Eisenhower Hints Possible Veto Of Farm Bill Unless Measure Sharply Modified

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower hinted Wednesday at a veto of farm legislation unless the Senate's bill is sharply modified. At the same time he brushed off any suggestion that Tuesday's Minnesota primary vote reflects a revolt against his agricultural program.

Eisenhower conceded at his news conference that the Minnesota returns, in which the Democratic vote far outnumbered the Republican count, are something to be studied and analyzed.

But he said in his opinion farmers generally believe his administration is seeking a program that would give producers 100 per cent of parity in the market place.

As for the Senate farm bill, plastered with amendments which the administration does not like, Eisenhower said it is not a good bill. He added it is not workable and would buy farmers under surpluses they couldn't stand.

The President voiced hope that a Senate-House conference committee, toward which the measure is headed, will write a good bill that will really help agriculture.

The House has passed its own version of farm legislation, centering on price supports at 90 per cent of parity—something the administration likes as little as some of the features of the Senate bill.

The White House discussion came as the timing of new farm

183 Persons Give Blood During Visit Of Bloodmobile

A total of 234 people turned out for the visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile Tuesday at the Elks Ballroom, with 51 being rejected. Collected were 183 pints of blood, reports Mrs. Walter Brittell, blood recruitment chairman.

Six teenagers having reached their 18th birthday were given permission by their parents to donate. Four of these donating were Leola Lorenzen, Carolene Garrett, Nancy Engle and Wendell Carter. Donna Boss and Amaryllis Gladwill were rejected, Mrs. Brittell said.

For this bloodmobile visit 61 people came to donate for the first time, Mrs. Brittell said. Eighteen of these were rejected.

The "honor roll" of one and two gallon donors was increased by 11. Mrs. Edith Ott and Mrs. Emma Richeson became two-gallon donors. Mrs. Mary Ellen Collison, Mrs. Vera E. Matthewman, Mrs. Lucy Todd, Mrs. Mary S. Vladimiroff, Mrs. Vera Cox, George N. Kuhn, Mervin Hisel and Glenn Ward became gallon donors.

The Grey Ladies, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ward Raymond; the Blue Star Mothers; the Camp Fire Girls; and other volunteers assisted with the bloodmobile visit.

"Even though the quota of 250 pints was not reached," Mrs. Brittell said, "the bloodmobile visit can be termed a success. With the rate of illness and winter colds being so high, it was a remarkable turnout, and the personnel from the Portland Regional Blood Center commended all those who donated or tried to do so," Mrs. Brittell stated.

Interesting educational note:

Mathematics plays a much bigger role in Portland public schools than it does in the country as a whole. In fact, speakers at a meeting of the Portland school board last night submitted figures showing that Portland high school students get nearly twice as much math as the national average.

Seventy-four per cent of them get one full year of algebra and 71 per cent take two years or more of high school mathematics.

Why is that interesting?

Well, our world is changing. There was a time when simple arithmetic (addition, subtraction, multiplication and division) was mathematical equipment enough for the average person. If one ran a store, or a little factory, simple arithmetic enabled him to know how much his customers owed him, how much he owed his creditors, what his inventory amounted to at the end of the year, how much he took in, how much it cost him to do business and how

Several Parking Meters, Fines Box Take Beating

The city's parking collection gadgets took a beating Tuesday according to Roseburg police reports.

Police are investigating several meters knocked loose and one broken from a standpipe in front of the First Methodist Church on Lane and Main Tuesday.

They were also investigating an attempt to "jimmy" open a Fine-O-Meter box in the 400 block of Southeast Jackson Street. The incident was reported by Eston Dumon of Glide shortly before city police discovered three teen-age boys grouped around the box. The boys fled when they saw the police officer coming. Nothing was taken from the box.

Benson School Girl Finds Flower Rarity

An 11 - year - old Roseburg girl found what she believes to be a rarity in the flower world Tuesday.

Linda Gluesing found three daffodils on one stem in her parents back yard at 1842 NE Fremont Ave. She's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd B. Gluesing and is a pupil at Benson School.

