

Army Puts Into Effect New Reserve Training Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army today put into effect one phase of the new reserve training program and announced it will be ready soon with others, including the enlistment of men 17-18½ years old for six months training.

The over-all program, which Congress cut down from President Eisenhower's requests, envisions creation of a strong and active reserve to supplement regular forces. Reserves are to be built up over a period of years to 2,900,000 men from the present 800,000.

The Army said it will accept immediate six-year enlistments directly into the reserve by men who have not yet been ordered to report for induction under the draft.

Each man accepted must serve two years on active duty, the first in the ready reserve for three years and serve one year in the standby reserve—the same time as if he were drafted—but will have a choice of when he will serve his two years of active duty.

The Army said that it will be ready to start accepting enlistments for the short-term reserve training program forces the "immediate" program officials have said will probably begin Oct. 1.

The six months of active training must be followed up by 7½

Glide Minister Ordered To Take Two Weeks' Rest

The Rev. Mr. Karl Faulkner, pastor of the Glide Baptist Church, has been ordered by his physician to rest quietly for about two weeks, according to Mrs. Arthur Selby, News-Review correspondent.

The reason for the rest is due to a recurrence of a leg infection resulting from an injury received eight years ago while he was helping build the church parsonage.

The Rev. Mr. Robert Casebeer will conduct the Sunday services. The film "Danger Trial" will be shown at the evening services.

CRASH VICTIM IMPROVING
Guy S. Cunningham Jr., 25, Winston, was reported recovering satisfactorily at Community Hospital today. He received head cuts and a broken knee cap in an accident Thursday morning on Highway 99 when his car struck the rear of a pickup driven by Clarence Myers of Camas Valley. In an earlier story of the accident, the positions of the vehicles were unintentionally reversed. It was reported Myers' vehicle hit the other.

Camera fans often are annoyed by spots showing in their pictures. "Print spotting" is a manual technique by which such blemishes are eliminated through matching through their surroundings.

While many methods can be used, the procedure here described here gives excellent results with little experience. The few materials required include a drawing pencil (HB hardness) sharpened to a needle point, some Clorox, a small pointed red sable brush, spotting colors, and cotton.

Dark spots should be removed first. Apply a drop of Clorox to the spot with a brush, let it stand a few seconds, and then soak it up with moistened cotton. The longer the solution remains on the spot, the more it is lightened. If lightened too much, it can be darkened in a later operation.

With the pencil, start in the lightest area of the print, just barely touching the spots with a "netting" stroke. Slightly increasing pressure, work up to the middle tones. If too much lead is applied, it can be rubbed down with the finger.

Spotting color is used in the darker areas. The brush is wetted and pointed between the lips, and some of the color is picked up and applied to the spot, a heavy application being used in the darker areas. With glossy paper, spotting color should be used in place of pencil.

Many improvements can be made in a picture after the shutter is tripped. One of our interests in publishing these articles is to make public such information—often little known. This interest lives not just weekly in this column, but always at

Talent Search For County Fair Program Now On

A county-wide call for talent to compete in the biggest and richest talent show in Douglas County's history has been issued by county fair manager Dick Turley.

The third annual county fair talent show will begin Aug. 26 at 7:30 p.m. Preliminaries will continue at 4 p.m. on the 27th with approximately 25 acts qualifying for the semi-finals that evening. The five survivors of the semi-finals will compete in the finals at 7:00 p.m. on the 28th.

Fair officials are offering $400 in cash prizes and local merchants are giving away $2,000 in merchandise awards to contestants. Every entrant in the show will receive an award, with 20 persons receiving cash prizes. First prize is worth $100. The second place winner will get $50, and $25 goes to the third highest finisher.

Chick Ricketts, of the sponsoring Ott and Ricketts Music Store, stressed that talent of every type is wanted. Contestants will be placed in five separate categories which will not compete against each other until the finale. He pointed out there is no age limit and no entry fee is required. Judges will be local townspeople, not professional musicians. Ricketts noted.

