

Liquor Rationing Ended In Sweden After 36 Years

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—After 36 long and frustrating years, beer and liquor rationing ended today in Sweden.

But observers in a position to know say it will be just another Saturday night. Thirst for any big celebration were quenched some months ago, they claim, by the government's gradual easing of rationing.

And if it's just a run-of-the-mill Saturday night, a great many Swedes will be hoisting one or two or more as usual. That's why rationing was called off. It didn't help.

Sweden has never tried prohibition, but the theory behind its rationing system was that strict control and a maze of red tape would discourage buyers. A six-year official investigation disclosed, however, that making it legally difficult to drink does not necessarily curb drinking.

Last year 43,600,000 quarts of liquor were consumed in this country of slightly more than seven million population. Alcohol consumption per capita has dropped 50 per cent, however, in the last 100 years.

The only public places where liquor can be sold by the drink are restaurants. There still will be no bars or saloons with the end of rationing.

Many Swedes were looking forward to a more powerful beer that now goes on the market, rather than just to acquiring more whisky and schnapps. Beer for Swedish consumption has been restricted to a 2.5 per cent alcohol content. Swedish breweries have for years turned out a product with more kick in it for export.

Hypnotism Test Backed Against $100,000 Stake

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A University of Southern California freshman coed will get $100,000 from the National Broadcasting Co. next Friday if she can break out of a hypnosis induced by Arthur Allen.

Pat Morris, 19-year-old daughter of an aircraft executive, will be under escort until next Friday, when she will appear on Jack Bailey's "Truth or Consequences" show as a subject for hypnotist Allen.

He will suggest to her subconscious mind that she cannot rise from a chair. There will be $100,000 in cash before her. All she has to do is get up and take the money.

The program is NBC's answer to Columbia Broadcasting System's "The $64,000 Question."

Miss Morris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Morris of Brentwood, a suburb of Los Angeles. Morris is vice president of an airplane firm in Torrance, Calif.

For the next week Miss Morris will be required to live at a hotel in downtown Los Angeles. Her constant companion will be Miss Betty Goody, president of the Hollywood Women's Press Club. Miss Morris will not receive any telephone calls or talk with anyone until she goes to the studio in Hollywood next Friday.

On the TV program, $100,000 in large denomination bills will be placed on a table before her. She will be instructed by the hypnotist NOT to pick up the money as she is placed in a sleep.

The girl was selected for the program from a group of students at a Trojan football rally.

Class In Biology See Rattler Bite Teacher

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Cecil McGirr, 45-year-old high school biology teacher, suffered two bites on the left index finger Friday while teaching his class how to handle a rattlesnake.

"I don't know about my students, but I learned a good lesson," the teacher said. "When you are handling a poisonous reptile, always keep your attention on the loaded end."

McGirr's left arm was blackened and swollen from hand to shoulder. His condition was given as satisfactory.