Upset Marks Minnesota Primary Vote

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver bagged the victory and 24 of 30 Democratic national convention votes in Minnesota's presidential primary election Tuesday. And he was striking hard Wednesday for four more convention votes.

Vanquished Adlai Stevenson came out of the balloting with only two convention votes cinched and a stunning defeat.

The Tennessee senator swept in 12 convention votes by winning the state as a whole. The other dozen he pocketed were two each from six of nine congressional districts. Stevenson had two from one congressional district in Minneapolis.

That left two districts in doubt. Kefauver nosed ahead in one—made up of suburban Minneapolis and five counties to the north—with the count nearly complete. Previously, he had trailed there.

The senator was going strong, though still behind, in the eight districts stretching through the iron range and Duluth in the northeast. More than a third of the precincts there were missing.

That was the picture from 3,306 of 3,868 precincts. And it showed Kefauver at that point with a statewide victory margin of 225,499 votes to 175,815 for Stevenson.

For the Republican, in 3,306 precincts, it was President Eisenhower over his "token" opponent, Sen. William F. Knowland of California, 187,722 to 3,324.

Minnesota, like all other states, will send twice as many delegates to the national convention in Chicago as it has votes. The Democratic National Committee figured that one-half vote would be allotted to each delegate. In this state, where delegates are pledged to the choice in the primary, a complicated system will allow some of them to vote in odd fractions.

But that won't alter the totals with which Kefauver and Stevenson will wind up.

Stevenson's backers attributed his upset in large measure to Republicans who crossed into the Democratic race to support Kefauver.

Disaster Caseworker Leaves For Grants Pass

An American Red Cross disaster caseworker, in Douglas County to make an official inspection of three disaster cases occurring since the last high waters and rain, has gone to the Grants Pass area.

Mrs. Loretta Webb, ARC Midwestern area, is one of 125 such caseworkers sent to the west, following the December floods. With county home service chairman Mrs. Jess Bowman, she visited the southern part of the county Friday.

TRASH FIRE

A trash fire burning in the area behind Merrill's Auto Body Shop, 830 NW Garden Valley Road, at 2 a.m. Wednesday brought Roseburg rural firemen to the scene. They reported no damage. Firemen said a resident had reported "a large quantity of smoke coming up" and didn't know what it was.

McKay To Resign At Earlier Date To Start Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior McKay may open his active campaign for Republican nomination to the Senate at the April 13-14 meeting of the Oregon Young Republican Federation.

He said he will know by Monday when he will resign from the cabinet.

"It might be in time for me to be able to speak at a meeting of Young Republicans in Oregon next month. I might be out by then but if I am still secretary, there will be a conflict unless I can break engagements I have. . . . If I am in a position to speak to the Young Republicans there is nothing I would like better."

Supporters of McKay are expected to seek endorsement of his candidacy at the Eugene meeting. But backers of Philip Hitchcock, another candidate, also are expected to ask Young GOP endorsement.

The federation's College League last weekend announced it was supporting Hitchcock, a former state senator, now director of development at Portland's Lewis and Clark College.

McKay said he intended to fly from Washington to Oregon Wednesday to stay through the rest of the week.

"I'll be doing only organization work. I won't be making any speeches. I'm not campaigning while I'm still in the cabinet," he said.

Dave Belch of Portland, who is working on Young Republican convention plans, reported that Vice President Nixon has declined an invitation to speak at the Eugene meeting. Earlier Nixon had planned to attend but will instead be at a national convention planning meeting.

Winston Man's Auto Involved In Severe Crash

A car registered to Woodrow Webb of Winston caused considerable damage in an accident at Winston Tuesday night, state police at Roseburg said today, but they still had not found the driver.

The local police office said the car was against a power pole when an officer arrived, and a spare wheel had crashed through a plate glass window of the Myrtlewood Cafe.

