STATE PRESIDENT HONORED AT LODGE

The Glendale Mountaineer Rebekah Lodge held a special meeting recently honoring Edna Bradley of Clatskanie, state president of the Rebekah Assemblies of Oregon. In honor of her presence, the past Noble Grands Club served the guest and the officers a very delightful dinner. The table was decorated with roses, the president's chosen flower, and with paper blue birds, her chosen symbol for her term of office. Place cards and napkins carried out the lodge color.

Following the dinner, the president was introduced at a meeting of the lodge by sisters, Joyce Mill, Thelma Clark and Bess Bates. The president then introduced Leona McAllister as the district deputy she had appointed for the lodge. It was announced that the president's project for the Old Folks' Home is to be dining room furniture, toasters and a coffee urn. Five new candidates were initiated into the lodge: Carla Lee Davenport, Edith Martin, Mable Stapleton, Mildred B. Daniels and Gloria Jean Van Valkenberg. Mrs. Bradley thanked her hostess, Mae Basse, the lodge and the club of the lodge for the noble courtesies extended to her. Many Grand Jean Gaedecke introduced several visitors from the Riddle Lodge. The degree captain, Violet Caraway presented each one of the drill team a very lovely corsage of roses from her garden. In recognition of the honored guest, Mary Wright, accompanied by Esther Kafer, sang a solo.

It was announced that the Odd Fellows and Rebekah picnic would be held in the Glendale City Park during the month of August. A box social will be held Sept. 10. Following the meeting, refreshments were served in the dining room by the hostesses, Celia Thomas, Margaret Hill and Claudine Reasoner. The dining room was decorated with roses.

The lodge room was beautifully decorated with blue birds, and baskets of roses and delphiniums.
