Army Engineers Ask Bids On Smith River Dredging

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, Portland district, has called for bids on the dredging of 131,400 cubic yards from the channel in Smith River. The contract will be let June 12 in Portland, according to the Port Umpqua Courier, Reedsport. Col. Jackson Graham, Portland district engineer, said the job will provide a six-foot channel 100 feet wide from the mouth of Smith River to the north fork, a distance of 15.8 miles. It also will provide a four-foot deep channel 75 feet wide from the north fork to Sulphur Springs Landing, another five miles.

Pope Renounces Artificial Insemination

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius XII said Saturday artificial insemination for human beings is morally impermissible.

The 80-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church addressed nearly a thousand delegates to the second World Congress on Fertility and Sterility. They came here to hear the Pontiff before opening a five-day congress in Naples Monday.

The Pontiff made it clear that he referred to the so-called "test-tube" method of artificial insemination. This, he said, must be rejected as "immoral and absolutely illicit." The Pope recalled he gave a similar opinion in a radio address on Sept. 29, 1949.

At that time, the Pope said: "Insofar as artificial insemination is concerned, not only must one be extremely reserved, but it is a duty to discard it outright. But this, however, it is not meant necessarily to prohibit the use of certain artificial means that aim either at facilitating the conjugal act or at enabling it to arrive at the natural act that normally completes its proper end."

Saturday the Pontiff said artificial insemination surpassed the "limits of right" acquired by virtue of the marriage contract. That right, he said, is one of exercising fully natural sexual capacity in the natural fulfillment of the matrimonial act.

The marriage contract, he said, does not confer the right to artificial insemination because such a right is in no manner expressed in the right of the natural conjugal act.

House Now Considering Increased Mail Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tentative agreement on a 1-cent increase in letter and airmail rates comes up for formal approval Tuesday before the House Post Office Committee.

Meeting behind closed doors this week, the committee reportedly accepted the rate increase to 4 cents an ounce for first class or letter mail and 7 cents an ounce for airmail. President Eisenhower has asked such increases to help cut down the postal deficit.

Other changes would boost rates on second-class mail, newspapers and magazines, by an average 75 per cent over the next five years, and those on third-class mail, mostly advertising matter, 30 per cent. The administration had asked 30 per cent boosts on both.

RECEIVES CERTIFICATE

LINCOLN

The longest, lowest, most powerful Lincoln ever built

People who know fine cars are changing to Lincoln

More fine car buyers are changing to Lincoln this year than ever before in Lincoln's entire history—because they recognize that this longest, lowest, most powerful Lincoln of all time is unmistakably... the finest in the fine car field.

Naturally, most of these people are turning to Lincoln because of its fresh, trend-setting new styling. But after owning Lincoln, they praise this car's other fine qualities.

They tell us—time and time again—about Lincoln's exceptional handling ease. They're surprised that such a big, roomy car can be so effortless to drive—and that wives actually prefer this Lincoln over the family's smaller car.

They tell us about Lincoln's outstanding performance, too—in dozens of ways. Those who have never experienced Turbo-Drive are astonished to find that an automatic transmission can be so smooth... and those who take long trips say that this Lincoln makes the ride seem so much shorter.

And they tell us about roadability. They like the way Lincoln rides so firmly through a curve—and the freedom of taking any road they choose... instead of avoiding the bad ones.

If you've been thinking this is your kind of fine car, stop in and see us. We'll put a new Lincoln at your disposal any time you say.
