SOCIALIZED DENTISTRY
Socialized dentistry in Britain has increased the dental health of the British people as a whole, but has decreased to the danger point the number of persons entering the dental profession.

WHOLE FUTURE OF DENTISTRY
The whole future of dentistry in Britain is in danger because young men and women are not entering the field. Our dental schools are only partly filled and a number of new dentists is not even keeping up with the number retiring from the field.

HOW COME?
Well, Dr. Buchanan says, dentists in Britain are paid (by the government) on piecework basis—so much for filling a tooth, so much for pulling a tooth, so much for a filling.

Lehman Puts Support Behind Adlai Stevenson

NEW YORK (AP) — A split in the 90-vote New York delegation to the Democratic national convention appeared likely Friday as Sen. Lehman (D-NY) pledged his support to Adlai Stevenson for the presidential nomination.

Supporters of Gov. Averell Harriman had hoped for a delegation solidly behind the governor.

Lehman, who campaigned for Stevenson in the 1952 election, issued a statement Thursday night stating that he would support Stevenson if he were to change his preference in 1956.

Stevenson, in Chicago, said "I am proud to have this expression of support from so distinguished an American as my old friend Herbert Lehman."

Lehman said "I am not counting on the New York delegation at all."

Democratic National Committee Chairman Carmine G. DeSapio has been working for a solid pro-Harriman delegation.

Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Friedlander also has been actively supporting Harriman, New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner has been favoring Stevenson.

Before Stevenson boarded a plane for Chicago, newsmen asked him about reports that his supporters had started a move to present a solidly pro-Harriman delegation from New York.

Stevenson replied: "I neither know of nor have I heard of such a thing. I'd be interested, but I don't think I'd approve of it. I'm not counting on the New York delegation at all."

That, together with closeness of agreement on the necessity of reducing armed forces, and the necessity of continuing inspection make it desirable to open the disarmament talks here, Sobolev said.

He said there now is a definite possibility of reaching agreement.

He blamed the United States for blocking progress in the closed subcommittee sessions.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U.S. delegate, listened intently. Harold E. Stassen, his deputy in the subcommittee talks, is accompanying Secretary of State Dulles to Paris for preliminary Big Four consultations.

Sobolev's statement unveiled some of the mystery behind his request last week for an urgent meeting of the commission.

Israel Requests Funds For Arms

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector (AP) — Premier Moshe Sharett made the drive for funds to buy Israeli arms official Friday with a broadcast appeal for contributions by Israeli citizens in all walks of life.

Sharett urged that all "contribute to the limit of your ability" because the purchase of heavy weapons has been delayed.

He referred to "the impending decisive military advantage of Egypt—an enemy of the country planning aggression against Israel" and said, "citizens must realize this danger and give money for arms purchases without delay."

Egypt, which recently announced it will purchase arms from Communist Czechoslovakia, also is conducting a financial campaign among its citizens to pay for them.

Sharett's appeal followed a spontaneous movement among the Israeli people who have sent almost a million Israeli pounds ($500,000) to the Defense Ministry in the past two days.

Haifa port workers pledged funds to buy two mosquito planes.

The prospect that Egypt's arsenal strengthened with arms from Communist Czechoslovakia, also is conducting the Middle East provoked fresh demands for security measures in Israel.

Trucker Cleared In Investigation Of Boys' Slaying

CHICAGO (AP) — The owner of a truck containing a collection of stainer tools was cleared Friday of any connection with the brutal slaying of three Chicago grade school boys.

Sheriff Joseph Lohman announced Edward Rohlfes, 47, had taken a lie detector test and could shed no light on the triple slaying that has baffled police since the boys' nude, strangled and beaten bodies were found Tuesday.

Rohlfes and his deaf mute brother, Herman, 52, had been picked up for questioning after a forest ranger reported seeing a panel truck bearing the name "Rohlfes" Monday night in Robinson Woods.

The brothers said they had slept in the truck in the woods Monday night near the ditch where the bodies were found dumped.

White, Edward, was undergoing a lie test, the truck was put to a minute examination by sheriff's officers. Lohman said his men found a 3 x 5 foot quilt with stains that might have been made by blood, a 3-foot iron crowbar, a claw hammer and a can opener.

Roseburg Man Aboard Crashed Jet Airplane

TOKYO (AP) — A U.S. Air Force B47 medium jet bomber on a training flight to Japan crashed on takeoff in northern Honshu Friday, killing one crewman and injuring three others.

The plane was one of several from Mountain Hoekers Air Force Base in Idaho on a "mobility exercise" to Japan and Okinawa.

The public information officer at Mountain Base identified the dead man as Lt. Edward C. Dew, Bishopville, S.C., an observer aboard the bomber.

If he and the others, none seriously hurt, were: Capt. George N. Wentsch, San Angelo, Tex., the pilot; 1st Lt. Charles W. Clark, Roseburg, Ore., the copilot, and S. Sgt. William A. Trueba, of Barre, Vt.

Tension High In Saar Sector

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar (AP) — Saar police tightened their precautions Friday against possible disorders as the hotly disputed weekend plebiscite on the border territory's future approached.

