

PHOTO TIPS

by Jay Golden

The candid approach to photography is one that easily satisfies the demands of those who wish to make pictures with meaning. Candid shots show people as they are, at work or play — actually living, not stiffly posed. Opportunities to make these spontaneous pictures exist everywhere. There is no better place to start than at home, catching familiar subjects in their everyday activities; mother preparing dinner, dad reading the paper, the children doing their homework. Then, there is the outside world: people shopping, uninhibited children at the playground, the policeman directing traffic. Equipment is no limitation. The simplest box camera can be used. However, certain cameras are perhaps best suited to this work. They are the reflex and the fast 35 mm.; the reflex because its waist level viewing is unobtrusive, a help in this work, and the 35 mm because it permits working under difficult lighting conditions. Pictures with a candid appearance are sometimes posed, but more often they are taken without the subject being aware. This calls for an unassuming camera manner. People will soon forget the presence of a camera if it is handled in a casual, absent-minded manner, or as if it were just newly purchased. Naturally, in this type of work, discretion should be used in determining suitable subject matter. At no time should—or need—the privacy rights of others be abused. A candid view is one that is frank and straightforward. This describes our approach to the quality of service we strive to give our customers at all times.

Linfield Dean Of Men To Speak At Roseburg First Baptist Church

Kenneth L. Holmes, dean of men at Linfield college, McMinnville, will be guest speaker at both the evening and morning church services at the Roseburg First Baptist Church Sunday. In the morning Holmes will speak on "A Faith Triumphant." His evening address is entitled "The Deepest Questions of Life." Holmes is also assistant professor of history at Linfield. He writes on Northwest history and other subjects for state and national publications. Holmes, a former Baptist minister, has served as University pastor at the First Baptist Church at Moscow, Idaho.

Bricker Renews Discharge Call

WASHINGTON — Sen. Bricker Thursday renewed over Pentagon opposition his call for discharge of older men and fathers drafted into the armed forces. The senator said such men "have no real business in the armed forces under circumstances existing today." Carter L. Burgess, asst. secretary of defense for manpower, wrote Bricker in an Oct. 8 letter released by the senator Wednesday that "automatic, wholesale early releases from the armed forces would seriously impair our combat readiness." Burgess also said there are no plans now to stop drafting older men and fathers. A study now underway of the possibility of inducting younger men first will probably take months to complete, he added. "Many of the older (selective service) registrants were deferred from service at a time when other men had to go in their stead to battle the enemy in Korea," Burgess said. "Those persons being inducted at this time are not faced with the same unpleasant duties."

CONTRIBUTIONS UP
JERUSALEM, Israel Sector. — Voluntary contributions in a spontaneous two-day-old "arms-for-Israel" drive are pouring in to the Defense Ministry, the Prime Minister's office and newspaper offices. Reliable estimates Thursday put the total contribution so far from all parts of the country at several hundred thousand pounds.

Indians believe the snake, named "Serata" (white miracle), is a reincarnated goddess, for such was the fate of many mythological deities.

Zuleima Nile Club Hears Sewing Report

Mrs. A. C. Spencer, Mrs. Arthur Midland, Mrs. Bert J. Gilbert and Mrs. R. D. Williams were hostesses to the dessert supper and regular meeting of Zuleima Nile Club at the Episcopal Parish Hall recently.

Mrs. Midland gave a sewing report suggesting articles to be made in the future for the Shrine hospital.

Mrs. Halvorsen told members she would contact them concerning refreshments to be supplied by the club for the Shriner's hard-time dance Saturday at the Sky-room.

A report was given by Mrs. Ialo Stephens about Thanksgiving contributions to the Shrine hospital in November.

There were 27 members present for the evening.

Brownell Flying West To Visit Eisenhower

WASHINGTON — Atty. Gen. Brownell is flying out to Denver today and the trip raises speculation that President Eisenhower may now want to discuss the political situation with his top adviser in that field.

It is generally recognized that the 51-year-old attorney general is "the wizard" in political matters for this administration, and that the President frequently turns to him for advice in such matters.

In announcing the other day that Brownell had been invited to the President's bedside, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said that Justice Department business would be discussed. This might well concern two presidential nominations — from Justice Department ranks — to two judgeships, both of which were sidetracked in the last Congress.

Paul Revere's father was born in Perigueux, France.

FINED FOR KISS THEFT

PONTIAC, Mich. — A young door-to-door magazine salesman was given a 90-day jail sentence yesterday for stealing a kiss from a housewife in nearby Berkley.

The woman objected when Roy Rich, 25, of Valley City, N.C., added a light buss on the cheek to his sales pitch. She called police. Rich was arrested a few doors away.

Court Of Honor Held For Troop 34

A Tenderfoot investiture service was conducted by Jack Shelton for Tom Hobbs, James O'Brien and Billy Selles, new members of Troop 34 at a court of honor held Wednesday night before a large group of parents.

The rank of Star Scout was awarded to Gary Meyer, seventh grade student at Central Junior High School. Explorers Larry Van Scoyk and Kent Wishart assisted by Carl Wassom, scoutmaster, conducted the meeting.

A dinner planned by the Benson Scout Mothers was held at the Eagles Hall preceding the Scout meeting.

Doctors, Dentists Given Military Alternative

Doctors and dentists subject to induction by Selective Service under the doctor draft law may now fulfill their military obligation by applying for a direct commission in the Army Reserve and immediate call to active duty.

Others who have served less than 17 months in active military service are eligible to apply for commissions and assignments to units of the Army Ready Reserve. Those who are not obligated under Selective Service regulations may also apply for commissions and active duty.

Inquiries concerning appointments as officers in the Army for doctors and dentists may be addressed to the commanding general, Headquarters Sixth Army, Presidio of San Francisco, Calif.