Prospective entrants can get entry blanks at the Ott-Ricketts store in Roseburg. The deadline for entering is midnight, Aug. 23.

Last year Ed Winters, a Roseburg singer, was the winner in a field of 66 participants. In 1953, Robina Bailey took first place.

Chemical Corn Exchange Bank Successful Bidder

Chemical Corn Exchange Bank of New York was successful bidder for $602,000 temporary notes issued by the Housing Authority of Douglas County.

This was the report today from Charles Dosdoro, administrator. He said the award was made at a premium of $6 with an interest rate of 1.55 per cent.

Dosdoro explained money from sale of bonds will be used to retire notes for construction already completed in the county by the authority. He said the bid was almost 1 per cent below the government interest rate of 2½ per cent. Sale of bonds to private concerns has become the policy of the authority, he said, because of savings over the government interest rate.

Dosdoro also reported the 14-unit Readsport low-rent housing project has been completed and the contract accepted. He said all units have been filled.

Sunday Deadline For Arts Exhibits At County Fair

A reminder that all entries in the textiles, arts and hobbies departments at the 1955 Douglas County Fair must be entered by Sunday at 6 p.m. was issued today by Manager Dick Turley.

He said entries could be mailed to Box 750, Roseburg, or could be made in person at the fair office in the new Community Building.

Entries may be made either Saturday or Sunday, "preferably Sunday," Turley said.

All work must be entered in the name of the artist or maker, be original and must have been completed within the last two years. It can not have been entered at a previous Douglas County Fair.

For additional information, interested persons may call textile superintendent Mrs. Archie Ferguson, Dava Creek; general arts superintendent Mrs. Jack West, fine arts superintendent Mrs. Earl Wiley; photography superintendent Mrs. Norris Jewell; ceramics superintendent Mrs. Harry Bruening; miscellaneous arts superintendent Mrs. W. Frank Brown; or hobbies superintendent Elgin Lester, all of Roseburg.

Argentine Guard At Church Fired On By Assailants

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The 10th shoot-and-run attack on Argentine police posted at Roman Catholic churches occurred early Friday when unknown assailants opened fire on guards at the Church of St. Bartholomew in suburban Buenos Aires.

The gunman circled the church in a small car and opened fire when the guards ordered them to halt. The shots missed. The police returned the fire, then tried to pursue the fleeing car in a taxi but the attackers escaped.

Argentine Catholic churches have been guarded by police since mobs set fire to several after the June 16 revolt against President Juan D. Peron's government.

On July 30 a police guard at the Church of the Apostle James was shot and killed. Since then there have been nine more such attacks. None of the culprits has been caught.

Argentine's Senate has authorized President Juan Peron to delay action on the explosive issue of separating church and state even as the government renewed its dispute with Catholic leaders.

The Senate put its stamp last night on the government bill which already has cleared the lower house. If Peron signs it, election of a constitutional assembly to sever the church's official ties with the state could be held off until next May. The original law called for an election before Nov. 23.

Chicago Gunman Is Apprehended In Gun Battle

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's greatest manhunt since the days of gangster John Dillinger ended last night with a 26-year-old cop killer begging: "Don't shoot. Don't shoot."

Despite the plea, ex-convict Richard Carpenter fought his captors to the end, though unarmed. He wrestled with policemen who dragged him out of a tear-gas-filled third-floor apartment.

"No doubt about it. He was driven out by tear gas. The apartment was just loaded with it," said Detective Edward Zuley, 40, one of the first policemen to grab Carpenter. Zuley said the fugitive, who in July a 72-hour period killed one policeman, critically wounded another and terrorized a family for 23 hours, made an apparent gesture of surrender by sticking both hands out through an open door.

The detective said he grabbed one outstretched hand. Patrolman John Kennedy, 34, grabbed the other. Together they yanked Carpenter into a narrow hallway.

The two policemen, aided by several other officers, wrestled Carpenter to the floor, escaped a steady stream of gunfire and tear gas shells pouring into the apartment. No gun of Carpenter's was found in the apartment.

