Women's Figure Skating Begins; Tenley Alright In Good Shape

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP) — The powerful Russians continued their cascade of gold medals Monday when two young speed skaters, Yury Mikhailov and Eugeniy Grishin, tied for the 1500 meter (metric mile) championship in the identical world record breaking time of 2 minutes, 8.6 seconds.

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP) — Graceful Tenley Albright, America's bright gold medal hope, showed no effects of her recent leg injury Monday when she took an early lead in the women's figure skating competition of the Winter Olympic Games.

While Tenley, attractive 20-year-old blonde from Newton Center, Mass., and little Carol Heiss of Ozone Park, N.Y., dominated the compulsory figure phase at the Olympic rink, a 27-year-old Norwegian woodchopper gave Norway its first championship in the 15-kilometer cross country ski race.

Hallgeir Brenden, a Norwegian athletic idol who won the 18-kilometer title in 1952, staged a front-running race through the snow-covered Campezzo Valley to win in 49 minutes, 39 seconds. The distance covered nine miles, 560 yards.

Sednen's Sixten Jernberg, who was second in last Friday's 30-kilomter grind, captured the silver medal in 50:14 while Russia's Pavel Koltchin took third in 50:17 to boost the Soviet's commanding team lead.

America's two entries finished out of the running. Andrew Miller, a 24-year-old Army man from McCall, Idaho, was 41st in 56:08 while Larry Damon, 22-year-old colegian from Burlington, Vt., was 51st with 57:18.

In the women's special slalom, defending champion Andrea Mead Lawrence of Parshall, Colo., hit a gate on her first descent and may have jeopardized her chances. The 23-year-old mother of three was clocked in 57.5 seconds for the first of her two tries down the twisting, hazardous course.

The best opening run was recorded by Renee Collard, a pretty Swiss miss in her first bigtime competition, who did :35.6.

The slalom favorite, Madeleine Berthod of Switzerland, like Mrs. Lawrence, fell at the next-to-last gate and just about eliminated herself. She was timed in 64.4 seconds.

Mrs. Dorothy Surgenor of Seattle, Wash., subbing for the injured Betsy Snite, turned in a creditable 1:09.1, the fastest of the last third of the field. Miss Snite, from Norwich, Vt., injured her left knee in a practice spin Sunday.

Gladys (Skeets) Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., was timed in 1:13.9. Penny Pitou, 17-year-old schoolgirl from Laconia, N.H., had 1:26.2.

In figure skating Miss Albright, who gashed her left leg in a pre-Olympic rehearsal, took up where Hayes Alan Jenkins, in the world men's figure skating king, took off Sunday. Jenkins has piled up a big lead in the men's competition.

In scoring for the first figure, Miss Albright was given 169.5 points and the 16-year-old Miss Heiss was given 162.9. The ladies must skate three of the five compulsory—or fixed figures—Monday and the free skating phase Thursday.

Yvonne Sudgen of Britain was third in the standings with 159 points, followed by Hanna Eigel of Austria with 157.2 and Catherine Machado of Long Beach, Calif. with 151.2

The Russian's third place in the cross country boosted the Soviet Union's unofficial team total to 64 points, more than twice that of the runnerup Austrians, who had 29. The U.S. is far back with 6½.

WEEKEND FIGHTS
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HOLLYWOOD — Vince Delgado, 128, Los Angeles, stopped Jimmy Roybal, 127, Los Angeles, 3.

Let's start this off with a couple notes on the upcoming City Tournament. Dates, March 18 to 25. For the first time, we will have two Sundays and a Saturday for doubles and singles. That's just in case somebody might have a date on one or the other, as has happened in the past. First come, first served in the choice of either of the Sunday dates, according to the date of your entry.

AS USUAL, no classification of teams, but individuals will be classified into three classes. Class A will be 166 and up, Class C 150 and down, and Class B the in-betweens. Full handicap on all entries. Entry fees will be same as last year, $2.50 per man per event. Averages will be posted at the alleys, and will be based on highest average Feb. 27. You can make out your entry at any time, but averages will have to be corrected on the legal date, Feb. 27. We'll have the entry blanks today or tomorrow.

AND NOW, as to the State tournament. Pacific Lumber Distributors, with Jim Bloom as captain, Nordic Plywood Inc., Al Coney and Jacklin News with Arlo Jacklin tried their luck the past weekend. This is being written in advance. Next weekend will see Earl Wiley and his left-handed realtors, and PAL Motors with Aubrey Piersol in command.

Last week's doings in Portland were highlighted, (as far as Roseburg is concerned) by Adam Hipp's fine performance. His team, Evans Products Co., landed in fifth spot in Class D; Adam is in 10th in "B" Singles; he and his doubles partner, Don Wright, hit seventh in "D" doubles, and Adam is high up in "B" all-events.

