

National Sunday School Week

Society

LOTUS KNIGHT PORTER

SATURDAY, APRIL 14, 1956

—The News-Review, Roseburg, Ore. 7

STARTING SUNDAY SCHOOL early in life is 15 months-old Kurt Krueger, who is pictured at upper left of feature page with his father, W. George Krueger. Young Kurt is getting into his Sunday School coat to attend Sunday School at Faith Lutheran Church. Krueger is with Town and Country Insurance Co. here.

"NOW LET'S GET YOUR BONNET ON," says Mrs. Bert Griffin, upper right, to her 2½ year-old daughter, Louise Marie. The family lives at 832 Cummins St. The Griffins attend Faith Lutheran Sunday School.

ALL READY FOR Sunday School are Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Cary (center right) with their four young daughters: Jeri, 4, at left; Jackie, 7, and twins, Jean and Janet, who will be three in June. The family attends Pine Grove Sunday School. Cary is an investment broker in Roseburg.

MR. AND MRS. RALPH PATTERSON and twins, Susan and Ralph Markham, 9, and son, David, 3, are photographed on the steps of the First Presbyterian Church, where they attend Sunday School. Patterson is owner of the Roseburg School of Dancing.

A SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS of five year-olds at St. George's Episcopal Church is pictured at the lower right. Judy Barnhart is the teacher holding the rapt attention of the youngsters.

Pictures
by
"Chris"
Of
Photo Lab

