

Scheele Target Of Critics For Vaccine Report

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service was under fire from two quarters today as Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele declared "We can go forward" now that the safety of antipolio vaccine production has been assured by stiffer standards.

Scheele's confident statement came at a news conference yesterday after publication of a lengthy "white paper" on a detailed review by the Health Service of the brief but troubled history of the Salk vaccine program.

The surgeon general conceded program "might have come closer to the line of safety" in the past. But he said he had no doubts about safety now.

In New York, Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, criticized the document, saying it "obviously gives only the public Health Service version of the vaccine situation to date."

In Philadelphia, H. W. Blades, executive vice president of Wyeth Inc., took strong exception to a statement by Dr. James A. Shannon, an associate director of the Health Service's National Institutes of Health. Shannon said yesterday one batch of vaccine made by Wyeth is being subjected to searching laboratory analysis, although he said there was not enough evidence to label that lot suspect. In his white paper, the Health Service said the circumstances of three polio cases had raised some question about the vaccine used.

Combustion Destroys Huge Grain Elevator

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—A massive grain elevator composed of 20 tanks 122 feet high collapsed here yesterday dumping some 600,000 bushels of grain to the ground with a noise that sounded like an explosion.

Completed only last August, the $390,000 Fargo Grain Terminal was the largest privately owned grain storage facility in North Dakota. All that remained today was a pile of shattered concrete, twisted steel and huge mounds of grain.

Joseph Eichinger, owner of the 600,000-bushel terminal, thought "some kind of combustion" caused the collapse.

The 600,000 bushels of spilled grain were estimated to be valued at about $1,200,000. About half of it was believed damaged beyond recovery.

Brakeman Knocks Boy Out Of Way Of Train

READING, Pa. (AP)—A powerful brakeman by a diesel locomotive sent two-year-old Billy Mattson sprawling Sunday and the feelings of the child's parents were not of anger but of gratitude.

Billy was walking along the tracks of the Reading Railroad in the path of a 40-car freight train, which hadn't enough time to brake.

Brakeman Aloysius A. Russell, 26, saw the boy from his seat in the cab of the locomotive. He raced out the walk on the outside of the engine and reached down and cuffed the boy clear of the train, and watched 10 cars pass over the spot where the boy had been walking. Both suffered only minor injuries.

Cowboy Style Breakfast Slated Last Day Of Rodeo

Steak or ground round, bacon, ham, eggs, hotcakes, biscuits, coffee, tomato juice and milk—these are the foods on the menu of the big cowboy breakfast at the 11th annual Douglas County Rodeo.

The breakfast will be held at the Fairgrounds pavilion from 7 to 11 a.m. on Sunday, June 19, the final day of the rodeo.

People turning out can have all they want to eat for $1.50. "No one has ever gone away hungry," adds Bill Tipton, president of the Douglas County Rodeo Assn., and the Douglas County Mounted, which, along with Roseburg Lions and Junior Chamber of Commerce, makes up the association.

Men and women of the Mounted will put on the breakfast, and preparations are already under way for the feed, which has become quite famous throughout the state in recent years. Mrs. Johnny Spencer is chairman.

Workers will turn out about 5 a.m. June 19 to start the breakfast, with serving beginning at 7. During the morning, members of the Buckaroo Square Dance Club will entertain eaters.

Tipton said he expects the biggest crowd in history for this year's breakfast, with people coming from all over Oregon to get in on the gourmet's delight.

Guaranteed Wage Plan Gets Assent Of GMC

reached an hour after the UAW settlement was announced. The electrical workers had threatened to join the auto workers in an strike action.

GM Vice President Harry W. Anderson, top company negotiator, listed these benefits in the agreement:

Guaranteed pay raises of 6 to 8 cents an hour for all employees in each of the next three years. An extra raise of at least 6 cents an hour for skilled workers.

Pension plan improvements to boost maximum pensions to more than $250 a month, including social security.

Elimination or reduction of wage inequities for 90,000 employees.

An extra half week vacation for employees with 10 years or more service.

One extra paid holiday a year.

Improvements in the hospital medical-insurance plan.

Other portions of the original GM settlement proposal rejected by the UAW were not among the settlement terms. These included an opportunity for employees to buy company stock at half price, an interest-free loan plan for laid-off workers, and separation pay.

Ford had also offered the stock-loan separation plan provisions but met with a UAW rejection.

Chrysler Corp. Next

DETROIT (AP)—President Walter P. Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers said Monday his union will make a guaranteed annual wage plan its No. 1 demand on Chrysler Corp.

But Reuther declined to say whether the UAW would make the same demand on the "Big Three" of the auto industry—American Motors, Studebaker-Packard and Kaiser.

Steel Union Raises Sights

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers this week will begin presenting demands for a "substantial" wage increase to 90 basic steel and one mining firms.

USW President David J. McDonald reportedly has said he wants more than "nickels and dimes" for the 600,000 union members in basic steel, who now average $2.33 hourly. Talks this year are confined to wages.

ike Gets Ribbing About Red Tape

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower got a good natured ribbing Saturday about government red tape.

