Republicans Say Party Has Time For Choice

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators said this week the GOP will have ample time to pick a candidate if President Eisenhower should announce around the end of this month he won't run again.

Sen. Duff of Pennsylvania and Payne of Maine added, however, they are more confident than ever that Eisenhower will seek a second term. So did Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) in a separate interview.

Goldwater said he thinks Eisenhower will run because of what the senator called "utterly baseless" attacks by Democrats on the administration.
