

GOP Leaders Map Strategy To Push Through Farm Bill

North-South Debate, Court Order, Expulsion Of White Leader Highlight Race Issue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A North-South debate in Congress, another U. S. Supreme Court order in the segregation field, and the expulsion of a White Citizens Council leader from the University of Alabama highlight latest developments in the nation's complex racial situation.

Verbal fireworks were set off in the Senate yesterday when Sen. George (D-Ga.) formally presented a Southern manifesto which he said had been carefully prepared by Southern leaders. It was signed by 19 senators and 81 House members from 11 states.

The document declared the high tribunal's decision on May 17, 1954, outlawing segregation in the public schools was "a clear abuse of judicial power" and it pledged the signers to do everything legally possible to overthrow the court's ruling.

As a counter proposal to the Southern manifesto, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) suggested that Congress go on record in support of the high court's ruling.

Humphrey said that such a stand by Congress is both "valid and desirable" and he felt that far

Short-Cut Plan Set For House, States Speaker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders, confident the Eisenhower farm program is winning in Congress, mapped strategy at the White House Tuesday to speed a finished bill to the President.

House GOP leader Martin (Mass.) said that once the Senate bill reaches the House, he will seek to use a short-cut technique to get approval there.

He explained this will involve an effort to have the House substitute the Senate bill for its own, and to instruct the House conferees to support flexible price support provisions in conferences with the Senate.

"Otherwise we might have to wait three weeks, with all the wrangling in conference," Martin said.

"This way, we can get help to the farmers quickly. Even the people who want rigid supports wouldn't object to this, I think, if they really want to aid the farmers."

The House, passing a farm bill last year, voted for a return to mandatory price supports for principal crops at 90 per cent of parity.

The administration program calls for flexible supports—meaning discretionary power for the secretary of agriculture to set them at lower rates.

In the long Senate battle over the farm bill, administration supporters have defeated a number of efforts to junk the flexible support plan.

Martin indicated he expected the House would get the Senate bill early next week.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), top Republican on the Agriculture Committee, said the Senate might get through with it Friday night, but observed that "there are plenty of unsettled controversies."

Sen. Ellender of Louisiana, key figure on the Democratic side, said so much "lousy politics" were involved that he wouldn't make any forecast.

Strike Still On; Teen-Age Group Riots

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—An anti-British strike continued in Cyprus today, keeping commercial life on the riot-torn island almost at a standstill for the second consecutive day.

The spontaneous shutdown by Cypriot shopkeepers and workers is protesting Britain's exile of Archbishop Makarios, leader of the union-with-Greece movement. A few shops hesitantly opened their doors this morning but closed again as word spread to continue the protest.

Business places in the Turkish and Armenian quarters remained open.

As tensions continued to mount, a U. S. State Department spokesman in Washington said the United States has suggested to Britain that she find some way of resuming negotiations with Cypriot leaders in the dispute over the island's future.

Defiant teen-agers stoned police in Nicosia, and mobile reserves and military forces were called up to disperse the demonstrators. Six persons were arrested at a church where youths three times climbed to the steeple and rang the bell after stoning police.

At Nicosia's biggest elementary school, children from 6 to 12 years jeered and hurled rocks at police.

A 17-year-old boy was sentenced Tuesday to five years in prison for carrying a gasoline bomb.

A ban on long distance telephone calls on the island was lifted after being in force since Friday night.

Real Estate Commissioner Issues Warning Against Advance-Fee Operators

A warning that advance-fee operators are constantly trying to defraud Oregon property owners was given here Monday noon by Ragnar O. Johnson, state real estate commissioner.

In a question-and-answer period after his talk at the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce forum luncheon at the Hotel Umpqua, Johnson said 18 or 19 such operators are in the state almost constantly.

When anyone is approached by an advance-fee operator, "We'd like to know about it," he gave examples where traveling advance-fee men have taken several thousand dollars out of a community in a single day. Usually, he said, the operators approach a property owner with a pitch for advertising the property nationally, but they end up by asking for an advance fee and give the impression that they can very easily sell the real estate for the owner.

Johnson said over 200 such contracts have been surveyed by his office, but that not one sale was consummated. Anyone approached by an advance-fee man should call Johnson's office in Salem or a member of the local realty board.

Johnson complimented the Douglas County district attorney for his work in a local case last year in which a Chicago man had collected nearly $7,000 from Oregon property owners wishing to sell property. The man was held in jail until his company refunded all the money.

Reputable real estate men do not ask for advance fees on sale of property. Johnson noted a lot of that there are some legitimate advertising salesmen on the road, but they do not promise sales or ask for sales fees.

In his talk, Johnson outlined the functions of the commissioner's office, defined the term "realtor," and pointed out the valuable functions of the real estate commission men can do in greeting new residents and visitors.

"Realtor" is a word coined by the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards and means the person is active in his local board and

Man Uninjured When Car Is Hit By SP Engine

A 79-year-old Roseburg man was uninjured Monday about 4:00 p.m. when he drove his car in front of a Southern Pacific switch engine on Stephens Street.

Roseburg police said C. C. Fristoe, 1344 SE Pine St., C. C. Fristoe, 1344 SE Pine St., apparently didn't see a warning signal at the SP crossing on Stephens near the intersection with Diamond Lake Boulevard.

He was driving south when the eastbound switch engine, driven by C. L. Hayes, hit the car. The car continued on, jumping a curb, for 125 feet past the collision scene, police said.