It happened as he was inspecting Pennsylvania State University's new $312,000 atomic reactor. The tour was conducted by the chief executive's youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, the university president.

Eric Walker, dean of engineering, told the President the reactor is "unique because it is the first built entirely with private funds."

The uranium to operate it, however, is to be supplied by the Atomic Energy Commission.

"The uranium is not in the reactor yet," Walker explained, "but if we can cut through this government red tape . . ."

The remark touched off a burst of laughter in the group of university officials on hand, and the President grinned with a show of embarrassment.

"I must say," he declared, "I don't understand any delay in getting the fuel."

Oregon Legionnaires To Hear National Head

REDMOND (AP)—Officials announced Saturday that Seaborn Collins, national commander of the American Legion, will speak at the Oregon Department convention here July 27.

Others planning to attend the sessions: Gov. Paul Patterson; Dennis A. Sullivan, State Title national field service representative for the Legion; Rex Putnam, state superintendent of public instruction; J. D. # Political Action Director Denies Being Communist WASHINGTON (AP)—John J. Mullen, director of political action for the CIO Steelworkers Union, denied Saturday that he is or ever has been a member of the Communist Party.

The former mayor of Clairton, Pa., appeared before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee to answer testimony Friday by a former FBI undercover informant describing him as a Communist Party functionary.

"Are you now or have you ever been a member of the Communist Party," subcommittee counsel Richard Arens asked Mullen.

"Absolutely no," he replied.

Mullen then was asked if he ever had attended a Communist meeting.

He said that once in 1936 an organizer for the steelworkers offered to take him home to Clairton and then drove to a "yellow brick house in the hill section" of Pittsburgh, where the organizer said he had a "few friends I want you to meet."

Mullen testified that when he entered a hall in the building where approximately 200 persons were gathered, he noticed pictures of Stalin and other Soviet leaders on the wall.

After listening to the beginning of a speech, he said, he told the organizer he was going to leave. "I would take a cab if necessary. The two then left, he testified.

Gerety Given Job Of Running Hot Refugee Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pierce J. Gerety, general counsel of the Civil Service Commission, here has been given the hot spot job of running the refugee relief program.

The 41-year-old Bridgeport, Conn., lawyer was ushered into the assignment with some ceremony plainly intended to show high level administration backing for his efforts to get more steam into the bogged down program.

Secretary of State Dulles announced the appointment, then personally escorted Gerety to the White House to be introduced to President Eisenhower. Also in the group was Scott McLeod, State Department security chief whom the law makes over-all administrator of the law for admission of 214,000 refugees to the United States by the end of 1956.

The announcement said Gerety will serve under McLeod but will have "complete authority and responsibility for the operation of the refugee program."

McLeod's performance in the refugee relief job has been under fire from congressional proponents of a more liberal immigration policy. He was a chief target of bitter criticism voiced by Edward J. Corsi, prominent New York Republican who was ousted in April from a job carrying the same "deputy administrator" title now given to Gerety.

Russia Okays Geneva For Big Four Huddle

British, French and U. S. embassies.

Reporters were summoned to the Foreign Ministry for a reading of the contents of the note by Leonid F. Ilyichev, chief of the Ministry's press department.

When Ilyichev had finished, he said he wanted to read a Tass news agency statement commenting on Disarmament Forenoon.

It quoted the U. S. secretary of state as saying that he would bring up the problems of the countries of Eastern Europe and the activities of international communism. The Tass statement left no doubt that the Soviet Union would refuse to agree to this. It also quoted him as saying that the success of the Big Four parley at the summit would depend on whether the Soviet Union would refuse to agree to this. It also quoted him as saying that the success of the Big Four parley at the summit would depend on whether the Soviet Union was ready to manifest a "new constructive spirit."

Tass said qualified Soviet circles here were "treating the forthcoming conference of the heads of government from the notorious point of view of the position of strength and as if its success depended on the action of the Soviet government."

"This can only prove that his efforts aim not at facilitating the conference," Tass said, "but at creating handicaps for the aim of the conference, which is the relaxation of international tension."

At the news conference, the Soviet spokesman reiterated that the Russian intention in Big Four talks would be to "lessen international confidence among nations."

HONG KONG (AP)—An American Roman Catholic bishop who spent five years in detention in Red China Saturday contradicted Peiping claims that religious freedom exists under its rules.

Bishop Frederick Donaghy, New Bedford, Mass., told newsmen that Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai's statement at the recent Asian-African conference at Bandung, Indonesia, voicing this claim was "completely false."

The bishop, who crossed the border into Hong Kong Friday after being expelled from China, also declared that recent Peiping peace gestures are not genuine.

The 52-year-old prelate, who spent 25 years in China, was named bishop of Wuchow in 1933. He was arrested in 1950 and jailed on charges of possessing a revolver and a package of opium.