Police said the car apparently was headed south when it hit the shoulder of the highway, went across the roadway and into a ditch, then flipped on its top and skidded into a traffic island. The car struck some signs, then turned back on its wheels and came to rest against the pole, an officer said. The driver was not at the scene when police arrive, and it was not known this morning whether the driver was hurt.

Personnel at the local office said the accident apparently occurred between 6 p.m. and midnight. Winston Chief Ben Scheele said he was patroling about 11 p.m., but knew nothing of the mishap.

In another accident, driver Keith Lucas called the state police office to report he hit some sheep on Highway 99 about two miles north of the Yoncalla junction. A ewe and two lambs were killed. It was not immediately determined who owns the sheep, police said.

Tax Appraisers Attend Short Course At OSC

More than 120 county and deputy county tax appraisers from Oregon and Washington, including four from Douglas County, are attending a five-day appraisal short course at Oregon State College this week.

The Douglas County tax workers are Jack P. Bathrick, Vincent P. Derig, Irus M. Wells and Neil Kaser Jr.

The course is designed to give appraisers latest developments in property tax appraisal work. Subjects emphasize methods of appraising various types of Oregon property for tax purposes. Instruction is being handled by OSC staff members and representatives of the State Tax Commission.

Certificates of completion will be awarded Friday.

POLICE SEEK MAN

Police Chief Stan Olson today issued a call for Jesse H. Sullivan, who is reported to be working in the Roseburg area. Olson asked Sullivan to call Operator 10 at Woodward, Okla., for a death message.

COMMISSION TO MEET

Members of the Douglas County Public Welfare Commission will come to Roseburg Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the welfare office.

President Says To Be Cautious On Race Matter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday urged the nation not to regard the school integration issue as one which could separate Americans and create a nasty mess.

Eisenhower again, at a news conference, appealed for moderation. He said the problem of desegregation is one of deep emotion. But he said he is confident progress can be made.

For the second week in a row Eisenhower spoke with feeling of controversy created by the Supreme Court's decisions striking down race segregation in public schools.

Eisenhower said it is incumbent upon the people of the south to show some progress in good race relations.

That, he added, is what the Supreme Court asked for. The court, in implementing its segregation ban, called for progress with "all deliberate speed."

Eisenhower said he should not stagnate, and declared that again he wanted to plead for understanding between the races.

He also dealt with other matters including:

MIDDLE EAST—Any outbreak of major hostilities in the Middle East would be a catastrophe for the world, Eisenhower said. He added the United States must regard every bit of unrest there as a most serious thing.

The President's remarks were in comment on the U.S. request Tuesday for a United Nations Security Council meeting to seek a solution for the Middle East crisis.

Eisenhower said if the disputing nations can be made to see that mediation is the true way to a solution, then maybe we can get some place.

POLITICS — Eisenhower avoided direct comment on contentions that the upset victory of Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) in the Minnesota presidential primary Tuesday reflected a revolt against administration farm policies. He said the results will have to be studied further.

Clerk Loses Bid To Win $64,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Edward Bennett, 48-year-old store clerk of Kingsland, Ga., has failed in a bid for the grand prize on The $64,000 Question.

He thereby loses his winnings of $32,000 piled up over the weeks by answering questions about Abraham Lincoln on the CBS television show. He'll receive a Cadillac as a consolation prize.

Bennett lost out on the program last night by not knowing how much Lincoln offered to compensate the states per slave for voluntary emancipation.

He guessed $2,000. Ralph Newman, proprietor of the Abraham Lincoln Bookshop in Chicago, who was serving as Bennett's expert adviser, said he thought the offer was closer to $1,600.

Master of ceremonies Hal March said $400 was the figure.

Bennett was the first contestant on the show to gamble for the grand prize and lose. Three have won the $64,000 prize.

New Date Set To Open Myrtle Creek Bond Bids

A new date for opening bids for the purchase of bonds to construct the new water system filter plant at Myrtle Creek was set Tuesday night by the City Council. The new date is April 10.

The date had to be changed because of an error in advertising for sale of bonds. The council again passed an ordinance allowing the bid opening. It was originally scheduled to open the bids last night, reports correspondent Ruth M. Evans.

