Don't Outpledge Demos On Farm Issue, Aiken Says

WASHINGTON — Republican Sen. Aiken of Vermont said Monday the Republicans must not try to "outpromise the Democrats" in farm benefits.

Aiken, top GOP member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, called for an administration soil bank plan expected to be submitted by Secretary of Agriculture Benson. This plan is designed to take some acreage out of production and put it in grass and trees with the dual purpose of (1) reducing the surplus of crops and (2) improving the soil's fertility for future use.

The program would involve acreage payments to farmers and Aiken said that if these were approved by Congress, political pressure soon would be applied to boost the payments to high levels.

"We want a workable farm program," he said. "We don't want to get into a competition of promises because we can never outpromise the Democrats. We want a program of performance."

Rigid Plan Said Doomed

Aiken forecast defeat by the Senate of a Democratic move to restore rigid, high-level price supports for major field crops.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, already has called for early action in the new session on a House-passed bill to replace the Eisenhower administration's flexible price support program with rigid supports.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler hammered at the farm issue again in a weekend speech in Parkersburg, W. Va. He said the farmer's share of the food dollar is at its lowest in 15 years, and suggested that Congress investigate what he called the growing gap between farm and consumer prices.
