Sheppard Defense Says Blood Spot Wasn't Mariyn's

CLEVELAND (AP) — Defense attorneys argued Wednesday a jury would have acquitted Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard if it had heard technical testimony that a strange intruder left a drop of blood at the scene of Marilyn Sheppard's murder.

The Bay Village osteopath is seeking a new trial on a claim of newly discovered evidence. He was convicted Dec. 21 of slaying his pregnant wife last July 4 and is under life sentence.

In a hearing before the trial judge, Edward Blythin, the defense centered its drive for a new trial around an investigation conducted in January by Dr. Paul L. Kirk, professor of criminalistics at the University of California.

A week ago Dr. Kirk offered a 50-page affidavit. One of its principal points was that the victim bit her attacker's hand causing blood to flow. Dr. Kirk said a blood spot on a wardrobe door belonged to neither of the Sheppards.

The state replied with an affidavit by Dr. Roger W. Marsters, of University Hospitals here, who said the analytical methods used by Dr. Kirk made his conclusions "certainly unwarranted."

Dr. Kirk's affidavit conceded the spot was type "O" blood, the same as the type of the murdered woman's blood. But he said the specimen reacted differently in agglutination tests.

New Home Is Provided For Korean Orphan Girl

HOOD RIVER (AP) — A new home in this country is being provided for a Korean orphan by Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Clymer of Hood River.

The one-year-old girl, Marlita Vione, arrived in Seattle by plane Monday. The Clymers met her there.

They have reared three children of their own and when they heard of the plight of homeless Korean children from Dr. and Mrs. George Rue, missionaries for the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, they asked for one.

The Clymers have started adoption proceedings for the child.

Clymer operates a service station here. Both he and his wife are active in the Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

Declining Silver Revenues Offset From Oil Seen

YAKIMA (AP) — Declining silver mine revenues may soon be offset by Alberta oil well returns, Sunshine Mining Co., officials were told Tuesday.

They were informed, however, that nothing has developed or is in sight for profitable operations in the uranium field.

Robert M. Hardy Jr., son of the president of the company and newly-elected to the board of directors, reported at the annual meeting that returns from the Pembina oilfield in Alberta may reach the break-even point by the end of the year.

It had been anticipated that the company would be investing more than it was taking out of the field until the end of 1956.

Silver ore tonnage is about the same as last year but quality of the ore has dropped, it was reported, resulting in a probably 10 per cent decrease in revenues from that source.

The younger Hardy said prospecting for uranium has been conducted in the Colorado Plateau, Northern Washington, Montana and Canada.

"So far," he said, "we haven't found anything we felt could be mined at a profit. There are a lot of people who want to mine the public, not mine the ground, but Sunshine is interested only in getting the ore out."

The company president said he expected earnings to total approximately $225,000 or about 15 cents a share.

Hardy Jr. was the only new addition to the board of directors. He replaces his uncle, Frank Hardy, who resigned after serving since 1941.

Katharine Weiss Queen Of Pendleton Round-Up

PENDLETON (AP)—A 19-year-old Pendleton girl, described as a "real cowgirl," will be queen of the Pendleton Round-up next fall.

The Round-Up board of directors Tuesday night named Katharine Weiss, a princess at last year's show, as the 1955 queen.

The new queen won the cow riding contest last year at the John Day junior rodeo and is active in a local riding club. The annual Western event will be held Sept. 15-17.

NO LOWERED AGE

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California's 18-year-olds once again have lost their bid for voting privileges. The Assembly Committee on Constitutional Amendments turned down two proposals Monday to lower the voting age from 21 to 18.

Budget Could Be Balanced, Claims Herbert Hoover

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover said Wednesday the federal budget "could be balanced overnight" if the views of his commission on government reorganization were adopted in full.

Nearly 3,500 delegates to the 43rd annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commcerce applauded Hoover's words, but he warned them:

"Don't get too enthusiastic about the possibility of vanquishing the opposition."

The ex-President's economy plea was seconded by Sen. Byrd (D-Va) who told the businessmen's group that balance could be achieved in the year begining July 1 through a 4 per cent reduction in the budget proposed by President Eisenhower.

In his brief address, Hoover summarized the efforts of his 12-member commission to eliminate waste and overlaps in 1,400 government agencies and commissions. The problem is mountainous, he said, because of the "fabulous" growth of the executive branch, obsolete legislation, the "tenacity of government agencies to the idea that their empires are sacrosanct," and the efforts of pressure groups to "profit from the present setup."

Earlier, delegates were given an optimistic forecast of "buoyant" foreign trade in the next year for the United States and most of its free world partners.

Health Officer's Children To Get Salk Vaccination

PORTLAND (AP) — Dr. Harold M. Erickson, state health officer, in a statement Wednesday said that he and other public health leaders expect to have their own children vaccinated in the Salk anti-polio program.

His own four sons, Dr. Erickson said, are not eligible for the first and second grade inoculation program, but "I can assure you that just as soon as it is our turn for private supplies they shall receive this protection."

"State Board of Health employes here in Oregon," he continued, "plan to do the same with their children."

He issued his statement as an assurance to parents who are concerned because some children vaccinated with the Cutter Laboratories product have been stricken. The children of this state will receive Parke-Davis vaccine. Of that, Dr. Erickson said more than a million children have been inoculated with it this year and to date no polio cases have been reported among them.

ACTOR IN HOSPITAL

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Comedian Frank Fay, 58, has been admitted to Santa Monica Hospital and will undergo surgery for an undisclosed ailment probably next week.

The actor, who appeared in the play "Harvey" opposite an invisible 6-foot rabbit for more than five years in New York and on the road, entered the hospital Tuesday.