WHICH REMINDS US: We have a letter from Vern Turner, saying for bowlers not to worry about their all-events score, even if it doesn't come out in the paper right away. In handling up to 15 squads (900) of bowlers over a single week end, it is impossible for the secretary to keep right up to the minute on all-events scores. It is usually close to a week before he can get caught up. So, Vern says, just give us time to figure up your scores. They won't be overlooked.

LADIES FIRST. Sue Siekman had an all-spare last week. To make it even tougher, Sue looked at the 5-10 split in the 10th. But she wasn't to be denied, and knocked it off. She also picked the 5-7 later. Ann Radigan picked a 3-7, Ethel Obrist a 5-7-8, Polly Greenfield a 5-7, Milly Bloom a 5-10 and Martha Pocklington the broad 6-7. Bev Fish nearly got that triplicate with a pair of 148s and a 149. Sylvia Anderson also had 148s in a pair, while Leola Gorton had 115s. Carmen Donovan 134 sandwich and Marge Hennebeck a 135 ditto.

THE GIRLS will have their March of Dimes drive Tuesday night, with rules still not jelled. But the boys worked on theirs last week, and will wind up the drive tonight. Each lad has kicked through with a dime for each blow in his first game. There were either a lot of blows, or some of the lads fudged, and donated a few extra dimes. We'll give you the totals next week. We expect to divide it equally among all the four classes in the high school's big drive.

Have a couple notes on split conversions in the men's division. Ted Buettner bounced the 10 off the cushion to take out the 8. Bob Edwards slud the 8 pin across twice to take out the 7, for a 6-7 and 6-7-10 in the same set Friday and a 6-7 Wednesday night.

SEVERAL BOYS with two or more 200 games in a set; Edwards (that man again) for a 583 total; Akey Bowen for 589; Vern Whibeck a big 606; Jack Hayman a nice 601; Dan Hansen the week's high 625, with a huge 245 to help. Ed Davis had high line for the week, a corpulent 251, being Ed's life-time top. And he missed his first and only 600 by a lousy railroad in the 10th. Bob Elliott hit his first 600, (and on the nose) with 205-174-221. Gene Lincoln had a 235 too, and Jerry Wittren a double 200 set.

Jim Bloom and John Donovan were the first to amass over 10,000 pins for the season. (Monday night). Curly Siekman joined with a bare qualifying 10,001 Wednesday night. Bill Sedar, fresh back from the "service" got the new year's first triplicate, a set of 155's. And Snyder's Radio & TV hit the new half high game and set for 4-man teams, 852 and 2,500.

Jimmy Demaret Wins Thunderbird Tourney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The wandering golfers headed today for the $15,000 Phoenix Open with Jimmy Demaret leading the procession as the latest tournament winner.

Jimmy, who has trimmed down his competitive appearances considerably, took $2,000 top money in the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational—the second time he has won the event.

He came from behind to defeat Cary Middlecoff with a last-round 69 and a 72-hole score of 269. Middlecoff had a par 71 and a total of 270.

He caught Middlecoff on the 14th green and passed him on the 15th, banging out a pair of birdies that were decisive.

Gene Littler, who all but shot himself out of the tournament with a second-round 76, came back with a rush. His last-round 66 went for 277, third place and $750.

Tied for fourth were Julius Boros, who began the day in third position, and Gardner Dickinson Jr, who was in fifth place. Boros took a 73 and Dickinson a 70 for 278.

Bill Ogden, the fourth man at the outset, fell back with a 76 for 283.

Others to move up were Mike Souchak, with a 68; Tommy Holt, 69; Arnold Palmer, 67; and Fred Hawkins, 70, all tied at 279.

Walter Burkemo, with the day's low score of 65; Doug Ford, 69; Billy Maxwell, 69, and Canada's Al Baldwin, a 68, tied at 280.

Siekmans Lead Sunday Doubles Bowling Play

Jack and Sue Siekman topped the mixed doubles field at the Roseburg Alleys Sunday night with a 1,133 pin total.

Other high doubles scoring included Dick and Anita Nichols 1,128, John and Sylvia Anderson 1,058 and Paul and Lou Yundt 1,056.

Siekman rolled high series of 276 and Don Shepherd took high game honors with a 210 and a 201. Other high men's games included Siekman 206, Glen Wellman 203 and Nichols 200.

For the ladies, Anita Nichols rolled high series of 563 and high games of 194 and 190. Sue Siekman had a 189, Shirley Hopkins rolled 182 and Frances Knudtson rolled 175.

Eunice Noel provided one of the evening's features when she converted the 6-7-10 split.

The 1957 ABC bowling tournament will be held at Fort Worth, Tex.

Jim Bond will reveal some of British Columbia's "HOT SPOTS", that can be reached by a two days drive from Roseburg.
