Utah Governor Receives Backing On Tax Pay Balk

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The post card from Monroe, La., to Gov. J. Bracken Lee reads: "Two, four, six, but — 'We want a tax cut — 'Seven, eight, nine, ten — 'We want to know when — 'We don't want no hem or haw — 'We're for the governor of Utah." The Louisiana doggerel was among more than 500 letters and cards piled across the desk today of Harold W. Simpson, Lee's administrative assistant. Lee is a Republican. Simpson said all but four letters praised Lee's statement he will not pay all his income tax next year, hoping to prod the government into a suit in which he can challenge the constitutionality of using income tax funds for foreign aid. "These letters would surprise a lot of politicians," said Simpson. "Judging from them, I believe a nationwide referendum would go against continuing foreign aid."

EX-PRESIDENT DIES
MEXICO CITY (AP)—Manuel Avila Camacho, 58, president of Mexico from 1940 to 1946, died Thursday of a heart ailment at his ranch near the capital. The wartime president only recently had left the Mexico City Heart Institute after treatment.

Demo Chairman Morgan Blasts Avelil Harriman

Tammany Hall money to support Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee in "bitter primary fights with Stevenson in the hope of hurting both. Harriman will remain aloof from these contests... and the eastern bosses will try to sweep up the pieces and hand them to Harriman at the convention."

Both DeSapio and Harriman's press secretary were quoted by the newspaper as saying "Morgan's views were 'ridiculous.'" Oregon's Democratic national committee, Monroe Sweetland, said Morgan was not speaking for the party. "Those of us supporting Gov. Stevenson have been most anxious to avoid in 1956 the scars from primary contests which damaged us in November 1952."

However, said Sweetland, "any of the three leading Democrats—Stevenson, Kefauver or Harriman—would be vastly preferable among Americans generally over Nixon, Republican hopeful."

DeSapio, reached by telephone at San Francisco, was quoted as saying of Morgan's letter, "I never heard of anything so ridiculous in my life coming from a supposed leader of the Democratic Party. He must be either a member or an associate of the Republican Party. He could be a Trojan horse for all we know."

The newspaper said DeSapio commented he had never heard of Morgan before.

Charles Van Devander, Harriman's press secretary in Albany, was quoted as saying, "Not only completely untrue, but utterly ridiculous."

Lumber Grading Rules Charge Is Proposed
PORTLAND (AP)—Lumber grading rules that would substitute names for numbers and fake note of the future increase in second growth use, will be presented to a series of lumbermen's meetings starting here Thursday. The changes, expected to be adopted, will be the first of consequence for many years. They will be presented at district meetings of the West Coast Lumbermen's Ass'n., extending from Everett to Los Angeles. While largely technical, the public will be aware of the changes through use of such grade designations as "construction," "utility," "frat" and the like.

Eastland, Jenner Hint Impeachment Over Jury Mike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.) and Jenner (R-Ind.) left a hint of possible impeachment proceedings Friday in the wake of an investigation into the "savesdropping" on jury deliberations as part of a research project.

They proposed turning over a transcript of the hearings to the House Judiciary Committee. This committee would consider any impeachment resolution that might be offered and make recommendations to the House.

Eastland and Jenner said they thought their own Senate internal security subcommittee, "being a part of the Senate could not properly inquire into the official conduct of a federal judge."

Any impeachment proceeding must originate in the House, although it would be tried in the Senate. Eastland declined however to say whether that was what he and Jenner were hinting at or to elaborate in any way on their statement. It did not refer directly to impeachment.

They called also for legislation "to provide severe punishment" for any such future "invading the privacy of the jury room." A hearing transcript might be useful to a committee considering such legislation.

A University of Chicago research team made recordings of jury proceedings in May 1954 in five or six civil cases in a federal court in Wichita, Kan., presided over by Dist. Judge Delmas Hill. The team placed hidden microphones in the jury room, without letting the jurors know.

Witnesses testified that Judge Hill and Chief Judge Orin Phillips of the 10th Judicial Circuit, embracing Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Kansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, had authorized the recordings under careful safeguards.

ALLAN G. THOMPSON... honored by military

A Roseburg man, Allan G. Thompson, 1445 E. Second Ave. S., is one of 27 students in Army ROTC training honored at Oregon State College. He has been designated a "distinguished military student."

The student in forestry has received the highest award given fourth year students who are in advanced Army reserve officer training. Thompson is training as an artillery officer.

He may now apply for regular Army commission instead of the usual reserve commissions given college students who complete the advanced ROTC program.

Bus, Streetcar Operators Defy Executive Order

ST. LOUIS (AP)—AFL bus and streetcar operators, who had defied orders of Gov. Phil M. Donnelly and requests of their leaders to end a crippling strike, voted almost unanimously Friday to return to their jobs.

The standing vote was taken after a mass meeting with union leaders that lasted about 90 minutes. Although there was no official word from the union operators reported they were returning to work Friday.

Arthur East, union president, urged both the operators to return to work.

East said it probably would be Saturday before Friday's agreement could be resumed but said partial service would be restored Friday.

The union is faced with one court suit and the threat of other legal action for the strike which began Tuesday.

The operators vote Wednesday to defy the governor's order in return to work by shouting down recommendations of their union officers.

McCarthy Ends Testimony With Jibe At Pusey

BOSTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) concluded his testimony Thursday in the contempt of Congress trial of Leon J. Kamin, former Harvard research aide, with a denunciation of Harvard president Nathan A. Pusey.

McCarthy declared from the witness chair: "I have no respect for a man who will harbor Fifth Amendment Communists... I think a man who does this should not be a college president. Pusey should be exposed. An educational institution which harbors Communists should be exposed."

