

A SUN VALLEY WEDDING that brought together sweethearts of 40 years ago was that of Mr. and Mrs. John Baumann, above. The bride is the former Mrs. Dorothy Robertson, a teacher in the Roseburg Schools. The bridegroom, a well-known Idaho outdoorsman and authority on the early history of Idaho, is the author of "Old Man Crow's Boy," and "Idaho Sprout." His new book, "Bitterroot Trapper," will soon be published. The romance, interrupted 40 years ago when Baumann went "Over There" in World War I, had its happy ending in a marriage ceremony performed by the Rev. Clyde L. Wilson at Trail Creek Cabin near the Union Pacific Sun Valley resort July 23. The bride, who was given in marriage by Barnett Jones of Ketchum, Idaho, had as her attendant, Mrs. Glenn Street, also of Ketchum. Fred Lease of Sun Valley was best man. A sentimental touch at the wedding was the bride's gift to the bridegroom, her tiny gold locket in which she has kept his picture all these years. The ceremony was followed by a beautifully arranged buffet supper for the wedding party and 30 guests. After their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Baumann will make their home in Roseburg. THE CADE-THOMPSON wedding party is pictured above. Nancy Lee Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swezy, Yoncalla, became the bride of Jerry Cade, of Drain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powell, of Yoncalla, in a double ring ceremony of July 15 at the Yoncalla Methodist Church. The Rev. R. W. Knight, performed the ceremony by candlelight in the presence of 150 guests. (Picture by Clark's Studio, Cottage Grove).

Miss Nancy Lee Thompson of Yoncalla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swezy, became the bride of Jerry Cade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powell, of Yoncalla, at a double ring ceremony Friday evening, July 15, at the Yoncalla Methodist Church.

A candlelight service was held. Tall candelabra on each side of the altar held pink and white tapers, and were twined with greenery and pink roses. Baskets of pink roses, Madonna Lilies and white daisies were used on the chancel of the church. The pews were decorated with garlands of pink roses and streamers of white satin ribbon. The Rev. R. W. Knight, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of one hundred and fifty guests.

The beautiful dark haired bride was given in marriage by her father. She was dressed in a white wedding gown, tulle length, made with a fitted bodice and long tight sleeves. The gown was made with a sweetheart neck line, and the back was fashioned with a large bustle effect made from the satin material. Her three quarter length veil was held in place with a small white head piece. Her only ornament was a single string of pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and streamers of white satin ribbon, knotted with stephenotis. Miss Mary Thompson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a tulle length gown of lavender tulle with a net overskirt. She carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations with long satin ribbon streamers. Mrs. Torrey Wise and Mrs. Charles Hughes were bridesmaids. Mrs. Wise wore a pink satin formal gown with a net overskirt, and a nosegay of pink and white carnations and silver streamers. Mrs. Hughes wore a pale blue tulle dress with a net overskirt, and carried pink and white carnations and silver streamers.

Bill East was best man, and Everett Swazy, brother of the bride, and Ronney Powell, brother of the bridegroom, were ushers. Miss Junice Meier had charge of the guest book.

Little Judy Powell, sister of the bridegroom, in pink net over tulle, and Linda Lee Williams, of Drain, wearing a blue tulle dress with net overskirt, lighted the candles.

The bride's mother wore a dark blue street dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a flowered afternoon dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Les Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Tim Ellis on the organ, sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Always." Mrs. Ellis also played the wedding marches.

A reception was held in the recreation room of the church immediately following the ceremony. The serving table was covered with a white linen cloth, and held a beautifully decorated wedding cake decorated with pink roses and wedding bells. The cake, punch and coffee were served by Mrs. Les Smith, Mrs. Bill Topping, Mrs. Eldon Lee and Mrs. Paul Allen.

The happy couple left following the reception for a short honeymoon to Grants Pass. On returning home Mr. and Mrs. Cade will make their home in Drain. The bride chose a pink suit with white accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet for her going away costume.

Mrs. Cade is a popular Yoncalla girl, having graduated from Yoncalla High School with the class of 1954. She has been employed in Yoncalla since her graduation. The bridegroom is employed in the Drain Black Sox baseball team.
