Dillard Family Has Share Of Recent Sickness

By ROSA HEINBACH

The Ormond Dawson family have had their share of illness during the past month. It started July 1st when two-year-old Scott fell and cracked his shoulder bone and was placed in a cast.

July 11, Ormond "Butch" Dawson was taken to the Douglas Community Hospital for treatment of a badly sprained back which occurred while he was working at the Southern Oregon Sealing Bureau on Little River.

While he was still in the hospital it became necessary to take six-year-old Beekie Lee to the Doernbecher Hospital in Portland for medical observation for an unusual muscular disturbance.

Mrs. Dawson and three children, Kitty, Scott and Cindy have been spending the past 10 days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Meyers, in Toulie, Wash., while Beekie is in the hospital. Since their return home Sunday Mrs. Dawson reports that Beekie will be in the hospital for another two weeks.
