

Logging Fatality Victim Former Athletic Star

BEAVERTON (AP)—Funeral services were held here Wednesday for Marvon H. "Red" Layton, 57, a football and track athlete at the University of Nebraska in the early 1920s, who was killed Monday in a logging accident.

Layton, felling a snag in the Tillamook burn under a state contract, was hit when the butt bounced and struck him.

He had lived in northwestern Oregon for the past dozen years and spent most of that time as a logging contractor.

His widow, Irene; his mother, two brothers and two sisters, all in Oregon survive.

Careless Smokers can cause this difference

You can join the fight to prevent forest fires by crushing out your cigarette ... and be sure it is out ... before you throw it away.

Then you know it can't possibly start a fire which may destroy thousands of trees and contribute to the annual $40,000,000 forest fire toll. This is important whether trees are large or small, for young seedlings are our forests of the future.

Keeping Oregon green is a task for all, for forests contributed greatly to our comfort and security!
