Returns To Salem — Miss Bertha Kohlhaugen left Saturday for her home in Salem following several days here, her former home. She is in charge of home economics education for the state of Oregon, and was guest speaker Wednesday night at the Future Homemakers banquet.

Early Job Training Topic At Banquet

The belief that a "young mind is often more able to get new ideas" was expressed by a Roseburg business man recently.

He was "Stub" Parker, owner of Parker Tireacac. Parker was guest speaker at the 26th annual trade and industrial education class banquet held Friday in the Hotel Umpqua.

A former T & I student himself while attending Roseburg High School, the speaker praised the program. He cited the benefits of early training in an occupation, adding that students are most receptive during high school and college age.

Parker attributes part of his own success to the T & I program. He deems it important, too, that he remained in his own community where he "received the training."

More than 125 persons turned out for the employee-employer banquet. The T & I students, some 26 of them, hosted their "bosses" and all appeared to have a fine time.

On hand also were representatives of the Dist 4 administration and school board. Guests were introduced by T & I coordinator Richard Boss.

Toastmaster for the banquet, which got underway at 7:30 p.m., was Bill Welt, a high school senior and apprenticed auto mechanic.

VACATION TRIP PLANNED

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pearce are leaving by automobile this week on a two-month vacation tour of the eastern, southern and middle-west states. In Missouri, where Mr. Pearce lived prior to locating in Roseburg 45 years ago, he and his wife will visit relatives and greet his old-time friends and acquaintances.

Mr. Pearce recently retired from the upholstery business in Roseburg after 25 years, following 20 years' operation of a harness shop. The upholstery shop has been taken over by Joseph Karper, employed by Mr. Pearce the last eight years.
