'Little Men' Turn Tide In Indian Wrestling Win Over Pirates, 38-7

Three "little men" of the Roseburg High wrestling brigade turned in sensational first-minute, first-round pins to highlight Saturday night's 38-7 Indian win over visiting Marshfield at the Roseburg High gym.

The season's largest crowd, numbering well over 300, watched Coach Bob Shewbert's troops storm to their fourth consecutive dual match win, scoring on seven decisions, three pins and one draw.

Drain Defeats Elkton, 58-55

For a second time this season Drain's Warriors proved more than a match for B school Elkton, this time breaking a nine-game Elks winning streak with a 58-55 basketball decision on the Elkton floor Saturday night.

Drain holds the only other decision any team has made over the Elks, a 46-39 verdict earlier in the season.

The Elks stayed in contention throughout, but always trailed after dropping behind by 15-14 at end of the first period. Elkton's chief nemesis was Warrior guard Jack Evans who sank a 40-foot goal to end the first chapter and then dropped in four more long one-handers in the second panel. Evans also made five three throws in the first period when Elkton led most of the time.

Evans' back-breaking stint in the second period moved Drain to a 31-26 halftime lead. By the end of the third period, with center Virgil Merrill and guard Bill Levins producing the fireworks, it was 46-39.

Merrill, Levins and Evans scored 17, 16 and 15 points respectively for the Warriors. Forward Ronald Moore led Elkton with 16.

Elkton made desperate bids in the fourth period, getting to within three points several times, but never any closer, ultimately losing by the three-toll count.

Drain outshot the Elks 24-21 from the floor.

In the jayvee game, it was Elkton by 34-27. Tom House scored 10 for the winners while Paul Reel had eight for Drain.

Budweisers Snatch U. S. Bowling Title

DETROIT (AP) — A new team—for the first time in four years—reigned Monday as national match game bowling champion. It was the St. Louis Budweisers.

With a record 26,248 pins for 24 games, the Budweisers snatched the crown Sunday night from Buzz Fazio's Strohs of Detroit, champions three years hand running.

The Budweisers had a 747-pin edge at the end, Strohs' having clipped 86 from an impossible deficit of 833 in the last three games. Fazio's team had managed to win an afternoon block by only 10 pins and Saturday's blocks by only 122.

Led by Don Carter, former singles match game champion, the Budweisers ran up a lead of 965 pins in the first 12 games of the championship competition at St. Louis on the previous weekend. And they added six in their first Detroit block to bring it to 971.

The Budweiser total of 26,248 topped the old team record of 26,038 set in 1947 by Buddy Bomar's Kathryn team of Chicago. And the combined Budweiser-Strohs total of 51,749 topped the previous two-team competition record of 51,347 set in 1948 by Kathryn and E.&B. of Detroit.

UCLA STAR SIGNS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hardiman Cureton, first string guard on last season's UCLA Rose Bowl team, has signed with the Toronto Argonauts of Canada's Big Four professional football circuit.

We aim to start this piece off with a not very thrilling item. But Roseburg bowlers have always made nice contributions to the March of Dimes, and this drive will wind up in about nine days. We suggest that all bowlers toss a dime into the kitty for every blow one night during the balance of the drive. To be sure, some of the lads and lasses will get stuck heavier than others, but there's no law to keep the hot shots from kicking through with a couple dimes, even if they don't "blow" any.

WELL, HO HUM! Anita Nichols had high game in the ladies' wheel again, a lofty 210 at that, with a lusty 539 series. Seems Nita is like "Ole Man Ribber," just keeps rolling along. But several of the other femmes got in the limelight too. June Roberts and Vi Davie connected for 5-7 splits; Helen Mentzer got one too, and added a 5-6; Florence Slack picked a pair, an unusual 8-9 and a tough 3-10; The rare 8-9 also faced Marge McDonald, but she conquered it. Sue Siekman cut down the 5-10, and the real toughies such as the 4-10 fell to Jean George, the 6-7 to Vi Boucock, the mean 6-7-10 yielded to Barbara Wittren, and the Christmas Tree 3-7-10 was no puzzle to Bev Fish. Martha Pocklington had an up-and-down stairstep 137-135-136.

WE FOUND a feather in the Poseyville bonnet while re-checking teams to the state tournament. Must be some folks don't read this column, since Roseburg Alley team made no squawk when they were omitted from the Roseburg list. This addition give us 21 teams, putting us in fourth spot in the entire state with 21 teams, following Portland, Salem and Eugene. Albany has 20.

On that same note, bowlers are migrating to tournaments over the state like ducks and geese to the nesting grounds. Another pair of teams signed up for the All-Coast, and a herd of Elk is bearing down on Astoria while a band of Mooses heads for Eugene. (Incidentally, the Moose herd plans a tournament at Roseburg next summer.)

A SOCIETY NOTE: Bob Nesbitt took unto himself a lovely bride Saturday morning. Melissa Stonebraker will be cooking Bob's "ham and" from now on. Bob's last effort as a bachelor netted him a swell 600 series, fashioned on lines of 178-235-187. This column extends felicitations.

Records fell like meteors last week. First Arlo Jacklin set the seasonal high with a potent 258. The News-Review boys published his picture on the strength of that one. Some other guys got a bit jealous, and one of them did something about it Friday night. Ed Klemmer, toiling for Keystone Machine Works followed an opening spare with 9-in-a-row, and a tap in the 11th, but the ensuing 278 is high for several years past.

SOMETHING about the alleys seemed to be conducive to good scores Friday night. In the Classic a total of 19 games above 200, and three series 600 and up evolved. Joel Coe admitted he had really polished the lanes Friday, and the results were certainly comforting to many of the boys. In addition to Bob Nesbitt's 600 set, Chuck Hopkins had 601, and went through the entire series without an empty frame. Lines were 192-197-212. Ed Klemmer added a 202-144 to his big one, for a nifty 624, high for the evening, and tying Jerry Wittren's 200-194-230-624 Monday night.

In other noteworthy accomplishments, multiple 200's fell before Hal Zurcher for a 537, Jim Bloom for 568, Everett Hobbs for 556, and Don Nye for a 584. "Hoppy" shot a 231 Monday, and Ed Davis a big 243 Thursday night. Friday night's spree saw a 234 for Ted Buettner and a 230 for Don Shepherd, while Bob George toppled 223. Lou Anderson hit a record 220 scratch, 270 handicap in the Classic Junior. Bill Evans, on "Merk's Moose" and Bob Smith for Bowling Alley Cafe cleaned up the 6-7-10, and Howard Pattison the 6-7 for Sun Studs.

DON COON had a 3-step "ladder," 142-145-148, John Anderson had a 167-170-172, and Ted Benedict stepped down on a 157-153-153 stairstepper. Ted Myers had a 182 sandwich, Pat Patterson one of 190, Gus Spakousky a 171, and a couple lads came close to something as Ab Rice hit 155-156-156, and Floyd Baughman had 178-178-179. 'Twas a great week!
