REAL ESTATE DEAL

Mr. H. J. Winter, whose office is located at 755 S.E. Rose street in Roseburg is making noteworthy news with his local sales, and reports to the News Review that he is one of the fortunate brokers to share in the results of this tremendous land purchase, which has resulted in the largest real estate development in United States history. Mr. Winter has sold in the past eight years some of Douglas County's most important business properties, and if your business can show a clear cut earning picture, he has qualified buyers waiting. Mr. Winter says: as a result of this purchase, through his Portland associates, he is able to offer to the buying public, their choice of proven Northwest business opportunities in practically any field. Strangely enough the foresighted person who believed in the Northwest strong enough to organize and carry out this large scale purchase was a Virginian, by the name of Thomas Jefferson; whose birthday is today. The Louisiana Purchase like all Real Estate ownership has been of tremendous benefit to its purchasers. "Harry" whose office is across Rose Street from the City Library, says: You can further benefit by the purchase of some of his reasonably priced "selected" real estate, if you do it now. Call him at ORchard 3-7043 for an appointment. (Paid Adv.)

Funds raised for the event have been earmarked to help cover the expense of a local PTA teacher tuition scholarship fund. The Tri-City membership voted this year to set up the fund to be awarded next year. Plans for the scholarship are being made under the chairmanship of Mrs. Jessie Stout. Hal Lohbeck, Mrs. Joe Brooks and Mrs. James Foss were also named to the committee.

New Substance Used To Control Atom Reaction
WASHINGTON (AP)—Use of a different substance both to control an atomic reaction and to carry away its heat for use in power plants will be tried experimentally by the Atomic Energy Commission.
The substance is hydrocarbon diphenyl, which is widely used in industry for various purposes, among them as a base for fabric dyes. It would take the place of graphite, heavy water or ordinary water for controlling the reaction, and of water or liquid metal for transmitting heat.
The AEC announced here that the new substance will be tested under a contract with Atomics International, a division of North American Aviation, Inc. The firm will build and operate the new reactor at AEC's testing station in Idaho.

Fort Rock Farmer Files Suit Against College
EUGENE (AP)—Philip H. Pitman, Fort Rock farmer, has filed suit in circuit court here, seeking an order to stop Oregon State College from publishing articles that might discourage others from settling or investing in the Fort Rock basin of Lake County.
The suit was dismissed in Lake County earlier as being in the wrong county. The State Board of Higher Education is named as one of the defendants. The board's chancellor has his office and home here.
The suit contends that an article in an OSC farm publication, "Oregon's Agricultural progress," was a "malicious attempt" to discourage development of the Fort Rock basin. A restraining order is sought against such future articles.

Business Trip — Mrs. Harold Horn spent Monday in Grants Pass attending to business matters.

Canyonville OES To Honor Visitor

Committees were named for a reception planned to honor Mrs. Ira Poole, grand representative to South Dakota in Oregon, at the last meeting of Oregon chapter OES at which Mrs. Bud Gauke, worthy matron and Guy McGee, worthy patron, presided.

Committees named by Mrs. Clarence Hartley, general chairman, were: refreshments, Mrs. Leo Davidson, Mrs. Robert Proctor and Mrs. Ray Wright; program, Mrs. Guy McGee, Mrs. Joe Brooks, Miss Bess Clough and Mrs. W. Frank Brown; room, Mrs. Gordon Clark, Mrs. William Moore and Mrs. George Barrow, and decorations, Mrs. M. Cooper, Mrs. Joseph Anderson and Mrs. Wade Worthington.

The reception is scheduled for May 20 at 2 p.m. in the Canyonville Masonic Temple.

In other business, the organization voted to purchase 25-year and 50-year pins, and the worthy matron requested that all 25-year members who have not received their pin notify the secretary, Mrs. Guy McGee. The group also voted a contribution to ESTHAL.

Refreshments were served by the men, with Guy McGee, Frank Brown and Ira Poole on the committee.

A social club meeting has been scheduled for April 18 at the home of Mrs. Robert Proctor with Mrs. Gordon Clark as co-hostess.