There was about $500 damage caused to the car, officers estimated. Damage to the locomotive was minor.

A second collision during the afternoon was between light trucks driven by Harry Grant Huckerler, 41 Glalia, and Leslie Lincoln Frisk, 23, Roseburg. The accident was on Harvard Avenue at the intersection of Bellows Street.

Police said Huckerler was stopped on Harvard preparatory to making a left turn onto Bellows. Frisk, driving up from behind, lost control of his truck when his foot slipped from the brake onto the accelerator. No damage or citations resulted.

Methods of increasing the signal from KVAL-TV are being studied at the present time. Two methods mentioned are the installation of a micro-wave system and the use of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph facilities. Pierce said he said that the decision would be "upcoming very shortly." After the decision has been reached, actual programming would be started with "not too long a delay."

Pierce stated that "nothing is wrong with the equipment at KPIC." He said that reception reports had been received at his office from Newport, Junction City, Reedsport, Coos Bay, Grants Pass and other towns. All had reported good reception.

Meanwhile, the weekend shows, shown at midnight Friday and Saturday nights, will continue, Pierce reported. Response from the shows has been good, he said.

Rumors Against KPIC Squelched By Manager Here

Rumors about television station KPIC's difficulties were squelched today by Resident Manager Gene Pierce, who said many "tales" were being circulated.

Pierce said that KPIC had hoped to be on the air long before now, but the station had encountered difficulty receiving a 100 per cent signal from KVAL-TV in Eugene. He said that a 95 per cent signal is received at the local station, but there is 5 per cent received that "isn't acceptable."

He stated that, to some people the signal would look "fine," but there would be an element of doubt in the minds of those connected with KPIC.

KPIC personnel have been working to ascertain the best method for receiving a 100 per cent signal. Pierce said, "It can and will be done."

U. S. Plywood Planning Use Of Otherwise Waste Forest Materials In New Project

One of the significant features of the expansion program planned by U. S. Plywood in Roseburg in the near future is a wholesale use of what is usually considered waste forest materials.

The expansion program came to light Monday after days of rumors involving the absorption of all the assets of Youngs Bay Co. The official announcement was issued by S. W. Antoville, president of U. S. Plywood, and Roy Cummins, general manager of Youngs Bay at Roseburg.

Directors of both companies have approved the transaction. Now it is subject to ratification by the Youngs Bay stockholders at a special meeting March 19.

If approved by the stockholders, it will mean U. S. Plywood will issue 275,000 shares of its common stock in exchange for all assets of Youngs Bay. They include half-billion board feet of timber, timberlands, a sawmill at Roseburg and the North Umpqua Timber Co., a wholly owned subsidiary.

Antoville reported the acquisition of the Youngs Bay assets will result in another large-scale production center for U. S. Plywood. The important production center in the company's far-flung operations will include a new plywood plant, the Youngs Bay sawmill and a new Novoply plant. The sawmill will be modernized.

The outstandingly significant facet of the operation is the Novoply plant. Novoply is a U. S. Plywood wood panel produced by patented process from wood chips and flakes, created as a by-product of its plywood plant and sawmill operations.

The new unit planned at Roseburg will be the third Novoply plant. Antoville said the need is occasioned by the demand for the product which exceeds capacity of the California units.

Two tiny towns — Millsfield and Ellsworth — completed their votes only minutes after midnight.

Millsfield split its four votes evenly between President Eisenhower and Aflal Stevenson.

Ellsworth, where six ballots were cast, gave five votes for President Eisenhower and one for Stevenson. Ellsworth are listed on the preferential preference portion of the first-in-the-nation ballot.

Foreign aid project: The U. S. government has just proposed buying 10,000 tons of Burmese rice to help meet an emergency food shortage in East Pakistan.

Proceeds from the sale of the rice would be used by the Burmese to hire American technicians to direct various Burmese government projects.

It's a fine gesture, of course. If there are hungry people in East Pakistan, they ought to be fed and since we are the best-off nation on earth it's up to us, according to all the rules, to do the feeding.

But I can't help feeling it would be better for all concerned if, instead of going clear around the horn and buying rice in Burma to feed East Pakistan's hungry people, we just GAVE the food to the hungry Pakistani out of our own surplus supplies, which are here.

Gov. Smith Greeted In Roseburg

By MERLE F. PUGH
Staff Writer, News-Review

The people who poured into the Indian Room of the Hotel Umpqua Monday night, mostly Republican Party faithful, apparently had the question "Who is Elmo Smith?" answered to their satisfaction.

Gov. Smith said the question is one that many people asked when he succeeded to the governor's office upon the death of Gov. Paul Patterson.

He said he wants "to see as many people as possible" in order to answer the question, and that's what he did at a no-host dinner, ending up by shaking hands with everyone who attended. Such meetings are quickly eliminating the question "Who is Elmo Smith?"

He spoke briefly to the assemblage, mostly in an informal manner, telling how he, his wife and two children "had to entirely re-plan our lives" after Gov. Smith suddenly became the state's chief executive.

"Little" Duties Told

The governor told of giving autographs to 1,200 boys at one affair, of shaking hands with a throng at another meeting (Mrs. Smith had sore muscles the next day) and of other "little" things which befall a man of such position.

He spoke also of his feeling about Oregon and its government, and pointed out that he sees his