Other items were discussed, but no other actions were taken during the lengthy meeting.

Canyonville Board Gives School Plans Approval

The Canyonville School board Tuesday night gave final approval to plans for construction of the eight-room primary building proposed there.

Correspondent Virginia Proctor said it was decided to call for bids in about two weeks. It is hoped the school will be ready for occupancy next fall.

Representatives of the architectural firm of Freeman, Havslip, Hewlett and Tuft of Portland attended the meeting.

The board also hired a new teacher, Paul Hartman, from Creswell. The Southern Oregon College graduate will teach the sixth grade and physical education classes for grades four through six.

WILLIAM MEEKS
. . . disqualified

Meeks Disqualified As Superintendent Position Candidate

William M. Meeks of Lookingglass has been disqualified as a candidate for county school superintendent, according to County Clerk Charles Doerner.

Doerner said that, although Meeks apparently has a long background in school work, he does not meet state requirements for candidacy on at least two points.

The county clerk explained that the law requires that a candidate shall have taught school during 12 of 36 school months immediately prior to election. Also, the candidate must hold a valid teacher's certificate for this state at the time of election. Meeks has not submitted proof of either, Doerner said.

The turn of events leaves incumbent Kenneth F. Barneburg all alone in the race for the nonpartisan post. Therefore, the county clerk said, it will not be necessary to list Barneburg on the primary election ballot May 18. In the general election for the nonpartisan office, Barneburg's name will be listed, and there will be space for write-in candidates, in accordance with law.

$2,500 Damage Estimated From Fire In Sutherlin

Damage of $2,500 has been estimated in a fire which destroyed a storage building just off West Central Avenue in Sutherlin late Monday night.

Fire Chief Jerry DeMuth said the building, the former Pete Stoner residence, was being used for storage by Medford's Service Station. It contained some old tires and an old car.

The three-room, one-story building had no foundation. It recently was condemned by the city building inspector. Nearby petroleum storage tanks created a hazard for a time while the fire was being fought, DeMuth said.

BIKE FOUND

City police Tuesday recovered a bicycle which was reported stolen from Jack William Powers Jr. of 575 W. Harrison St. It was reported stolen Monday. It was found abandoned near the Christian Science reading room on South Street.

Another bicycle was found abandoned Tuesday near the Umpqua Coffee Shop in Roseburg.

Long Disputed Westinghouse Strike Ended

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike, one of the longest in the nation's modern labor relations history is over.

Strikers weary of picketing idle plants for 156 days headed happily back to work.

The dispute — punctuated at times by violence—probably cost hundreds of millions of dollars in lost wages and business.

Settlement came last night when the striking International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) voted to accept a peace plan proposed two weeks ago by government mediators, but changed somewhat in the union's favor since then.

The new contract gives IUE workers annual pay raises ranging from 5 to 22 cents an hour, added to their prestrike average of $2.10 an hour. Additional raises up to 12 cents an hour were provided for skilled workers. Pensions and insurance benefits were improved. For example, the company will take over full cost of employe insurance after November 1958.

Westinghouse announced that nine of its consumer products will get back into production today. Plants are at Springfield, Mass., Metuchen, Bloomfield, Belleville and Trenton, N. J., Fairmont, W. Va.; Elmira, N.Y.; and Mansield and Columbus, Ohio.

Court Approves Option To Buy Future Park Site

Members of the County Court Tuesday approved an option for the county to buy a 15.41 - acre piece of property six miles upstream from the Steamboat Bridge on the North Umpqua Highway.

Total price for the property, planned for future park use, is $7,000, with $1,000 payable now to owners N. W. and Mabel McMillen and $6,000 on or before July 30.

County Park Dept. Supervisor Charles S. Collins pointed out that the land is the only acreage in the area not a part of the Umpqua National Forest. It was nearly "lost to the public" through sale to a private party.

