

Proposal Made To Hold Some Of Potato Crop

PORTLAND — A proposal that 30 per cent of the new potato crop be held from the market in all producing states will be made by the Oregon delegation to the National Potato Council.

An Oregon spokesman said the recommendation would be made to the council, meeting in Chicago this week, as a means to lower the potato surplus and bolster a falling market.

If the proposal is not approved, some growers may have to dump their entire crops, Ray Snabel of Powell Butte, chairman of the committee administering the federal potato marketing agreement in five Oregon and two California counties, said.

The Washington State marketing agreement committee recently recommended withholding from the market No. 2 grade and small size No. 1 grade potatoes. Snabel said he is in favor of this plan.

The July 15 price for Oregon and Washington potatoes was 83 cents a hundred, the lowest on that date since 1913.
