Meanwhile, the House committee will keep on working to find a solution to the building problems of distressed districts, which are mostly in Portland's suburban area.

Legislators Give Salary Pay Increase Quick Vote

SALEM — The Oregon House of Representatives gave speedy approval Wednesday to a proposed constitutional amendment to more than double their pay.

There were only three votes against the resolution, which goes to the Senate.

They now get $600 a year. The new proposal would give them $1,200 a year, plus $10 a day expense money for the first 90 days of a session.

Those who voted against the measure were Reps. Robert J. Jensen, Portland; E. H. Mann, Medford; and Thomas R. McClellan, Newberg.

The $600 annual pay has been in effect since 1950. Legislators now don't get any expense money.