Saarlanders will vote Sunday for or against the French-German plan to give their country a "European" authority under Western European Union.

"From now on, as the campaign closes, things will get tougher and tougher," a high police official predicted.

Members of the International Commission on Neutral Observers supervising the plebiscite were known to fear an invasion of roadies from Western Germany in the next 48 hours.

New efforts to break up Premier Johannes Hoffman's pro-European meetings were made in two areas Thursday night.

Hoffman's automobile was halted by a road block in pouring rain on a dark highway near Friedrickthal. A crowd surged around his car and the police had to turn on fire hoses to clear the way.

At Querschied later, the premier had to break off his speech while police located a hidden loudspeaker. Hoffman, out with propaganda for the pro-European parties opposing the "Europeanization" accord of October, 1954.

Production Dependent Upon Ability Of People To Buy, Labor Representative States

American production can remain high, only if the purchasing power of the American people remains high.

That was the gist of a brief discussion before the Roseburg Lions Club Thursday night by Walt Young, assistant director of education for the West of the International Woodworkers of America, CIO.

Young, introduced by Forest Talbott, local IWA representative, coupled his talk on the stand of his union with the showing of a motion picture, produced by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The pictures gave a crystal ball insight into an almost unbelievable living standard picture for Americans within the next 20 years, in which automatic devices play an all-important part.

The speaker explained that, while his union does not always agree with the Chamber of Commerce, it does agree entirely with its viewpoint that it is necessary

Mediators Are Asked To Help Prevent Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Deadlocked in both Portland and Seattle negotiations, the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. has called in federal mediators to prevent a strike of 13,000 Pacific Northwest workers this weekend.

At stake are the working contracts involving 7,000 employees in Washington and Idaho, and 6,000 in Oregon. The contracts expire at midnight Sunday.

A representative of the Federal Mediation Service met briefly in Portland Thursday with representatives of the company and the CIO Communications Workers of America.

Bob McClelland, the mediator, reported the preliminary session indicated both parties were desirous of a settlement without a strike and a Friday session was scheduled.

A similar session was scheduled with a mediator in Seattle.

The company has offered pay increases of $2 to $3.50 a week in both the Washington-Idaho and Oregon regions but the union said it was unacceptable.

A company spokesman in Seattle said the union had offered to withdraw some of its fringe demands in exchange for a $6 a week raise. The company, in turn, rejected this offer and the stalemate resulted.

A strike vote taken by the workers is being tabulated and union spokesmen said they expect it will give overwhelming approval to a walkout if a contract is not approved.

Douglas Chisholm, representative of the union, said negotiations will continue in both states as long as there is hope of any results.

Current scales range from $56.24 to $100.50 a week for the employees involved.

Brownell Has Session With Eisenhower

Four-Point Program Includes Regulations Against Jury Invasion

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower approved Friday a major program designed to stimulate an overall attack on crime in this country.

The campaign was outlined to the Chief Executive by Atty. Gen. Brownell in a 25-minute conference in Eisenhower's hospital room.

Brownell disclosed the program at a news conference in which he refused to discuss whether he thought President Eisenhower would run again since he said he thought it would be "entirely inappropriate" at this time.

The judicial program for the fiscal year 1956, which Brownell said the President approved, would call for:

1—Legislation making it a "criminal offense" to invade the privacy of a jury while it is deliberating on a case. This grew out of developments during a recent trial in Wichita, Kan.

2—Construction of a nine-million dollar "maximum custody" prison in the Midwest to house criminals of the type now sent to Alcatraz, Leavenworth and Atlanta; and of a $7,500,000 institution west of the Mississippi River for the treatment and imprisonment of youthful offenders similar to those from the East now housed at Ashland, Ky.

3—Appointment of public defenders in every federal district, either on a full-salaried or a part-time basis to give federal defendants assurance of proper legal defense.

A pilot organization was formed at the Myrtle Creek Hotel by 27 citizens from Myrtle Creek, Riddle, Canyonville, Days Creek and Tri-City. They took part in the meeting as individuals but unofficially represented approximately 100 organizations, according to correspondent Ruth M. Evans.

Hal Schiltz, editor of the Myrtle Creek News and acting chairman at the meeting, explained the organization hopes to stage a "professional type variety show."

Ward Bene has been named to direct the show. Schiltz said he has had a long association with professional plays and is district director of the Pasadena (Calif.) Playhouse. He has offered his help free.

Schiltz said tentative plans call for staging the show in Riddle, Canyonville and Myrtle Creek on three separate nights. The proceeds from the shows would tentatively go toward building the swimming pool.

A committee of 14 has been named to go ahead with the business of setting up the organization with the proposed name of "Chumquas." Those on the committee are: Carl Hill, Barbara Dowdy, Margaret Hancock, all of Canyonville; Vic Rice, Robert Gordon, Schiltz, Mrs. Bernard Patterman, all of Myrtle Creek; Kenneth Hunt, Dick Willey, Elmer Sunday, all of Riddle; Mrs. Bill Smith, Mrs. Lee Winetroot and Mrs. Earl Linguist, all of Tri-City; and Mrs. Fritz Snyder of Days Creek.