The Wisconsin Republican said his first contact with Pusey came in 1952 "during my campaign, and I've had no particular love for the man since."

Pusey, then president of Lawrence College in Appleton, Wis., had opposed McCarthy when he successfully sought re-election to the Senate.

Coca-Cola Plant Installs Big Bottle Equipment

Installation of equipment to handle the new family-size bottle of Coca-Cola has been installed at the plant of the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., in Roseburg.

Ernest Unrath, president of the local company, distributor for this area, reports that introduction of the bigger bottle necessitated purchase and installation of strapping and capping machinery designed for the larger size.

Addition of the family-size bottle is the first new Coca-Cola package in 40 years, Unrath reports.

Freedom Fight Depends On Economy, Says Morse

"Turning Points" in History
A member of the Senate's foreign relations committee, the senator prefaced his remarks on economic freedom with observations concerning three conferences in 1955 which he says were "turning points" in world history.

(1) Geneva. From the "summit" conference came the greatest paper of President Eisenhower's administration and one of the greatest in history, he said. It presented the idealism of American foreign relations throughout our history and showed America as a nation of peace desiring to settle world difficulties. Admitting he was an old-time critic of the President, Sen. Morse said he was proud to commend the Geneva paper.

He (Morse) firmly believes the United States must take every opportunity to force Russians into conferences. "It shows up Communist propaganda," he said.

(2) Atomic power conference at Geneva. This he believes turned the "trend of world history from destruction to peaceful discussion for settlement of world problems." As at the "summit" the power meeting demonstrated American idealism, he said. "It is no way laid down our arms," he continued, "but made clear to the world that if leaders of nations aren't just smiling, then like America, can be counted on using atomic energy for peaceful pursuits."

(3) Bandung (Indonesia) conference. It saved us in Asia, he said, adding that the Ceylon prime minister's speech let the Communists know the Asian nations wanted Communism no more than they desired western imperialism. He said it stressed ideas similar to America's and "put Chou En Lai back on his heels!"

Before his main speech, the senator commended the economic development by the M. A. Hanna Co. in southern Douglas County, and he complimented the members of Job's Daughters who served the dinner. He was introduced by state Sen. Monroe Sweetland, Milwaukie, who termed Riddle a symbol of the kind of progress "we hope Oregon will take in years ahead."

For the growing Douglas city, it was the first visit paid by a United States senator, according to Chamber President E. E. Daniels, master of ceremonies.

Poland Dropped As Candidate For U.N. Council

By MAX HARRERSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet bloc Friday dropped Poland as a candidate for a U.N. Security Council seat and switched its support to Yugoslavia after the General Assembly ran into an East-West deadlock in initial balloting.

The other leading candidate was the Philippines, backed by the United States. As the Assembly adjourned further voting until next week, the Philippines appeared to be waging a losing fight.

On Friday's final ballot the vote was 29 for the Philippines and 28 for Yugoslavia. This was the lowest vote received by the Philippines during any of the day's six ballots and was nine votes short of the required two-thirds majority of those voting.

Defeat of the Philippines would be a serious blow to the prestige of the United States, which went all out in support of the Manila candidacy. Yugoslavia was advanced by the Soviet bloc as a compromise candidate after four indecisive ballots.

Immediate Power Needed, Ellsworth Tells Lions

(Continued from Page One) Interstate Commerce Commission has the power to order better distribution of freight cars over the nation, but lacks congressional appropriation of funds to put men into the field to obtain data to back up any court action that might be necessary to enforce its orders. He says he hopes to approach the problem more directly by trying to get the bureau of budget to increase funds with which to operate the ICC.

Congressman Ellsworth also discussed briefly the highway building program, which was defeated in the last congress, because "the final bill presented was not a popular one." He said he sees excellent chances for the measure to pass, in some compromised form starting in January. He said the highway building program was a somewhat relieved by the 83rd Congress, which appropriated $2 billion dollars for the biennium, or double previous appropriations.

The representative also touched on the matter of the Lillie Moore property and 125 acres of the Veterans Hospital grounds. The latter have been declared surplus and offered to the city for park purposes. He said he was able to get postponement of sale on the Moore property by some luck and cooperation of the administrator in charge at Seattle. He sees definite hope that the house and probably its contents can be saved for the city. The VA property, he said, should make an excellent city park.

Congressman Ellsworth has just returned from attendance at the American Mining Congress convention in Las Vegas. He discussed this briefly, together with other phases of his work in looking into problems of his district while the congress is adjourned.

Robinson Again Denies Writing John Day Bill

PORTLAND (AP)—Kinsey M. Robinson, named by Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) as the author of a bill providing for federal-local partnership building John Day Dam on the Columbia River, headily denied any part in drafting the bill Thursday.

Neuberger Thursday quoted excerpts from what he was a letter establishing Robinson's part in the bill.

Robinson, reached in New York said: "I still insist that Mr. Neuberger is talking through his hat. I have said before that Congressman Coon conferred with private agencies about his bill. 'The draft to which Mr. Neuberger refers was not prepared by me or by anyone under my direction. I should know if anyone does.' 'The draft of the bill in question was given me for my comments, and I assumed that the governor of the state of Washington, where power shortages loom in the future, would be interested in a 30 million dollar development of new power. Therefore, I passed it along for his information. In fact I hoped that the Washington State Power Commission would see its way clear to participate.' Robinson said.

A party of eight Douglas County people returned from the Lakeview area on Friday evening with eight nice buck deer. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Oliviant of Olalla, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson of Reston, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heater of Happy Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson of Lookingglass.
