Terps, Sooners All Set Up For Orange Bowl Contest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The frantic race for the national college football championship had narrowed today to three mighty monsters of the nation—Maryland, Oklahoma and Michigan.

For Maryland and Oklahoma, both of which have been rolling along like well-oiled diesel engines, the road ahead for a titanic clash in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day appears clear.

At the moment, each is tied for the lead in its respective conference, the Atlantic Coast and Big seven. But the remaining games are mere details to be attended to in due course.

Maryland has a date with Clemson, like the Terps undefeated in league play, on Nov. 12, while Oklahoma anticipates no argument from Nebraska the following week—should the Cornhuskers keep their league record clean by getting past tough Colorado.

Bucks Michigan Worry

That leaves only Michigan with a worry and a major one it is—Ohio State.

The Wolverines have had trouble in their last three games—they had to come from behind to lick Iowa 33-21 last Saturday—and there is no assurance that they'll survive their clashes with Illinois and Purdue before meeting the Buckeyes three weeks hence.

If they do finish with a spotless record they'll have to be given serious consideration for the national title because their schedule appears stronger than either Maryland, the current No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, or Oklahoma. They play seven Big Ten foes, plus Missouri and Army.

The Wolverines also are almost certain to get the Rose Bowl nomination if they don't lose more than one of their three remaining games. Ohio State is ineligible, having played there last New Year's Day.

Mountaineers Endangered

West Virginia, the only other major team still undefeated, faces a future fraught with danger. The Mountaineers play George Washington this week, but then on successive Saturdays, go against Pitt and Syracuse, two of the toughest outfits in the East.

Notre Dame can't be considered for the national title because its record is marred by a loss to Michigan State. But the Irish certainly rate close to the top by virtue of their 21-7 victory over Navy.

In addition to Navy, Auburn, Boston College and Holy Cross all topped from the unbeaten list Saturday. Auburn, once tied, fell before Tulane 27-13, while Xavier of Ohio whipped Boston College 19-12, and Syracuse thrashed Holy Cross 49-9. The East doesn't have an undefeated team left.

Ivy Showdown Ahead

Yale and Princeton still are tied for the Ivy League lead with 4-0 marks and headed for a showdown battle in two weeks. In the South-west Conference, Texas A&M still leads with 2-0-1 after being tied by Arkansas 7-7, but still must play Southern Methodist, Rice and Texas.

On the Pacific Coast, UCLA continues to flex its muscles for all to see. Its latest was a 47-0 shellacking of California. Whether Washington and Southern California will roll over and play dead for the Uclans remains to be seen.

BUCK FEVER

WITHERBEE, N.Y. (AP) — After the manner in which he blanked the New York Yankees to give the Brooklyn Dodgers their first World Series conquest, Johnny Podres shouldn't have "buck fever" this winter. Johnny loves to hunt deer in the Adirondacks near his home and recalls the time he took four shots at a buck standing 100 yards away. None of the shots brought down the big buck.

QUARTER CENTURY

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Edward R. (Butch) Slaughter is a 25-year man at the University of Virginia. The former University of Michigan All-America guard (1924) came to Virginia in 1931 after five years as line coach at North Carolina State. He assists Coach Ned McDonald with the Cavalier line.
