The District of Columbia does likewise. Others with cities or sections on daylight saving are Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, Missouri, New Mexico, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

Baldock Pleased With Passage Of Highway Bill

PORTLAND (AP)—A coin flip decided a contract award Friday as the state Highway Commission closed a two-day meeting here. The commission awarded 20 more construction contracts costing more than $800,000 to bring the two-day total to 1 1/4 million dollars. The coin was flipped after Burham & Bates and R. W. Neighbor & Co. submitted identical bids of $7,717.50 for providing marine insurance for one year on the Astoria-Megler Columbia River ferries owned by the highway commission. Durham & Bates won the flip and the contract. R. H. Baldock, state highway engineer, appeared encouraged with word the House had passed a record $2 billion dollar road-building measure, which now goes to the Senate. Baldock told the commission that if the Senate passes the measure in its present form, it will enable Oregon to carry out a highway building program of $0 million dollars a year for 13 years. Delegations from Benton County, North Clackamas County, the U.S. 20 Assn., Fossil, Baker County and Albany appeared before the commission at Friday afternoon's session.

'Wiretap Tunnel' Exploited Fully By Communists

BERLIN (AP)—The Communists gave Berlin's "wiretap tunnel" the full propaganda treatment Saturday in satellite countries all the way from the Iron to the Bamboo Curtain. Red China newspapers played up accounts of the 1,500-foot tunnel which Russia charges the U.S. military dug to cut in on Soviet telephone lines. The East German government news agency, ADN, said in a Peiping dispatch that photographs of the tunnel had been posted on bulletin boards in Chinese factories and shops. The Chinese people were "aroused to lively discussion and indignation," the agency said. The tunnel runs into the Soviet sector of Berlin. The Russians accused U.S. military authorities on Monday of setting up an elaborate wiretap of Russian telephone lines for "espionage purposes." The U.S. Army refused Thursday to discuss the charges. It told the Russians the matter had been "reported to Washington" for disposition.

Multiple Wedding Takes Place Today; Six Couples In All

BLENHEIM, Ont. (AP)—A steady murmur of marriage vows—"I will" repeated 12 times—filled St. Mary's Catholic Church as the six Dorssers children were married Saturday. Farmer Leo Dorssers, 61-year-old father of 15, proudly watched as four of his daughters and two sons made up the six-wedding ceremony. Papa Dorssers, who wore bedroom slippers for the lengthy wedding rehearsal Friday night, decided against trips back and forth to escort his daughters to the altar. He walked up with the first, then waited to hand over his other girls to their bridegrooms. Members of the wedding party—20 in all—filled both aisles of the tiny church. The marrying couples lined up along the semicircular altar rail to repeat the nuptial vows in soft Dutch accents. The brides, who had admitted "it was hard finding a dress to please everyone," all wore identical floor-length white lace and net gowns and fingertip length veils. In keeping with orders from their father, who decreed the single ceremony, the dresses were simple. Said hard-working farmer Dorssers, "They only wear the dress once."

Bartending Teacher Arouses Controversy

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Should a junior high school teacher be allowed to teach by day and tend bar by night? Theodore Colton, 27, believes so. So do 700 of the 925 students at Corwin Junior High School, where he has taught science for three years. Their opinion is shared by the Pueblo Teachers Federation. But Homer C. Thompson and two other members of the Dist. 50 school board apparently disagree, and they notified Colton on April 10 his 1955-57 contract would not be renewed. That created a furor unprecedented in local school history. The teachers' federation has threatened suit against the school board to gain reinstatement for Colton. Spokesmen for employees of the public school system, second largest in Colorado, say teachers have threatened to resign at the rate of one-a-day until Thompson quits the school board, or until Colton is reinstated.

Blast Of Bomb Halts Wedding

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A puzzling bomb explosion cancelled out a wedding ceremony Saturday, seriously injuring the intended bridegroom and three women relatives. The blast took place in a residence already hit by sadness. Funeral services for the prospective bridegroom's father were scheduled later in the day. He was to have been married at 10 a.m. to Miss Sara Louise Pfarrer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Allen Pfarrer of suburban Oakwood. Injured less seriously were Dixon's sister, Mrs. George Cooney, 34, of Chicago, and two aunts, Mrs. Don Stewart, 48, of Warsaw, D.C., and Mrs. Frances Stefanski, 40, of Elmhurst, Ill. They were released after hospital treatment for minor cuts and bruises.

Kefauver Opens Frontal Attack On Ike And Dick

Kefauver told a Democratic dinner at Spokane Friday night: "I don't think that a man or woman in this great Northwest who really cares for the future development of this area will risk voting Republican." The Tennessee senator, opposing Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination, predicted the Republicans will "try to sell" President Eisenhower and Nixon with what Kefauver described as "the most overwhelming mass of propaganda ever let loose on the American people." Stevenson was due in Oregon late today for three days of speech-making and hand-pumping in advance of the state's May 18 primary. Neither Kefauver nor Stevenson is entered there formally, but both are hoping for big write-in votes at the Democratic National Convention—and these votes will be pledged to the candidate who wins the most write-in support. Kefauver already has done some stumping in Oregon, and his backers announced in Portland yesterday he will return just ahead of the primary for two days of barnstorming in 15 cities up and down the state. An indirect Kefauver-Stevenson test lies just ahead, in the District of Columbia primary next Tuesday. There, six-vote delegate states favorable to each candidate are arrayed against each other in the capital's first official balloting in 82 years. Meantime, a powerful voice from the leadership of organized labor has pronounced a "plague on both your houses" opinion of both major political parties. AFL-CIO President George Meany, addressing a union conference Friday said: "There is a difference but it's not too great between the two parties. The difference is not enough to attract the trade union movement to 'buy' either one. "We couldn't buy the Democratic party with their 'Dixiecrats' and their record on civil rights. And we couldn't buy the Republican party with its subservience to big business."

Senate Leaders Predict Highway Bill Will Pass

The great bulk of the total, or $27,585,000,000 would be applied to completion of the 40,000 mile interstate system—the key highway network of the nation. The federal share would be 90 per cent of this. The House bill would levy an estimated $14,808,000,000 of new taxes over the next 16 years, on rubber, and trucks, buses and trailers. There also is a special levy for heavy trucks.

Hugh D'Autremont Given Opportunity For Trial

PORTLAND (AP)—Federal Judge Gus Solomon Friday offered Hugh D'Autremont, who is serving a life prison term for murder, a trial at Medford June 5 on a charge of assault. He did so after D'Autremont had asked dismissal of the charge so he could apply for parole. D'Autremont, convicted of killing a trainman in a train robbery in Southern Oregon in 1923, said the parole board would not consider his case as long as another charge was pending. His brothers, Roy and Ray, also are serving life terms for murder in the train robbery, in which a mail clerk was killed by a dynamite blast and three other trainmen shot fatally. D'Autremont's attorney did not give an immediate answer on whether D'Autremont would accept the offer of a trial on the charge of assaulting a mail clerk.