Kennedy said the slightly built gunman, described by his mother as harboring a passionate hatred for policemen, battled fiercely when handcuffed. Carpenter was not wounded by police bullets.

Sen. Neuberger Challenges GOP To Adopt Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore.) today challenged the Republicans in Congress to try to put into effect next year controversial recommendations of the Hoover Commission on Government Reorganization.

Neuberger noted in an interview that several Republican senators had come to the defense of former President Herbert Hoover and the commission he headed, after the Democratic Digest earlier this week strongly criticized the group. Controversy has been raging ever since.

"The proof of the pudding will be in the eating," said the Oregon senator.

"Will the Republican party follow the Hoover Commission recommendations to raise power rates at Bonneville (Bonneville Power Administration) and in the Tennessee Valley Authority area?"

"Will the Republicans abandon out fine postal savings system, as the Hoover Commission suggested?"

"These and other of the commission's recommendations are against the public interest. If the Republicans are so outraged at criticism of the Hoover Commission, let's wait and see what the Republicans do next year about its recommendations in the field of government policy."

The Oregon senator said he believed the net result would be "zero."

President Drops Bars On Newsmen

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—President Eisenhower lowers the privacy bars a bit at his Rocky Mountain vacation ranch here today to provide a look at a relaxed kind of presidential life.

He invited newsmen, accompanying him from Washington and the Denver Summer White House, to visit the ranch for a glimpse of how he and his 7-year-old grandson David have been spending their time here.

Up until today the press has been barred from the President's secluded retreat. The President has not left the ranch since he arrived Tuesday afternoon from Denver, and newsmen have had to depend almost entirely on White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty for reports.

Those reports have been on a variety of activities — trout fishing, golf practice, pistol target shooting, work on an oil painting, cooking — and the official government business which always must be handled where a president is.

Jury Says Man Guilty Of Drunk Driving Charge

James William Pollard, 45, Winchester, was found guilty of drunk driving by a district court jury Thursday afternoon, but his attorney immediately gave oral notice the verdict will be appealed.

A jury of four women and two men deliberated about an hour before returning the verdict before Judge Warren A. Woodruff.

The judge imposed a 10-day sentence and $700 fine, then set bail of $500 on Pollard while the appeal pends. Pollard was arrested by a state police officer on July 7.

Guilty Plea Entered To Drunken Driving

A plea of guilty to a charge of operating a car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor was entered in Roseburg municipal court Wednesday by Delcena Fay Garrison, 1440½ Cedar St.

Mrs. Garrison was fined $125 and sentenced to five days in County Jail by Municipal Judge Randolph Stearns. She was arrested Tuesday evening by city police.

Senator Geddes To Make Air Trip To Florida Base

State Sen. Paul E. Geddes of Roseburg will fly from Seattle Monday on a civilian orientation cruise to Pensacola, Fla., Naval Air Station.

The cruise, sponsored by the Navy Dept., will involve 12 men from Oregon, 12 from Washington and another group from Kansas.

Such a cruise is conducted once a month by the Navy for the purpose of familiarizing representative citizens with the functions, conduct and problems of the Naval Air Reserve Command.

The flights are made at no additional expense to the government, the Navy states, because flights are made for routine training anyway. Each person on the trip pays his own subsistence and quarters costs.

While in Florida, the civilians will spend one day aboard an aircraft carrier in the Gulf of Mexico. On the carrier, they will observe cadet training, have a complete tour of the ship, and see a simulated jet attack, fire fighting operations, sea rescue work, etc.

Others from Oregon scheduled to make the trip are Everett Faber of Madras; television station KREZ; State Rep. Lloyd Haynes of Grants Pass; State Rep. Rod McKenzie of Curry County; Tom Hoover of television station KTVI, Tillamook; State Sen. Lowell Stiles of Umatilla County; John Goss, Portland attorney; State Rep. Orval Eaton of Astoria; State Rep. John Hounsell of Hood River; Frank J. Quinlan, Portland realtor, and Ray Carr, Portland public relations and advertising man.

