

HAIR-RAISING—The wind was blowing in San Francisco and was impertinent enough to whip President Eisenhower's hair into approximation of an Indian topknot. He seems somewhat startled by it all.

SAVING GRACE—That's not a pack of cigarettes the comely model is holding in her left hand. It's a life preserver, like the one in her right hand. The new 3 1/4-inch by 2 1/4-inch lifesaver was recently demonstrated in Chicago. A squeeze breaks a carbon dioxide cartridge, which inflates a pair of two-foot wide plastic water wings. It is said it will support a 250-pound person in the water for more than 24 hours.

HAIL, THE NEW CHIEF—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor (right) arriving in Washington from Tokyo is greeted by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway (left), whom he will succeed as Army Chief of Staff. Looking on (center) is Army Secy. Robert Stevens, whose resignation was announced June 22. The little fellow is Matty Ridgway, 8, son of the retiring general.

Action Unlikely On Canyon Dam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Granted two extra days to file appeals, attorneys in the Hells Canyon case worked on final briefs Tuesday amid a growing belief the long-standing controversy won't be ended before Congress adjourns. Acting at the request of public power attorneys, the Federal Power Commission Monday extended until Wednesday the deadline for an appeal of an examiner's decision on the Idaho Power Co.'s application to build three dams on the Snake River in an area where a single federal dam has been proposed. The briefs were to have been filed Monday. Attorneys who requested the deadline extension also are expected to ask the FPC to postpone oral arguments scheduled for July 6. Meantime, a House interior subcommittee has moved back dates of a hearing on a bill to authorize a federal Hells Canyon dam from June 29-July 1 to July 11-14.

PRECIPITATION from now to mid-July will exceed seasonal normals in the western Mountain and Plateau states. Subnormal rainfall is expected over northeast quarter of nation.

SCIENCE, ILLUSTRATED—It happened at rural Obee School, near Hutchinson, Kans. Science teacher William Turner suggested that students bring animals to class so they could be discussed. Opportunity presented itself to Marjorie Sutton, left, Reta Burkitt, center, and Kathleen Edwards. Outside the school and trying to get in was a big yellow cat. A tomat, the girls thought. They brought it inside and put it in the cloakroom closet until time for science class. But when the girls went to get it, they found it was no tom—it was having kittens. Here the girls look over mama cat and the four newcomers. EXCLUSIVE NEA PHOTO.

Delay Looms In Social Security Law Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chances for early action on Democratic-sponsored changes in the social security system were dimmed here by the announcement of Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) that the Senate Finance Committee will insist on full hearings. Byrd said the Finance Committee "isn't going to act hastily" on the proposals to expand benefits for older women and disabled persons. With Congress aiming for a July 30 adjournment, full hearings might result in delaying Senate action on social security changes until next year. The proposals advanced by Democratic leaders in the House are being studied by the House Ways and Means Committee. Action there would precede Senate consideration of the measure.

Flames Sweep 10 Stories Of New Health Building

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fire early Tuesday swept 10 stories of the 15-million dollar Pitt Schools of Health & Professions building under construction adjacent to Presbyterian Hospital. Several explosions, apparently from gasoline, oil or some other highly inflammable substance — rocked the structure. All 225 patients of Presbyterian Hospital were evacuated safely.