The property includes Steamboat Falls and a strip of Steamboat Creek about 2,000 feet above the falls and 600 to 800 feet below the falls. No development of the property is planned at present, but the area will be open to the public.

It is hoped the Forest Service will take over development and operation of the park area if and when funds are available, Collins said, because the area is much closer to the Forest Service's recreation program than the county's.

The property is termed the old Olive Placer Mining Claim. The McMillens reserve 25 per cent royalty on any minerals which might be mined.

ASSAULT CHARGED

James Peter Smith, 31, Reedsport, has been lodged in the county jail in $500 bail after arraignment before Justice of the Peace Robert H. Goodwin, Reedsport. Smith was arrested on an assault and battery charge upon complaint of his wife.

New Election Called School Policy Test

Light Vote Said Not Indicative Of Feeling; Visitors Give Opinion

A test vote on the educational policies of Roseburg School District 4 has been recommended for April 12.

Budget board members voted 5-1 Tuesday evening to resubmit the district budget to voters "as is." It seeks $1,069,631.35 outside the six per cent limitation to balance the proposed budget of $2,407,764.02. The budget board proposed an April 12 election date to the school board. That board will set an official date.

Member Robert Bashford voiced more than his own opinion as he commented: "It will be a test of the educational policy as it now stands."

Lone dissenter was board Vice Chairman Ray Doerner. Doerner carefully pointed out his "no" vote came "because we're not getting to the heart of the problem."

Favoring a revote were A. G. (Mike) McLain, Walter Dage, Mrs. Mary Roberts, Wayne Crooch and Bashford. Absent and not voting were Chairman Sidney C. Moon Jr., Gordon Smith, Harold Hoyt and Dudley Walton.

Chairman Moon's letter to the board was read by acting Chairman Doerner. Moon noted the March 9 light vote (1,911 of a possible 9,292). He did not believe people had expressed their wishes and suggested a "token cut of no more than $20,000 to $30,000" or resubmission of the budget as is.

Budget members present appeared to agree that the 1,911 vote was sparse and did not indicate much of anything. Member Crooch expressed hope that citizens would "get out and vote regardless of how they felt."

Dimick Scorches Juror System Used In Douglas County

Courthouse officials were accused today of "shocking disregard of our jury system" by a Democratic candidate for nomination for state senator from Douglas County.

D. R. Dimick, a Roseburg attorney and former president of the Douglas County Bar Assn., made the accusation after compiling a list of names of jurors serving over the past three years.

According to Dimick, his analysis shows a duplication of names that is "almost unbelievable." He revealed he has a list of 20 legal-size typewritten pages of three columns showing the duplication of names on jury panels.

Statistically, he said 468 duplicate names appear in two out of three years. There are 178 times when the same juror's name appears for all three years, he said.

The compilation of names covers the jury lists for 1953 through 1955.

Dimick said that jurors normally are chosen at random from the list of registered voters in Douglas County.

He said that "for the same juror's name to appear year after year reveals the shocking regard by courthouse officials of our jury system."

The candidate said he would propose legislation, if elected to the State Senate, to "remedy the obvious defects of the present law." He said new legislation he would sponsor would "guarantee that jurors will be chosen from citizens of all walks of life and from all parts of the county."

The Roseburg attorney mentioned no county officials by name. Jury lists normally are drawn by the sheriff and county clerk.

He is one of two Democrats seeking the nomination for state senator, a post now held by Paul E. Geddes, a Republican seeking reelection. The other Democrat is Lloyd V. Arant.

Additional Disaster Funds Allocated Oregon

Rep. Harris Ellsworth wired The News - Review from Washington, D.C., to announce that President Eisenhower today allocated an additional $700,000 to civil defense for use in Oregon flood disaster areas. Two previous allocations totaled $650,000, the wire said.

YOUTH JAILED

A 17-year-old Drain youth has been lodged in the county jail on a charge of child stealing, according to Sheriff Ira C. Byrd. Justice of the Peace Clarence Leonard set bail at $500 and turned the case over to the grand jury. The youth is accused of eloping with a 14-year-old Elkton girl after the parents refused permission for marriage, the sheriff said.