The group will fly back to Seattle Thursday night.

One Man Draws Prison Term; 4 On Probation

Judge Wimberly granted probation under usual terms and told Powell he must not get married without the probation officer's permission.

Dist. Atty. Robert M. Stults brought out that Powell had permission from the girl's parents to marry her when the couple left central Oregon, but had failed to do so. Powell has been married and has three children. The judge granted probation on condition Powell support his children, instead of taking a new wife, he must first about supporting his children first, the judge told the defendant.

Father Of Four
Rose was given one year for non-support. The father of four was told he has a moral and legal responsibility to take care of his children. After Stults revealed Rose's wife had been drawing $155 per month welfare aid, Judge Wimberly said, "That's got to stop."

It was also brought out at the arraignment that Rose was already on probation on a one-year term for passing a bad check. When he learned he was wanted for non-support and for possible probation revocation, he turned himself in. He promised to get a job and support his family.

Support Demanded
Lapham, who has fallen behind in $100-per-month payments, was told he could continue on probation if he makes every possible effort to support his two children.

"I want you to support your children so I won't have to pay it myself, along with other taxpayers," the judge told Lapham. The defendant said he would return to work at Grants Pass, and he promised to give a close account of his earnings to the probation officer. Lapham was in court last week, but his case was taken under advisement at that time.

The case of Miller also was under advisement after he appeared in court Monday and pleaded guilty to taking and using an automobile without consent of the owner. He was granted probation after the judge handed down a one-year term.

Lt. Erwin's Case Hinges On Duress While Prisoner

FT. LEWIS, Mo. (AP)—The outcome of the court martial of Lt. Jefferson Erwin on charges of collaboration while a prisoner of war in Korea apparently will hinge on the court's judgment whether Erwin acted under duress, a court aide explained Friday.

With final defense and prosecution statements made Thursday, the court's law officer was called on Friday to give the nine-man trial board his instruction, including a definition of duress. The law officer acts in the capacity of a civilian judge.

Then the court will take the case to decide if the 38-year-old former Blanchard, Okla., career soldier is guilty of any one or all of the charges and specifications, including that he made disloyal statements and gave aid and comfort to the enemy while a POW in 1951.

If the court finds him guilty, the aide explained, it will listen to any extenuating circumstances the defense may offer. It will then retire to decide the sentence. A guilty verdict will automatically be appealed. If Erwin is found innocent, the case ends.

Conviction could bring a maximum penalty of life imprisonment, dismissal from the service and forfeiture of all pay and allowances. The prosecution asked, however, only that Erwin be dismissed from the service.

22 Persons Die As Storm Lashes Eastern Coast

around Hazleton probably was the highest ever recorded during a 28-hour span. It measured 11.1 inches.

The Weather Bureau reported severe flooding along the entire length of the Delaware, which extended from New York, through Eastern Pennsylvania and into a good portion of New Jersey.

Crest stages were reported about the same or slightly higher than the great flood of 1903. Tamaqua, incidentally, hadn't had a flood in 32 years.

The Delaware crested at 25 feet at Port Jervis, N.Y., breaking a dike along the bank. It was 38 feet at Easton, Pa., and 23 feet in Western New Jersey where the stage was reported at eight feet above flood stage and still rising before noon.

Hundreds of roads and bridges were washed out, isolating many communities and stranding thousands of motorists. Trains, too, were stopped by the rising tide.

In Port Jervis, busy summer vacation resort in the Poconos County, about 1,200 persons were evacuated from their homes. Mayor James E. Cole declared a state of emergency and placed civil defense plans into effect.

The two-day storm deluged Western Massachusetts and Connecticut. Here, too, towns were isolated.

Two Tracts Of Timber To Be Put Up For Bids

Two tracts of timber in the Umpqua National Forest will be up for bids at the office of the forest supervisor in the Roseburg Post Office building at 2 p.m. Sept. 6.