Usually Gay Oscar Award Night Tinged With Sadness; Dean Gone, Kelly Leaving

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tonight is Oscar night in movietown and for the first time this traditionally gay night will be tinged with a little sadness.

Never before in the 28-years of the Academy Awards has a dead man been one of the favorites to win a top Oscar. Then too it is expected to be the last Hollywood appearance of Grace Kelly, a movie queen soon to become a real princess.

Many in Hollywood feel that if the late James Dean doesn't win the top acting award, the Academy should give him a special Oscar. The brilliant young actor was nominated for "East of Eden."

Dean was killed last September in a car crash, but he still gets more fan mail than any other star on the Warner lot.

He could well win. He's the choice of many, including Frank Sinatra, who was nominated himself for "Man With the Golden Arm."

But Hollywood is a practical town. Most of the voters want to see an Oscar go to someone who can get some good out of it. That makes Ernest (Marty) Borgnine the favorite.

Others in the top acting circle are James Cagney and Spencer Tracy. Both are previous winners and both gave performances. Cagney in "Love Me or Leave Me" and Tracy in "Bad Day at Black Rock," that are Oscar caliber.

Among the girls, it's a down-to-the-final-gun race between the Italian Anna Magnani and Brooklyn's Susan Hayward. Magnani, one of the world's great actresses, scored in "Rose Tattoo." It was her first American picture and the part was tailor-made for her by playwright Tennessee Williams.

Miss Hayward, in the charmed circle for the fourth time, is up for the Lillian Roth story "I'll Cry Tomorrow." Her portrayal of a lush was superb.

Others in the top actress race are Katharine Hepburn ("Summertime"), Jennifer Jones ("Love Is a Many-Splendored Thing") and Eleanor Parker ("Interrupted Melody").

For best picture, "Marty" and "Mr. Roberts" are the favorites, but tough competition can be expected from "Picnic," "The Rose Tattoo" and "Love is a Many Splendored Thing."

The nation will be able to see and hear the big show over NBC-TV and radio from 10:30 to 11:15 EST.

Rocket 72 Feet Long, 45 Inches Wide Will Carry First Man-Made Satellite

BALTIMORE (AP)—A rocket resembling a huge rifle cartridge—72 feet long and only 45 inches in diameter at its widest point—will carry the earth's first man-made moon 300 miles into outer space in about 10 minutes.

The first public description of the 22,000-pound Vanguard rocket was given yesterday in a joint Navy-Glenn L. Martin Co. announcement.

Martin is building the three-stage rocket, which is scheduled for launching from the Air Force missile test center at Cocoa, Fla., as part of this country's participation in the International Geophysical Year, 1957-58.

Martin said the Vanguard will be the "first liquid fuel rocket designed to be controlled without the use of fins," an innovation termed "a scientific break - through by Martin engineers."

The rocket will be guided by a power plant installed on a semi-pivot, making possible directional changes in the stream of power from the rocket's tail. This plant will guide the rocket.

The first stage will boost the rocket practically straight up about 38 miles above the earth.

The second stage, which fits just above the first, will ignite immediately upon separation and proceed on a progressively more inclined trajectory to an altitude of about 140 miles. At a predetermined point in its flight, the second stage rocket will jettison its streamlined nose encasing the third-stage rocket, leaving it and the satellite exposed.

After its burnout, at about 140 miles altitude, the second - and third-stage combination will coast upward until it reaches the satellite's orbit 300 miles above the earth and about 700 miles horizontally from the launching point.

Stage 3 will be given a spinning motion to insure stability on its orbit before the second-stage rocket drops off.

Stage 3 has the task of increasing speed up to 18,000 miles an hour, a velocity high enough to counteract the earth's gravitational pull.

Levity Fact Rant

By L. F. Reizenstein

Only one thing equals the national government's waste of taxpayers' money. Its the waste of time by the Hoover Commission in its parade of recommendations for reducing federal expenditures.