One tract, approximately 28 acres, is estimated to be 225,000 board feet of Douglas fir, and 99,000 board feet of Western hemlock and other sawtimber. The other tract, of approximately 35 acres, is estimated to be 550,000 board feet of Douglas fir and pine and 150,000 board feet of Western hemlock and other species.

President Orders Tariff Rise On Bicycle Imports

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—President Eisenhower Friday ordered an immediate 50 per cent tariff hike on all imported bicycles to protect American producers from "serious injury."

In announcing the action, the President's vacation headquarters here indicated it might raise the wholesale cost of imported models in the United States by from $1 to $3 if foreign manufacturers add the duty increase to their selling price.

STORMS HIT JAPAN

SAPPORO, Japan (AP)—More torrential rains fell throughout central Hokkaido Friday and the toll from flash floods mounted to nine killed and three missing.

Thousands of houses have been flooded, destroyed or washed away and thousands of acres inundated on Hokkaido, Japan's northern island.

School Openings Set Back To Aid In Bean Picking

Bean growers in northern Douglas County received welcome word this week.

School board members in Yoncalla, Elkton and Drain moved to delay opening of the institutions to enable students to help growers harvest their crops. L. C. Bueck, Drain, said the move was greatly appreciated.

He said Yoncalla and Elkton schools would open Sept. 12. The Drain schools will start three days later on Sept. 15.

Bueck said the boards set back the opening of the schools to encourage more growers to raise beans. He anticipated like moves next year.

The bean crop will not be harvested until around Sept. 17, Bueck said. Some 35 acres are being picked this year. The 1955 crop will probably take in 60 acres, he said. Beans grown in the northern part of the county are blue lake, FM 1, which Bueck termed "an improved variety."

A boost to the growers has been given by two Drain business firms. The Drain Supply Store and Randall & Pfister, as a public service, are providing a bus to transport youthful pickers to Bueck's field. He said about 35-40 are brought to his field daily in this manner. About 130 persons are working in Bueck's 13½ acres of beans.

The service by the Drain men was started this week.

Roseburg Lumber Company Story Movie Is Shown

A color movie, "The Roseburg Lumber Co. Story," was shown to members of Roseburg Rotary Club at a regular Thursday noon meeting in the Hotel Umpqua.

The sound film shows the complete operation of the huge company, from the felling of a tree to the shipment of lumber and plywood.

Bob Tripodi of the company showed the movie and pointed out that it also will be sent east for showing at various places.

In speaking of the size of the company, Tripodi pointed out that it has an annual payroll in excess of four million dollars, and 1,100 people are employed at Dillard plants, alone.

Three years ago when he came to Roseburg, Tripodi said the payroll was about two million dollars.

Tripodi mentioned the importance public relations work is becoming for the firm, one of the largest in the area of the world's timber center. Company owner Kenneth Ford is a member of Rotary.

Tripodi was introduced by Bill Carstens, program chairman. President Harold Hoyt presided.

Bean growers in northern Douglas County received welcome word this week.

School board members in Yoncalla, Elkton and Drain moved to delay opening of the institutions to enable students to help growers harvest their crops. L. C. Bueck, Drain, said the move was greatly appreciated.

He said Yoncalla and Elkton schools would open Sept. 12. The Drain schools will start three days later on Sept. 15.

Bueck said the boards set back the opening of the schools to encourage more growers to raise beans. He anticipated like moves next year.

The bean crop will not be harvested until around Sept. 17, Bueck said. Some 35 acres are being picked this year. The 1955 crop will probably take in 60 acres, he said. Beans grown in the northern part of the county are blue lake, FM 1, which Bueck termed "an improved variety."

A boost to the growers has been given by two Drain business firms. The Drain Supply Store and Randall & Pfister, as a public service, are providing a bus to transport youthful pickers to Bueck's field. He said about 35-40 are brought to his field daily in this manner. About 130 persons are working in Bueck's 13½ acres of beans.

The service by the Drain men was started this week.
